WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon sent to Congress today his plan for a national volunteer corps, saying "America must enlist the ideals, the energy, the experience and the skills of its people on a larger scale than it ever has in the past."

"We must insure that these efforts be used to maximum advantage," he said. "We must insure that the desire to serve be linked with the opportunity to organization plan becomes effective.

Finally, the President would submit to Congress legislation to transfer the Teacher Corps from HEW to the new agency.

Nixon said the merger of the seven agencies "is the essential first step toward the goal of a system of volunteer service which uses to the fullest advantages the power of all the American people to serve the purposes of the American nation."

He said the new agency would first expand the testing and development of innovations in voluntary actions. The agency would be called Action. He said "In the future, we are going to have to find new ways for more people to fulfill themselves and to lead satisfying productive lives," he said. "The problems are of concern even now, but they must be put in perspective quickly because they will soon be upon us. I believe at least some of the answers will be found in volunteer service."

Secondly, the new agency would provide an opportunity for persons who cannot serve full time to work part-time with regular volunteers. It would also bring together one place programs which appeal predominately to younger Americans with those that appeal predominately to older Americans.

"The generations in America share America's problems—they must share in the search for solution so that we all may share in the benefits of our solutions," Nixon said.

The new agency also would develop programs for combining foreign service with domestic service to accommodate volunteers interested in such an opportunity.

"Finally, by centralizing administrative functions of the volunteer services, the new agency would provide a more effective system of recruitment, training, and placement of full-time volunteers than the present circumstances permit," Nixon said.

"We must match the vision of youth with the wisdom of experience," he said. "We must apply the understanding gained from foreign service to domestic needs, and we must extend what we learn in domestic service to other nations."

Interagency Bickering

Nixon's proposal for the national volunteer service corps, which he announced in a speech at the University of Nebraska Jan. 14, was sent to Congress amid reports of interagency bickering over details on how the agency would operate.

Nixon's message said he will ask a budget of $176.330.000 for the new agency, combining all the current budgets of the agencies and adding $20 million extra.

Under the three part action of the President, the following programs would be brought together: Volunteers in Service to America (VISTA) and Auxiliary and Special Volunteer Programs of the Office of Economic Opportunity, Foster Grandparents and the Retired Senior Volunteer Program of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and the Service Corps of Retired Executives and Active Corps of Executives in the Small Business Administration.

Transfer Functions

Through administration action, Nixon would transfer the functions of the Peace Corps and the Office of Voluntary Action in the Department of Housing and Urban Development to the new agency when the reor-

'No More, Robert Louis Trotter'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "I am an alcoholic," wrote Robert Louis Trotter shortly before his death from an apparent overdose of sleeping pills. At 22, he was a member of the Fresno County Board of Education.

"It took me 2 years to admit this — first to myself, then to the public," he said in an article written for the Sunday San Francisco Examiner's magazine section, California Living.

The article was released today because Trotter, believed to be the youngest black elected public official in the nation, was found dead in bed Sunday morning in the East Bay city of El Sobrante, where he was visiting his brother-in-law.

The coroner's preliminary verdict said Trotter apparently died of an overdose of drugs. Bottles of barbiturates were found near his body. By his own account, Trotter had earlier taken an overdose of sleeping pills.

At the time of his death, Trotter was facing Fresno bench warrants charging drunken driving, resisting arrest and indecent exposure.

"Of course," said his account, "there are reasons for the admission of alcoholism. The greatest and most important one is, I think, that I want to clear my conscience.

"It is uniquely deplorable and sickening. I find that I am at least, two people: One a sober, intelligent, capable young man; the other: a drunken, repulsive animal.

"I am young, black, not-able, and accepted—even elected to the Fresno County Board of Education."

Welcomed Politically

Trotter was not boasting. In his lengthy and detailed account, he told how he rose from an "ordinary" background to become a welcome addition to the political campaigns of two Republican candidates in California—Lt. Gov Robert Finch, who since has joined the Nixon administration, and James Flournoy, who failed in a bid for secretary of state.

Trotter said he asked himself how, after successful public activities like these, he wound up with "only a cocktail glass."

"Let me tell you," he said. "I couldn't help myself. So many of the things that I had done in schools, junior and high, were thought to be cute. I had done most of them under the influence of alcohol."

Later, he wrote, "I was arrested for being drunk and disorderly. I made up some fantastic tale about being attacked, which was partially true, and the district attorney with whom I was fairly well acquainted, got me out of jail and the charges cleared.

"Jail was frightening.

"This should have been a

Push Before Next Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five states have approved a constitutional amendment lowering the voting age to 18, launching the ratification process aimed at extending the franchise to 11 million Americans before next year's elections.

Minnesota and Delaware legislators approved the proposed Court decision will result in quick ratification.

Without a uniform lower voting age, the court ruling will require states and local governments to set up dual election machinery: One set of voting machines for persons over 21 and another set for younger voters.

Rep. Charles E. Wiggins, R-Calif., said Congress in approving the proposal was demonstrating permissiveness in today's society. Rep. John Schmitz, R-Calif., said 18 is too young to vote.

The first states to ratify the amendment did so with a minimum of talk.

And for the Tennessee Legislature, quick action on the 16th Amendment was a turnaround from 51 years earlier. On Aug. 26, 1920, Tennessee became the last state to ratify the 19th Amendment giving the vote to women.

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese drive against the Ho Chi Minh trail in southern Laos ended today with North Vietnamese tanks pursuing the Saigon troops right to their border. U.S. aircraft knocked out six tanks, spokesmen said.

More U.S. units which had supported the 45-day operation were pulled out of the border base of Khe Sanh, which is being closed out during the next three weeks.

Lt Col Do Viet, a spokesman for the South Vietnamese Command in Saigon, said the last fire base in Laos had been abandoned and the remaining 2,000 troops had marched through the hills to the border. But a report from the front said several hundred Vietnamese marines remained in the vicinity of the base, on a ridge about 2½ miles inside Laos, to prevent North Vietnamese gunners using it as shell allied bases on the Vietnamese side of the border.

Allied spokesmen said U.S. helicopter gunships and fighter bombers knocked out the pursuing enemy tanks along a five-mile stretch of Highway 9 west of the Lao Bao border outpost. The U.S. Command said three of the tanks were 15 to 200 yards from the border.

The South Vietnamese Command's chief spokesman, Lt Col. Tran Van An, said the South Vietnamese forces had accomplished 80 to 90 per cent of their objectives.

Field reports, however, said the operation had fallen far short of expectations and that it was closed out sooner than scheduled because of the battling the South Vietnamese were taking from North Vietnamese forces estimated to outnumber them 2 to 1.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new bipartisan effort to get all U.S. troops out of Southeast Asia by the end of the year is in the works here and will be announced this week, it has been learned.

The lobby will feature independent but similar drives in the House and Senate, with special emphasis on attracting lawmakers who have supported Johnson and Nixon-administration war policies.

Helping coordinate the effort is Common Cause, a Washington-based citizens lobby headed by John Gardner, former secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

The campaign, called Coalition to Help End the War, is one of several recent efforts on Capitol Hill aimed at getting the United States out of Vietnam.

Withdraw Forces

The drive actually started last week with a letter to senators from Sen. Charles McNamara, R-Md., and Sen. Daniel K. Inouye, D-Hawaii. They asked support for a statement favoring "the termination of all American military action in or over Indochina and the withdrawal of all American military forces from Indochina this year."

No legislation or formal resolutions are involved so far. Sources close to the effort said the goal is to get a simple numerical Senate majority to sign the Mathias-Inouye statement and 218 representatives to sign a similar statement in the House.

It was understood the House letter is running into trouble from Republicans. "Many Republicans don't want to seem to be the tail on the Democratic kite," one source said. "They're afraid of seeming to be merely a side show."

Several Bills

Several bills and resolutions have already been introduced in the House this session aimed at speeding U.S. withdrawal from South Vietnam.

House Democrats have announced a March 31 caucus to consider a proposal for U.S. withdrawal by Dec. 31.

An early draft of the House proposal that would go out of the House as part of the new Common Cause-assisted drive calls for total withdrawal of all U.S. forces—including support troops and air power personnel—by the end of this year, as did the Mathias-Inouye letter.

The draft also urged House members to vote against appropriations and revenue measures that would finance the war beyond Dec. 31.

The Mathias-Inouye statement does not specifically mention appropriations bill calls on supporters to "work responsible legislation during the current session to fulfill our obligation to end American participation in the war."

University Merger Bill Supported

MADISON (AP) — A spokesman for Democratic Gov. Patrick J. Lucey Tuesday testified in favor of a Republican bill to merge Wisconsin's two university systems, saying it would save at least $4 million, cut overlapping waste and ease academic competition between the systems.

Richard Weening, Lucey's executive secretary, was leadoff witness before the Senate Education Committee, which held a hearing on a bill by Sen. Raymond Heinzen, R-Marshfield, to combine the two boards of regents of the systems and scrap the Coordinating Council for Higher Education CCHE.

Austerity Program Hits Home

MADISON (AP)—A proposal by State Administration Secretary Joe E. Nusbaum to eliminate 18 key jobs from his own department to save an estimated $415,000 was approved Tuesday by Gov. Patrick J. Lucey.

Nusbaum proposed the cuts because he found it "difficult to administer an austerity program when I see inefficiencies in my own organization." He cited an "overlapping of responsibilities."

The 16 positions affected are principally in the bureaus of engineering and personnel. Other division responsibilities will be consolidated.

Under the proposal, Carl Vordlander will be director of financial operations, instead of administrator. Paul L. Brown will become director of facilities management, including the building program, instead of administrator of facilities and services.

Former Secretary Wayne F. McGown will continue as acting deputy, but his administrator position of management and policy development will be dropped.

Weaver Says He Has to be Convinced

MILWAUKEE (AP)—University of Wisconsin President John Weaver said Tuesday he is essentially open minded about Gov. Patrick Lucey's proposal to merge the state's two university systems, but he'll have to be convinced the plan would provide better education with more efficiency.

Weaver, speaking to the Administrative Management Association of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co., said he believes the merger proposal hinges on two questions.

"Will it be to the advantage of the young people of Wisconsin in terms of education opportunities?"

"Is it a more economically efficient way of doing things?"

If it can be proven that the answer to those questions is "yes," Weaver said, he would support a merger. But he said there is "quite a little way to go" before the answers can be determined.

Meet Saturday
Weaver said the regents of both the UW and state universities systems will meet in Milwaukee Saturday, and perhaps their discussions will provide more insight.

On other topics, Weaver noted that the trend toward questioning traditional institutions of society has extended to "rigorous scrutiny and re-evaluation" of the structures, costs, methods and objectives of universities.

"Surely the fate of the state is tied more intimately to its university than ever before," Weaver said. "Wisconsin has no hope—no future—if it does not tend the education of its people to the absolute limits of their individual abilities."

Weaver also indicated disapproval of a proposal to require public university students in Ohio to pay back the entire cost of their education over a period of years. He said "the proposal seems to be contrary to the land-grant concept of subsidizing public higher education to make it available to the greatest numbers possible."

Professor Involved In Demonstration Leaves UW Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP)—An associate professor at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee who was involved in an antiwar demonstration last year resigned Tuesday with a protest against the Board of Regents.

James D. Cockcroft, 35, who said he was offered a job at Rutgers University, accused UW regents of being "intimately linked with large economic interests" and of having "made a mockery" of academic freedom.

Cockcroft was accused by the school of blocking a doorway last May during antiwar demonstrations. A citation against him was dismissed after a witness did not appear at a disciplinary hearing.

combine the two boards of regents of the systems and scrap the Coordinating Council for Higher Education CCHE. Heinzen's measure would create a single board of eight regents from each of the present two boards.

Lucey initially proposed a board of six regents from the UW board, four from the state universities board and four citizen members.

Weening said the bill would save at least $4 million, chiefly by eliminating overlapping administrative functions and duplication of undergraduate and graduate programs. He also said the bill is designed to eliminate competition between the two systems for both funds and academic programs.

"We have a responsibility to the taxpayers to let them know that we are striving for competent management," he said, adding that while Lucey supports the concept of Heinzen's bill, he wants it accomplished as part of his executive budget.

Senate Majority Leader Ernest Keppeler, R-Sheboygan, offered an amendment to provide for direct election of 18 university regents for a single university system. Instead of the regents being appointed as is the current practice, there would be two elected from each of the state's Congressional districts.

The amendment didn't sit well with CCHE Executive Director Arthur Browne, who said "you get better personnel by appointment."

Browne spoke neither in favor nor against the merger proposal, saying he was appearing merely in "an advisory capacity." He said a merger would improve operational efficiencies and pinpoint responsibilities, but that the power of a single board of regents "would be tremendous."

"When you create a giant, monolithic system you create more efficiency but you also create more independence," he said. "The power would be tremendous. You would have a university system employing almost as many people as the rest of state government."

Browne said it might cost $11 million to raise salaries of state universities instructors to those in the UW system.

UW Student Health Care Changes Asked
MADISON (AP) — A special University of Wisconsin study committee has recommended a revised student health care plan which would lower fees but reduce free in-patient care.

The proposal, presented Tuesday to Madison Chancellor H. Edwin Young, includes a 12-month medical care coverage, elimination of free in-patient care, university sponsored health insurance and lower health care fees for out-patient services.

Elimination of the three days of in-patient care would save $405,000 a year, Commerce Prof. Richard Heins said. He was chairman of study committee.

Outpatient services would remain unchanged under the proposal, acting Dean of Students Paul Ginsberg said. But students would pay $20 a semester instead of $23 for out-patient care, under the plan.

The subject also will be reviewed by the Joint Finance Committee when it reviews the budgets of the two university systems at hearings scheduled in Madison. Lucey proposed the merger within his budget bill.

GOP Plans Self-Evaluation

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Badly hurt in its fight with the Democrats last fall, Wisconsin's voluntary Republican organization is preparing for re-examination of its structure, program and policies.

Chairman John Hough of Janesville, new head of the party campaign machinery, says he will follow up the proposal of his retired predecessor, Reed Coleman of Madison, for the creation of a special task force to acknowledge the "need of the Republican party to look at itself."

Hough said that one of the study groups making up the task force will reappraise the traditional policy of the organization of endorsing candidates for statewide Republican office nominations, as well as local

NEW YORK (AP) — Osborn Elliott, editor-in-chief of Newsweek magazine since 1969, has been named its president and chief executive officer as well. An announcement Tuesday said Gibson McCabe, the outgoing president, had been appointed vice chairman of the board and chairman of the finance committee.

Elliott, 46, joined Newsweek in 1955 as senior editor in charge of business news. Previously he had been with the Journal of Commerce and Time magazine.

Broad Participation
The major task force will have representatives of each congressional district and will be organized at the state party convention in Wisconsin Rapids in May. Recommendations will be made on issue-orientation of the party by circulating a questionnaire among party members in April.

Hough listed questions the party should study as it prepares for regional meetings before they are put into final form. Hough said his Madison office will insure broad participation in the resumption of competition with the Democrats in 1972 when he has said it will begin the drive for the recovery of seats in the congress and the legislature and hold the state's votes for President Nixon's second term bid.

Minister Wins Capital Election
WASHINGTON (AP) — Walter E. Fauntroy, a Yale educated clergyman who learned his civil rights activism from the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., has won the District of Columbia's first seat in Congress in 100 years.

The 37-year-old Negro Democrat won 59 per cent of the vote the city Tuesday in the six-man race for nonvoting delegate to the House of Representatives.

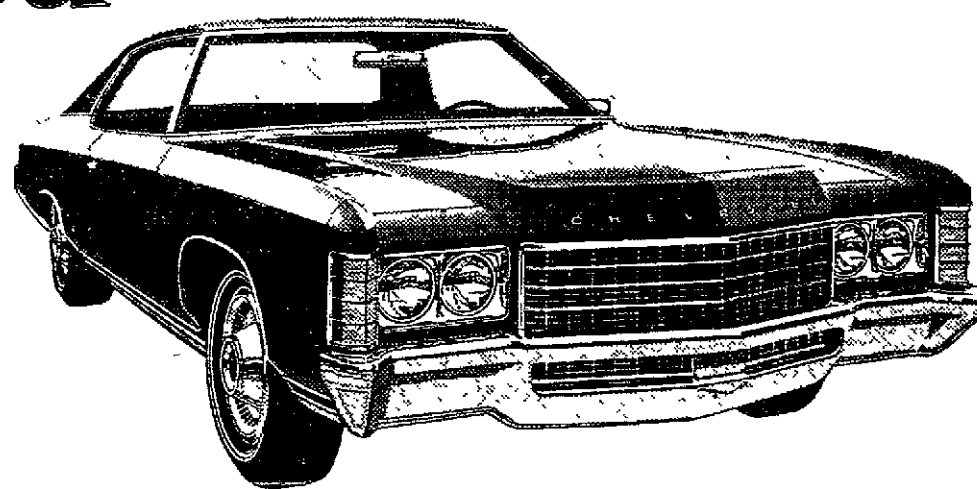

Republican Jack A. Nevius, a moderate-to-liberal Republican, was second with 25 per cent of the vote. Nevius, who is white, carried the mainly white precinct that includes wealthy Georgetown.

Independent Julius W. Hobson, a Negro, was third with 13 per cent. Three others—an avowed homosexual, a black nationalist and a Socialist Workers Party candidate—polled 2 per cent or less each.

Humphrey Urges Democrats Unite To Defeat Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey urged Democrats today to join in a campaign against "yet another new Nixon."

"Richard Nixon and his Republican administration must be defeated next year," said Humphrey, the man Nixon beat in the White House.

"But at the same time," he said in keynoting a Democratic conference on the issues of 1972, "the Democratic party must demonstrate to the American electorate its capacity to assume the leadership of this nation."

Republicans have a keynote of their own for the campaign ahead, a $1,000-a-plate fund-raising dinner tonight, billed as the official launching of their 1972 campaign.

Nixon and Vice President Spiro Agnew will be on hand for the GOP dinner officials said. It attracted more than 1,500 contributors. At $1,000 a ticket, that would total more than $15 million.

Humphrey's speech was prepared for a closed session of the Democratic Policy Council, convened to examine the issues and draft Democratic answers.

Very Affectionate Convict Appeals Restrictions

MADISON (AP) — A Waupun state prison convict who had privileges restricted for "excessive kissing and hugging of his wife" has appealed to Federal Judge James E. Doyle.

Chester A. Courtney contended prison authorities have threatened to halt his wife's visiting privileges unless their visits are less emotional.

Courtney said the threatened punishment "is so harsh as to demand a due process hearing."

"Furthermore," he continued, "I feel that the rule is presently unconstitutionally vague, applied and enforced capriciously, and consequently a denial of equal protection under the law."

Courtney asked that Doyle issue an order restraining prison authorities from carrying out their warning to halt his wife's visits.

Lucey Believes Kennedy Won't Run

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Gov. Patrick J. Lucey of Wisconsin said Tuesday that although he plans to be neutral in his state's pivotal Democratic presidential primary election next year, he believes the pledge of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., not to be a candidate.

Bicycle Lot Is Opened In Downtown Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago is getting a bicycle parking lot to accommodate those who have switched to pedals from cars, buses, subways or trains.

The lot, open during daytime hours Monday through Friday, will go into service April 1 at Grand Avenue and Rush Street, near the Wrigley Building.

The rates will be 60 cents a day, $2.50 a week or $9.50 a month.

At a news conference before a political fund-raising dinner, Lucey said however that Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York "might do very well" if he entered the primary race as a Democrat.

Lucey has had close ties to the Kennedy family since 1960 when as state Democratic chairman he helped John F. Kennedy win a key Wisconsin primary victory over Hubert H. Humphrey. He campaigned widely for Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., in 1968.

He said he is "very fond of Ted Kennedy and consider him a very close friend, and I believe him when he says he will not be a candidate in 1972."

"I'm just afraid there is somebody around who thinks he will make himself into some kind of hero by making it three-

Free Park Use Asked For Persons Over 65

MADISON (AP) — State Sen. Ernest Keppler, R-Sheboygan, Tuesday introduced a bill providing for free use of Wisconsin state parks for persons 65 years of age or older.

Parks now charge an annual fee of $3 or a daily fee of $1 to use the facilities of state parks and forests.

Frank Sinatra Retiring From Show Business

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Frank Sinatra, bobby sox idol of the 1940s and show business giant of two later decades, says he is retiring from the entertainment world and public life.

The announcement comes four months after Warner Bros. studio said the singer-actor was forced to withdraw from a starring role in a movie because of persistent pain in the right hand.

Sinatra, 55, in a statement to the New York Daily News said Tuesday his retirement is effective immediately, adding, "I look forward to enjoying more time with my family and dear friends, to writing a bit—perhaps even to teaching."

His stormy career included his reign as pop singing king, a dip in popularity, a movie Academy Award for a comeback performance in "From Here to Eternity," romances galore, bouts with the law and the title of "Mr. Show Business" as the one of the most successful recording and nightclub artists in history.

His wives included actresses Ava Gardner and Mia Farrow. His son Frank Jr. and daughter Nancy also made good as singers.

Sinatra, who lives in Palm Springs, Calif., told of his retirement in a statement to a Daily News society columnist who uses the pseudonym "Suzy."

His personal spokesman, Jim Mahoney, confirmed the statement and said neither he nor Sinatra would elaborate.

"It has been a fruitful, busy, uptight, loose, sometimes boi-

U.S. 7th Division To be Disbanded

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — The U.S. 7th Infantry Division is being pulled out of Korea and disbanded, the U.S. military in Seoul announced today.

It and the 2nd Infantry now are the only two U.S. divisions still in Korea. Redeployment of the 7th is part of the program to reduce U.S. manpower in South Korea from 63,000 to 43,000 by the end of July.

The 7th Division will be reduced to a color-guard detachment of 40 officers and enlisted men, transferred April 2 to Ft. Lewis, Wash., and inactivated.

Chief, 3 of Force Charged In Burglaries

CREST HILL, Ill. (AP) — The police chief of Crest Hill, three other city policemen and a Lockport police sergeant have been arrested and charged with conspiracy to commit burglary in connection with a series of store thefts.

The men were arrested Tuesday night by state police and Will County sheriff's deputies after a six-day investigation into 25 to 30 burglaries dating to last August.

Police Chief Paul Eaker, 40, Patrolman Gregory Hutson, 24, and Sgt. Patrick Barnett, 26, were held in the Will County jail in lieu of $25,000 bond. Patrolman Dennis Lagrimini, 26, and Sgt. Richard Morelli, 34, of Lockport, were jailed under $5,000 bail.

Crest Hill and Lockport are suburbs of Joliet, southwest of Chicago.

Capt. Robert Georgeantis of the state police said searches of the policemen's homes turned up what is believed to be stolen goods. He said his men also seized police department reports on the burglaries.

A number of Crest Hill stores have been burglarized in recent months, some more than once. Georgeantis said

Mayor Frank Berta said the four Crest Hill policemen had been suspended. He said he would act as police chief temporarily. Sheriff Joseph Trizna said his men will patrol the town, assisting the four remaining policemen.

Georgeantis said the investigation began after a tip from an unidentified informant. He said the informant is under guard.

Columbus Is Oldest, But Not Worst

BY ARLEN BOARDMAN

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Columbus Elementary School — oldest of Appleton public schools — is a stronger building structurally than Jackson, but it ranks below Jackson in maintenance since Jackson has received a little paint and plaster, said William Schein, principal of both.

Built in 1893, Columbus hasn't fared much better than Jackson over the years insofar as neither had much upkeep. But it has failed to draw as much attention because its rooms and hallways are larger, the inside conditions are less deteriorated and the custodian has done yeoman duty to keep the old building clean.

Also, the parents of Columbus haven't said nearly as much as Jackson parents, although some now apparently are joining with dissident Jackson parents in protest. A petitioning drive reportedly is in the making.

Despite its lack of notoriety, Columbus had deficiencies and many persons said they were aware of them — the crackbox gym with no baskets, dreary rooms and some poor lighting and only one electrical outlet per room, a particular sore spot to Schein, teachers and parents, as well as at least one board of education member.

Schein said he believed the pupils were getting an adequate education but that he hoped there could be some painting and wiring done since there was money for this in 1971 operating budget. Maintenance crews began wiring last October but were called off the project immediately for emergency work and have returned.

There has been extensive pressure from parents and others, including Mrs. Harold Danford, a board of education member, to complete the wiring — which involves adding a second outlet to each room. However, Dr. Kenneth Johnston, director of administration, has pointed out that the job would take about two weeks and the electrician can't be spared that long at this time.

He said Jackson and Columbus are scheduled for maintenance work this summer. Schein said there is a wealth of audio-visual and recording equipment for the school but it can't be used to its full extent because of the outlet problem.

The school has 248 pupils and eight teachers but its rooms are about 900 square feet, just 100 below the size of new elementary schools, and its halls are large enough for educational activities use.

Teachers said they believed the pupils were getting an adequate education if limited, but they cited problems similar to those at Jackson.

Dale Schultz, intermediate class teacher, noted the cardboard boxes used for baskets.

Budget Woes May Force Cutbacks in City Park Program

Appleton recreation officials analyzed so programs have instructions to decide whether the year's budget requires putting their summer's programs on a diet.

In a move parallel to local school board efforts to tailor programs to fit a sparse budget, the Parks and Recreation Commission Tuesday told Recreation Superintendent Lloyd (Bud) Koehnke to see how far his swimming pool and summer recreation program budgets will stretch.

It also was revealed that the season's youth baseball program faces a financial squeeze. That organizations sponsoring various leagues have been told they will either have to limit the scope of their activities or help provide umpires normally hired by the city.

Not Enough Money
Ralph Gertsch, parks and recreation chairman, raised the prospect of reductions in the department's programs, and blamed the City Council for denying commission requests for funds during budget deliberations late last year.

He told Koehnke he wants the lowers for the same size baseball program as last year, but that some of the leagues have grown, requiring additional umpires. The Babe Ruth League and Little League have been notified of the problem and asked if they can help provide funds to hire officials. Gertsch said.

Commissioner William Heereman suggested that running programs at full scale but cutting them short when funds run out "might be an effective act of protest" over the budget cuts. Gertsch replied that the commission, rather than City Council which approved the cuts, would be blamed.

Erb Pool Condition
Commissioners also asked about the condition of Erb Park Pool, and Heereman remarked that if this is the summer the pool finally gives up to old age and deterioration, it would at least solve the fund problem. The commission has been pushing without success for several

The driver of the auto, Terry W. Abern, Menasha, complained of a sore knee and back.

City Parks Proposal Picnic Fee Considered

Sponsors of picnics for profits in Appleton parks would need a special license at an additional cost, according to a proposal discussed by the Parks and Recreation Commission Tuesday.

Park Supervisor Roger Rindt was asked to find out how other cities handle groups and organizations that use parks for picnics and other events at which food, beverages or merchandise are sold to the public. The commission shied away from a suggestion that would place fees charged for nonprofit private picnics on a scale increasing in proportion to the size of the group.

Ralph Gertsch, commission chairman, said Ald. William Errington (15th) had pointed out that a group of a dozen or so people pays the same $13 fee for a picnic involving hundreds. The commission did act, however, on another Errington request relayed by Gertsch, to remind sponsors of major annual picnics to reserve parks early, before a smaller group files a reservation.

Gertsch said some big annual picnic sponsors forget to make a reservation until after a small group, such as a family having a reunion has already reserved the park for the date the big affair had been planned.

The situation complicates the scheduling chores of park secretaries, who received reservations last year for 248 picnics, an unusually high number. Ordinarily, 75 to 100 organizations of various sorts and 50 to 75 large family groups reserve parks, and most have their picnics on Sunday.

The proposal to set a shdng fee schedule according to the size of the picnic was set aside after Rindt said some major groups believe present costs are exorbitant.

They object not to the $13 fee, but to the cost of cleanup after a picnic. The department charges the sponsoring organization the actual cost of department labor. If the organization itself fails to clean the park, Bills of several hundred dollars, sometimes result, he said, adding that to an extent the cleanup charges do roughly reflect the size of the event.

In other business, the commission approved hiring John A. Kurth & Associates as architects for a shelter building at Lions Park on the southeast side, and authorized advertising a reservation until after a small group, such as a family having a reunion has already reserved

Courthouse Space Shifts Must Wait

Work Must Start On New Jail First, Committee Decides

Consideration of major realignment of office space in the existing Outagamie County Courthouse will have to wait until after work is started on the new jail building, the county board's special building committee decided Tuesday night.

Realignment of space then will be left up to the public property and parks committee, a standing committee, rather than being handled by the special committee.

Some remodeling of the courthouse had been planned but Clerk of Courts Gloria Johnson objected to the proposed location of her department, contending that the space was insufficient for her office and the law library.

Instead, she proposed taking over the old jail space on the fourth floor.

"Needs More Study"
Supv. Delmar Schmelchel, special building committee chairman, said, "I think we should stay out of remodeling until after the jail is done. I think this needs a lot more study."

Seaborne also said there was no way possible remodeling plans could be completed for bidding at the same time as the jail building. The jail is scheduled for bidding about May 1.

Schmelchel said, "If you give everyone the amount of space they want we will end up building another building."

Seaborne said there was sufficient space in the courthouse to meet the department requests but it was a matter of getting the amount desired together in one place. He also noted it will take 12 to 18 months to construct the new jail building, giving ample time to decide on how to handle the other space.

Supv. Richard Jahnke agreed "I think it would be wise to exert our energy on the jail building now and wait on the rest," he said.

Wheels of Justice Grind Slowly

Twenty-eight cases, most of them involving traffic arrests made by Appleton police, have been removed from the court of Outagamie County Judge Raymond P. Dohr and assigned to Reserve Judge Charles Dilleit of Shawano.

Clerk of Circuit Court Gloria Johnson said Thursday that the cases, some of which have been pending for up to three years, have been scheduled for pretrial conferences before Dilleit on April 20.

The appointment of Dilleit was signed March 10 by E. Harold Hallows, chief justice of the State Supreme Court, and by Edwin M. Wilkie, administrative director of the high court. They stated that the appointment was made because of "congestion" in Dohr's court calendar.

The Post-Crescent reported last Nov. 9 that more than 25 motorists arrested by Appleton police have had their cases pending in Outagamie courts for one year or more.

Sought Assistance
Dohr, saying his court was "tied up," explained last fall that he intended to ask the court administrator's office to assist in disposing the cases.

Dilleit, a retired Shawano County judge, and retired Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller have been working part-time helping to clear a backlog of cases in Outagamie courts.

Under the arrangement approved by county officials, Keller handles the biggest share of the part-time work.

Some of the 28 pending cases could be settled through plea changes or dismissals during the pretrial conferences on April 20, while others could be scheduled for trials or other further court action at a later date.

In some cases the arresting Appleton policemen have left the department.

Cases Settled
The court clerk's office said last week that a few of the persons who had cases pending for a year or more settled the cases since the story was carried in The Post-Crescent last November. Among those who settled was an Appleton attorney who had failed to pay four overtime parking tickets issued in 1965.

Old cases against two other attorneys and a judge apparently are no closer to a settlement than they were last November.

They are not among the cases scheduled for pretrial conferences in April.

Files in the court clerk's office indicate that on July 9, 1966, former Appleton city attorney Frederick E. Froehlich was cited by Appleton police for following another vehicle too closely. The charge was brought after a traffic accident, by a patrolman who resigned several years ago.

Because Froehlich is a practicing attorney in Outagamie County, all of the Outagamie judges disqualified themselves and the case was assigned to the Winnebago County Judge James V. Sitter.

Two Letters
The clerk's office sent two letters to Sitter, reminding him that the case had been pending courts for nearly 16 months.

On Nov. 23, 1969, Appleton police ticketed him for a red light violation after his car was in his Neenah court or in an involved in an accident. All Outagamie courtroom Sitter's other Outagamie judges disqualified themselves and the case was assigned to retired Columbia County Judge Elton Morrison. That was on Dec. 4, 1969.

On Oct. 4, 1969, Appleton attorney Bruce M. Chudacoff, who is in military service, was cited for speeding 36 miles per hour in a 25 zone in Appleton. A trial was held in the court of Outagamie County Judge Urban P. Van Susteren on Dec. 16, 1969. Van Susteren withheld a finding at the conclusion of testimony to allow Chudacoff, who defended himself, and the city attorney's office to submit briefs. That is where the case stands now.

Van Susteren also has had a case pending in Outagamie courts for a year or more. The defendants, their charges and their addresses at the time they were cited, are:

Cut in Paving Program to Meet Budget Recommended

Public Works Director Robert Miller is recommending cutting the level of appropriated funds back this summer's concrete street paving program to fit the cost into his budget, but he also is calling for a faster pace and bigger budget next year.

The city has been losing ground in its paving program at a rate of one-half mile per year due to inflation he reported.

The director's report to the Board of Public Works calls for eliminating four streets with a total price tag of $226,237 from the 19-street program originally scheduled this summer.

The works board last week opened bids and found the low price offered totaled $740,258, exceeding the budget for concrete paving and associated storm sewer installation by $215,950.

Three Alternatives
Miller suggested three alternatives for coping with the underestimate in the budget: cut back the program, add funds to fill the gap between budget and bids or appropriate part of the difference to limit the cutback in the paving program.

"In view of the severe limitation of available funds in the current budget, I recommend that the project be reduced to the level of appropriated funds as presented in alternative 1," Miller advised the board.

"However," he added, "serious consideration must be given to increase appropriations for permanent street surfacing in future budgets," in order to avoid unreasonable escalation in cost of maintaining unimproved streets.

Price Has Risen

During the past two years, the basic price of pavement has risen from $4.17 per square foot to $6.70 per square foot, due to inflation and more stringent requirements recently imposed by the city upon paving contractors to restore terraces after paving is finished, Miller said.

The city has arbitrarily set $500,000 as the limit on its paving budget the past several years, but due to inflation this has meant an average of one-half mile less street has been paved each year.

But while paving has fallen behind, the city has been opening new streets at a rate of 4 1/2 miles a year, grading them and applying a gravel surface.

The result is an increase in streets the number of miles of unpaved streets, which Miller said automatically boosts street maintenance costs each year.

Reduce Maintenance

Expanding the paving budget for future years will reduce the number of unimproved streets and cut the maintenance budget, he said.

The four streets he recommends dropping from this year's program include Crestview Drive from Canterbury Drive to the eastern limits of Crestview, $29,068; Glendale Avenue from Ballard Road to the Municipal Service Building, $79,870; Eighth Street from Linwood Street to Victoria Street, $10,735; and Sixth St. Prospect Avenue to Memorial Drive, $106,502.

Other projects that would remain if the works board accepts Miller's proposal include, in whole or part, Montclair Court, Lexington Drive, Bay Ridge Road, another section of Crestview Drive, Tehulah Avenue, Soldiers Square, Beechwood Court, and Marquette Franklin, Locust, Elm, Jackman, John Drew and Hoover.

The result is an increase in streets

Valley to Lose Rail Passenger Service May 1

Trains Through Appleton to Stop When Railpax Starts

The May 1 start of service by the National Railroad Passenger Corporation (Railpax) along cross-country routes announced earlier this week also will mean the demise of passenger service through the Fox Valley by the Chicago & North Western Railway Co.

The railroad presently operates two trains daily each way between Milwaukee and Green Bay. Cities losing service will include Green Bay, Appleton, Neenah - Menasha, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac, and West Bend, a railroad spokesman was quoted as saying Tuesday.

Railpax announced Monday its choices of routes and schedules between 21 pairs of major U.S. cities, in an effort to consolidate railroad passenger service and cut financial losses by eliminating least profitable runs.

Wisconsin Routes
Routes through Wisconsin will link Chicago with Milwaukee and Chicago with Minneapolis-St. Paul by way of Milwaukee, Columbus, Portage, Wisconsin Dells, Tomah and LaCrosse.

The North Western spokesman was quoted today in a Milwaukee newspaper as saying the Fox Valley service as well as Chicago-Milwaukee service by way of Racine and Kenosha will be discontinued shortly. The Valley service in about six weeks.

The railroad has been losing money on the service for years, forcing what the spokesman termed a "subsidy" from freight shippers.

Under the Railpax setup authorized earlier by Congress, service not included on the routes chosen to be preserved by the new corporation may be discontinued at the option of the railroads, but could be continued if state or local governments agree to provide a subsidy covering at least two-thirds of the cost.

The new system will use the best of 1,500 of the 3,800 railroad passenger cars now being used by 22 different railroads.

The railroads now report losses totaling $235 million per year on passenger service. The initial aim of Railpax is to cut the losses in half.

Hauser Moves for Study of Menasha Sewer User Fees

NEENAH — City officials will get together tonight to discuss Menasha's sewer user fee ordinance to see how and if it might apply to Neenah.

In a special press conference this morning, Mayor Roman V. Hauser announced that he, Wayne Bryan, public works director; John Jurgenson, water works superintendent; and Ald. Thomas Willerson and Robert Frank, would meet at 7 p.m. to start studying Menasha's ordinance.

Saying that he "was much disturbed by the News-Record's Tuesday editorial" which said Hauser "was reluctant to press for action on a user fee," the mayor pointed out that Menasha's ordinance would "not go into effect until July 1 and there's still a lot of time."

Stressing the fact that it was sewer user fee study, "We not called because of the editorial, Hauser said tonight's meeting would be to "go over or added Menasha's ordinance section by section."

"We're not trying to pick the Menasha's ordinance apart but we have a few of our own ideas, and we want to give serious consideration to each section," Hauser said.

"A user fee is something which will be a necessity because of the federal grants, making it a part of the requirements," Hauser explained adding that the sewerage commission had already submitted applications for federal aid to help construct the $17 million plus addition.

Willerson and Frank are Neenah's representatives on a joint Neenah-Menasha committee appointed to study implementation of a sewer user fee after the plant addition is completed and ready to go into operation.

Hauser also pointed out that earlier this week he had asked Consoer-Townsend (the sewer-into effect until July 1 and age commission's consultant engineers) for a proposal on a sewer user fee study. "We should be getting their proposal sometime next week," the mayor said.

Although Menasha passed its ordinance a week ago, one of the conditions on putting it into effect, was that Neenah pass one which was substantially the same.

Measuring Devices

Restating a point he made a week ago, Hauser said that measuring devices would be important to determine the BOD and suspended solids in addition to the rate of flow.

"It costs more to treat different types of sewage," Hauser said.

Driver Fined $250 on Two Traffic Counts

The driver of an automobile, which struck and injured an Appleton teen-ager March 7 was fined $250 and costs this morning on two traffic counts, one of them operating while intoxicated.

John Taggart, 38, 144 Anton Court, pleaded no contest to the intoxication charge and a count of neglecting to report striking an occupied motor vehicle. Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer imposed the fines and revoked Taggart's driver's license for 90 days on the first charge.

Taggart struck and injured Joseph Spreeman, 14, 1613 S. Lawe St., while being pursued by an Appleton detective who had confirmed that Taggart's auto was the same one that earlier had been involved in a hit-and-run accident with a taxicab at Memorial Drive and Badger Avenue.

Police said Taggart sped away from the scene of the first accident. Spreeman was released from St. Elizabeth Hospital after being treated for a head injury that originally put him in serious condition.

Spreeman was struck on State 47 in the Town of Menasha.

Welfare Topic To be Discussed

Three past and present officials of the Outagamie County Department of Social Services and a former welfare recipient will discuss welfare at the March meeting of the county Democratic party Thursday evening.

Speakers at the meeting, which starts at 8 p.m. in the Community Room of the First National Bank of Appleton, will be William Pfirang, acting director of the county welfare agency; Supv. Norman Austin of the Town of Oneida, chairman of the Board of Social Services; Daniel Versteeg, formerly a social worker supervisor in the county welfare agency and now affiliated with Cooperative Educational Service Agency No. 9; and Dolores Seeley of Outagamie Concerned Mothers.

Think Mankind, Not Color-Mack

Americans must forget about the almighty dollar and black and white and yellow and self-measuring devices would be and conquering the moon by themselves — if they want to become first class citizens in their own nation, said Theodore Mack this week.

Mack, president and manager of People's Brewing Co., Oshkosh, told the Appleton Optimists that all Americans have become second-class citizens because the politicians are running them instead of being run by them.

Mack was particularly critical of "the $4 million per pound" that America paid for the moon rock. He said the world — not just America — should be financing moon trips, and added that there are more important things for U.S. dollars.

"Now we're playing second fiddle for some rocks," he said. Mack said there was a need to change priorities but the chances of this happening seem better now than they have ever been.

Mack was one of a group of black Milwaukee businessmen who last September purchased the Oshkosh brewery. He said that the firm had added 1,000 new accounts in six months, including Milwaukee County stadium, arena and auditorium, University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee and UW at Madison, St. Norbert College, De Pere, and Whitewater State University.

Mack ended his emotional plea on the optimistic note: "For the first time in history, I believe that man is concerned about mankind and important things."

He said that Americans shouldn't think in terms of color — he called "black power" nonsense and rapped the idea of "white supremacy."

If blacks and whites in America don't start thinking about mankind, they're both going to find themselves dominated and "working in rice paddies," he said.

He criticized the Vietnam and Israel involvements, saying that "before we go to try to clean up the noses of somebody else, we had better try to clean up our own nose first."

He noted that the "wars" in San Francisco, Chicago, Detroit and New York worried him more than those in Vietnam and the Mideast. He also lamented the way the elderly are treated in this country, noting he wanted to live in his $50,000 home all his life — not be shuffled off to an apartment in his old age.

Mack said that something worthwhile must be left for children and grandchildren. He said the adults are leaving, for their children, chaos in the form of depleted natural resources and pollution.

The husky former university football player said he pushed a plow on an Alabama farm until he was 17. He walked seven miles to school and seven miles back daily while whites rode buses, he said.

He pictured himself as one who would put his mind to doing something and do it — especially if someone said he couldn't. But all people aren't that way, and they must be given equal opportunity, he said.

Three Youths Seen at Gas Station, Detectives Investigate Tire Theft

Detectives are investigating the theft of six tires from a W. Wisconsin Avenue service station late Monday. Three long-haired youths were seen running from the station, throwing the tires into two cars and driving off.

The new tires, worth $176, had been displayed outside Top Standard Service, 111 W. Wisconsin Ave. Police received the theft complaint at 11:20 p.m.

A passer-by told authorities he saw three youths running from the service station, each carrying two tires. They threw the tires into the cars and drove away, he said.

Lucey's Tax Plan Irks NM Officials

NEENAH-MENASHA Local county that will gain under the officials aren't pleased with plan. They will pick up $141,270. Gov. Patrick J. Lucey's pro-Kampo who called the plan proposed plans for tax sharing and another wholesale welfare program as far as I'm concerned" property tax relief.

"Winnebago County is going to get it in the neck," Menasha Mayor James Adams said.

"The $219,406 that Neenah would lose would mean about $1.40 cents per $1,000 on the city's tax rate — and this is a lot of money," Neenah Mayor Roman V. Hauser said.

The only thing this plan is going to do is encourage all municipalities to spend more money," said Town of Menasha Chairman Roland Kampo.

Oshkosh to Gain

Oshkosh is one of the few communities in Winnebago County that will stand to gain under the Lucey plan. They will gain $141,270 in state shared revenues.

"That's peanuts, as far as our needs are concerned," said Oshkosh City Manager Gordon Jaeger.

Here are the economic facts of the Lucey plan, as announced in figures released by the state Department of Revenue:

—Communities in Winnebago County will lose $773,633 in shared revenues with the state. That's a lot more than Outagamie County ($246,333) and Calumet County ($143,028) will lose.

—Menasha will lose $79,189 under the plan, if it is approved by the legislature.

That's almost 60 cents per $1,000 of assessed valuation on the city tax rate.

—Neenah will lose $219,406.

—The Town of Menasha will be the hardest hit of all local communities. It will lose $371,723 in shared revenues. Urbanized towns are the hardest hit segment of the state under the plan.

—The Town of Neenah will lose $83,580 under the plan.

Oshkosh is one of only eight units of government in the afternoon in Outagamie County Court Branch 2.

A patrolman said he discovered the juvenile behind a trough over a door, when he investigated a broken window at the business.

Officers said they found Landusky inside the establishment on top of a cooler, after the other youth told police someone was inside.

The legislature's joint finance committee will meet in Madison today on the proposed plan. Hauser said he would be there, opting for leaving the tax sharing formal alone.

But he said today that the new formula "had a good chance of going through" the legislature.

Help Milwaukee

"It will help Milwaukee, but I don't think Neenah wants to give up what it has to help Milwaukee," he said.

Adams said "Menasha isn't getting anything now, the way it is," and that the new plan will just add to its problems. He said school aids to Menasha are less because of high parochial school enrollments.

Jaeger said the $141,000 that Oshkosh will gain under the tax sharing formula "may be a little misleading," because it is also proposed that cities pick up the complete costs for retirement and social security for teachers, which would cost the city an additional $500,000, he said.

But he said "we're going to have to meet with them before we can react." He said he doesn't know the full impact of the plan yet.

YGOP Parley Slated at Oshkosh

OSHKOSH — About 300 delegates and several state Republican VIP's will be at the Pioneer Inn here this weekend for the annual convention of state Young Republicans.

The three-day affair will be highlighted by a keynote address at 1 p.m. Saturday by Sixth District Cong. William A. Steiger, R-Oshkosh, and a Saturday night VIP banquet featuring a talk by the ranking state Republican, Atty. Gen. Robert Warren.

Attending the Saturday night banquet will be the 1970 Republican candidate for governor, Jack Olson.

The convention will get underway with delegate registration between 4 and 10 p.m. Friday. The four YGOP committees will begin meeting about 9 p.m. Friday to go over resolutions and other business that will be taken care of during the convention gatherings Saturday.

Election of officers will begin Saturday at 9 a.m. The convention session at 9 a.m. Saturday night will run to featuring a talk by the ranking state Republican, Atty. Gen. Robert Warren.

After the luncheon, delegates will start on constitution and resolution reports, which should be the main event of the convention day. What business is not taken care of by the VIP banquet set to begin at 5 p.m. will come up at a Sunday morning session that will begin around 9:30 a.m.

Neenah's Joel Garlock, chairman of the Wisconsin Federation of Young Republicans, will preside over the banquet that will include appearances by Sixth District Chairman Peter Kohler, former Neenah State Rep. David Martin and local lawmakers.

Winners of the Miss Young Republican and Miss Teenage Republican contests will be announced at the banquet. Warren will give the main address.

Church Approves Expansion

Voting members of Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, 2220 E. College Ave., approved plans Tuesday for a $305,000 expansion program to provide new worship and classroom facilities.

The project is scheduled to begin next month, with a January, 1972, completion target date.

A 513-seat church building, containing a full basement with nine classrooms will be built as an extension of the present worship, classroom and office structure. The site is bounded by E. College Avenue, Joseph, Lucille and Buchanan streets.

A church office, lounge, storage and other facilities also are included in the plans, drawn by Boettcher & Gunow, Inc., Neenah architects. Bids were opened March 16, and a special voters' meeting Tuesday night approved the plans and authorized the start of the project.

Fellowship Room

The present worship hall will become a fellowship room when the new structure is occupied. Classrooms in the present structure and in the new building will continue to be used for Sunday school, midweek instruction classes and vacation Bible school.

Cy Wurster, chairman of the building committee, explained plans and financial details of the project. Included in the total budget approved by members is a $10,850 organ already purchased. It will be installed in the 84-seat balcony portion of the new church.

The building, of traditional ing worship and classroom facilities. Voting members approved the $305,000 project Tuesday. Construction is scheduled to begin in April and to be complete next January.

Alcoholism Services Joins Plan To Eliminate Drinking Drivers

Citizens Alcoholism Services, Inc. (CASI) was reminded Monday of a new Wisconsin plan designed to track down drinking drivers, to help them and to safeguard the public. The program, according to Michael Krueger, a analyst from the bureau of driver control, will involve the CASI referral center in St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Krueger said the plan will involve state drivers who have lost seven or more points or who have been in two or more serious accidents within the past year. After receiving word from the motor vehicle department, conferences are scheduled with the suspect driver "at which time we try to determine if a drinking problem has effected his driving."

"If it seems it has," said Krueger, "we ask him to visit a referral center so he might find professional help." If he refuses help, he said, the agency has the authority to recommend suspension of a driver's license.

of Alcoholics Anonymous and other therapeutic measures, after which the hospital unit "provides job counseling and guidance, so alcoholics can go back to the community as a working, self-supporting person."

He said Outagamie's program includes a sheltered workshop which provides a means whereby the alcoholic can work at his job during the day, then be transported back to the hospital in the evening for therapy.

A local Appleton industry was singled out and complimented for being the first to accept the CASI Industrial Alcoholism Detection and Treatment Plan. This plan to be implemented in May is to educate management to problems of alcoholism.

The rehabilitative director also reported that he has discussed problems of alcoholism with students from the two Appleton public high schools, high schools at Kimberly and St. John of Little Chute and at the Fox Valley Technical Institute.

Archer said he expects to expand this.

The following were re-elected to three-year membership on the CASI board: Miss Alice Huck, Harold Kositzke, Mrs. Fern Smith and Maxine Stoffel.

Those who were elected officers of the board include The Rev. Orville Janssen, president; William Brisco, vice president, and Kositzke secretary-treasurer.

City Hospitals Receive New Blood Solutions

Fit Drivers Only

He told CASI that its purpose "is to see that only mentally and physically fit drivers are on the road." He added that he thinks the program has been well accepted by questionable drivers, although there have been difficulties in the northern part of the state where referral centers are not available.

Also on hand at CASI's fourth annual meeting was Francis Archer, director of the alcoholism rehabilitation unit of Outagamie County Hospital.

Archer's program, new at Outagamie, hopefully will take some of the pressure off the state hospital in Winnebago County. Already it has drawn patients from as far as Milwaukee, leading Archer to remark that the reins soon will be drawn in, and the hospital now will concentrate on alcoholics in this county and those from closer areas.

Both Appleton hospitals, Appleton Memorial and St. Elizabeth, received replacement intravenous solutions from another supplier Tuesday afternoon and have switched to that fluid.

John R. Shephard, Memorial administrator, and Charles Paul, assistant administrator at St. Elizabeth, confirmed today that the new supplies of fluid, from another company, arrived and were put into use Tuesday.

Supplemental supplies reached the hospitals today, Shephard said.

These solutions replace those from Abbott Laboratories of Chicago, which were withdrawn Tuesday by the Food and Drug Administration because of reported blood infection and nine deaths throughout the nation.

Kaukauna Community Hospital reported today that it does not use the Abbott fluid and therefore has had no problems.

New London Community Hospital also related that it uses a fluid from another manufacturer.

Programs of Parks Face Budget Woes

Complete Staff

The rehabilitative unit, one of the few offered in the state's county hospitals, is complete with a staff of psychologists, psychiatrists, doctors and nurses, he said. "Its purpose is to provide a program that considers the whole patient — including his physical, mental and emotional makeup."

Further outlining Outagamie's program curtailment to the plan, he reported that patients are introduced to the approach years for a new pool on the northwest side.

Koehnke replied he is unable to assess the Erb pool's condition until the spring thaw when it can be tested. "That's on a hope-and-see basis," said Koehnke.

Last summer the pool was nearly closed during the mid-summer city water emergency due to leakage, Gertsch said.

He instructed Koehnke to report his recommendations on program curtailment to the commission at its regular April meeting.

Other Fox Valley hospitals contacted also reported no problems or incidences of blood poisoning. Officials at Riverside Community Hospital at Waukegan late this morning reported that the use of Abbott fluids had been discontinued and an alternate now is being used.

Clintonville Community Hospital stated that half of its stock of the Abbott solution was not of the serial numbers being recalled and that its staff was using that supply.

in the gym, adding that winter physical education "is practically impossible." He said this shows up in Columbus students when they get to junior high.

He cited the one-outlet problem, saying it tends to limit individual work and creativity.

It was Schultz's class window which the wind blew out during the night last fall, apparently because of poor or no maintenance. Glass covered the empty desks he recalled.

Miss Marilyn Borge, kindergarten teacher, said adjustments must be made for lack of facilities with the major loss being in teaching time. "It takes just a little kids' attention.

She noted that teaching conditions hadn't changed noticeably in four years.

Both teachers, however, said there are definite advantages to the small school. "The kids know each other and get to know the teachers," Miss Borge said.

There probably is a slight division in parents at Columbus, as there is at Jackson.

Mrs. Robert Erley, PTA president, said the PTA hadn't pushed actively for new facilities. She said she would like to see a new central city school but at a site such as Columbus because she would rather send her children to Columbus than a long distance to a new school.

She lamented the loss of years to larger, newer schools.

She noted that central city residents pay taxes just as everyone else, and at least deserve a well-maintained school.

Mrs. Charles Schmidt, co-vice president, agreed, but she spoke more strongly on the inadequacies of the building and said she favored a new school.

She said she was "basically concerned with stabilizing the area." There's a large pupil turnover during a year because of people moving in and out in the rental area, she said, and this can be attributed to the failure of the inner city — the poor school building being a significant contributing factor.

She noted that Jackson and forces in seeking a solution to the central city school problem.

Both PTA leaders said that the parents had been promised improved facilities three years ago but nothing happened on that promise.

Sierra Leone Coup Attempt Turned Back

FREETOWN, Sierra Leone (AP) — A coup of Sierra Leone's army commander was upset Tuesday night when army officers arrested him and announced they were keeping Prime Minister Siaka P. Stevens in office.

"I am still alive and healthy by the grace of God," Stevens announced this morning in a nationwide radio broadcast.

He reported all was back to normal after Tuesday's upheaval and appealed to the people to go about their regular duties. The government, he added, is determined to safeguard life and property.

This apparently referred to unexplained shooting which broke out in several parts of the city just before the broadcast. The shooting sent people scurrying for cover and many of offices and stores closed down.

Third in Command
The army's third in command, Lt. Col. Sam Kung, said in a broadcast late Tuesday night that a majority of the country's 1,500-man army dissociated themselves from Brig John Bangurah's attempt to seize power.

"We regard the present government of Prime Minister Siaka Stevens as the legally constituted authority in the country," Kung said.

There was no word from Stevens himself. Army sources said earlier he was being held in protective custody; where was not disclosed.

Started Tuesday
Bangurah's attempt on the government began at dawn Tuesday when about 12 armed soldiers attacked Stevens' home. In a 15-minute gunfight, security guards killed two of the attackers. Sporadic gunfire was also reported near the military barracks and the center of the city.

An Irish missionary, David Lewis, 38, was critically wounded in the shooting, and several African civilians were reportedly killed by soldiers roaming the streets.

Seizing the radio station, Bangurah said in a broadcast that "owing to the state of affairs the army has been compelled to take control" until further notice. The general said he had "the full backing and support of all members of the armed forces" and warned neighboring African countries against "any undue interference."

There was no indication what developments during the day led to repudiation of Bangurah and his arrest.

Stevens, a militant 65-year-old trade union leader, has been at odds with various of the military leaders since his All People's Congress won half the parliamentary seats in March 1967. Six days later a military junta prevented his taking office, but the next year he and a group of army sergeants overthrew the junta, and Stevens became a prime minister.

Last September Stevens in 1966 exported nearly $100 million worth of diamonds.

San Francisco Mayor Indicted

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — former prosecuting attorney in Mayor Joseph Alioto of San Francisco says a federal grand jury indictment charging him with conspiring to bribe a Washington State official is politically motivated and "a 14-karat fake."

"I have every confidence we're going to be vindicated in court because there won't be any star chambers proceedings in court. There will be a judicial proceeding," Alioto told 100 placard-waving supporters Tuesday night.

Alioto and three former Washington State officials were indicted Tuesday in Seattle in an alleged bribe conspiracy involving $2.3 million in legal fees.

Charged with Alioto were former Washington State Atty. Gen. John J. O'Connell; former Asst. Atty. Gen. George K. Faler; and John G. McCutcheon, a former prosecuting attorney in San Pierce County, Wash. Francisco says a federal grand jury indictment charging him with conspiring to bribe a Washington State official is politically motivated and "a 14-karat fake."

Arriving from Washington, D.C., where he testified this week, before a Senate subcommittee on federal revenue sharing, Alioto, a Democrat, told a news conference.

"It's just a 14-karat fake. This is a shared fee for shared work and if this can constitute a bribe or an attempted bribe or using the mail to bribe, then every Republican who has taken a referral fee in the Senate—and almost all of them have—ought to be indicted too."

Alioto has been mayor since Jan. 8, 1968. He nominated Hubert H. Humphrey for president at the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

Utility Districts
The indictment involves the handling by Alioto between 1962 and 1967 of overcharge claims by 5 municipal districts and public utilities districts in the State of Washington against major electrical equipment manufacturers.

Alioto originally had been hired to represent the districts on a contingency fee with a $1 million limit, but his fee was raised to 15 per cent of the total final settlements after he negotiated $16.2 million in refunds.

Alioto, Faler and O'Connell are accused in the indictment of using the mail to promote the bribery of a public official, a violation of the federal antibracketing law. They are also charged with fraudulent use of the mail.

The indictment says McCutcheon concealed the alleged conspiracy.

Alioto declared there was no conflict of interest. Under Washington law, he said, Faler and O'Connell were free to accept private practice.

"Mr. O'Connell modified my fee ceiling because I took on additional obligations which led to the recovery of $16 million," Alioto said. "And we got $16 million instead of having to settle for $1.9 million or $3 million. So Mr. O'Connell's judgment about that was correct."

"I've shared fees with lawyers since 1942 when I started the antitrust practice and I have shared it right down to date," Alioto said. "Mr. O'Connell unquestionably had the right to private practice."

Missing Box Car Jury Probe Begins

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The FBI seized from the tiny railroad, which only has 15 miles of track, and from Magna Earth Enterprises, Inc., a firm which rents office and shop space from LaSalle.

Magna Earth reportedly repairs and repaints freight cars and leases them.

Joseph Cinotto Jr., general manager of the LaSalle, denied participating in any "wrong doing."

"This is all a terrible mistake," he told newsmen when the story first broke. "I really don't know what happened."

"The whole thing is still being investigated by the FBI," Spriggs said. "The facts have not been sufficiently developed to tell exactly how this scheme operated or was manipulated."

He added he also didn't know how many of the missing cars have been located.

Penn Central owns 180,000 of the nation's two million freight cars. They are used by the railroad industry in a common pool as they move east, west, north and south across the United States and in and out of Canada.

Temporary Levees Built

Prolonged Cold Delays Flooding

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — This week's unseasonable cold probably will delay flood crests on the Upper Mississippi River and its tributaries until mid-April or later but rain could change the forecast, the National Weather Service said Tuesday.

Meteorologist Joseph Strub said the Mississippi was now expected to crest about April 16 at the Twin Cities, April 20 at Wabasha and Winona, Minn., and April 25 at Guttenberg.

Iowa Heavy precipitation would alter the forecast, Strub said. The U.S. Army Engineers are letting contracts for temporary levees to be built at dozens of river points on the Mississippi and St. Croix Rivers in Minnesota and the Chippewa and Wisconsin Rivers in Wisconsin.

Similar flood preparations two years ago in Minnesota, North Dakota, Wisconsin and Iowa cost more than $8 million. However, the engineers estimated the cost this year at between only $1 million and $2 million because several of the levees built in 1969 remain intact or easily repairable.

Predicted Levels
The Service predicted levels above flood stage at most points south and east of the Twin Cities because of heavy rains last fall and unusually large snow accumulations this winter.

The Service said practically all rivers in Wisconsin were well below flood stage as of Tuesday, with no appreciable rise expected in the next three days. The Mississippi stood at 5.9 feet at Alma, compared with a flood stage of 16 feet.

At Prairie du Chien, where flood stage is 15 feet, the river was at 11.3 feet Tuesday. The Chippewa was at 7.3 feet at Durand, where flood stage is 11 feet. The Trempealeau at Dodge was at 3.9 feet, 3.1 feet below bankful.

The Black River was at 5.8 feet at Neillsville and 6.5 at Galesville, where flood stages are 18 and 12 feet, respectively. The Wisconsin was at 5.8 at Merrill, 5.2 feet under flood stage.

The Kickapoo, which filled its banks in much of Crawford County early last week after a warm spell, was back to 29 feet at Readstown, where flood stage

Bids are being considered for a 4,600 foot long temporary levee at Stillwater, Minn., to protect the downtown from the St. Croix. Similar levees were built, but removed, in 1965 and 1969.

It said rains of 1 1/4 inches during the next few weeks could push levels near those of the severe floods of 1965.

The service is predicting crests generally one to three feet above flood stage. In some communities, this would mean only that some lowlands and railroad tracks would get wet.

In others, sewer systems might back up and some downtown and residential areas would be flooded without permanent or temporary levees.

Governors Ask Aid to Save Salmon, Trout

Fish Dying From Nitrogen Excess At Western Dams

FORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Governors of three states have asked Congress for $8 million to combat the creation of nitrogen-saturated water which threatens the extinction of salmon and steelhead trout in the Columbia and Snake rivers.

Scientists told a public hearing Tuesday that close to 70 per cent of fish passing through the water were dying of nitrogen bubble disease, or aerobolism in the blood stream, a condition known to human divers as "the bends."

They said the nitrogen concentration was caused by water plunging over dam spillways into deep pools below, where pressure was high. The cure is to modify the dams so that the water flows more gently through other outlets.

Salmon and steelhead are a valuable commercial and sports fishing resource in Oregon, Washington and Idaho. Some $250 million has been spent on Columbia River hatcheries which cost about $6 million to operate each year.

Appeal to Congress

"Two more years like 1970 and the salmon and steelhead fisheries may become a thing of the past," said Gov. Cecil Andrus of Idaho, who joined with the governors of the other two states in the appeal to Congress.

The steelhead and salmon hatch in fresh water, grow to adulthood in the sea and return to the streams of their birthplace to spawn.

On their round trip the salmon and steelhead must negotiate the mighty Columbia between Oregon and Washington and its major tributary, the Snake River through southeastern Washington and Idaho.

The Columbia and Snake are broken by several major dams whose spillways create the nitrogen problem.

Social Worker Licensing Is Requested

Group Wants State Recognition of Professional Status

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — As in all recent legislatures, additional proposals are being filed creating new professions under state licensing and control.

A major new proposition asks for state recognition of the professional status of trained social workers, with state registry, annual renewal of licenses, and a requirement for examination of future applicants for licenses.

The profession would be defined in two classes of "social worker," meaning any person with a bachelor's degree with a major in social work from an approved school, and "registered social worker," which would be confined to persons with a graduate degree awarded by such an approved school.

Workers in the field with the required educational attainment would be licensed without examination until the end of 1973. After that time examination would be required for all registration applicants.

Licenses would be given the right to use the abbreviated titles "S. W." and "R. S. W."

The examining board would be a part of the State Department of Licensing and Regulation, which would collect $25 for each applicant admitted without examination, $30 for each applicant given an examination and $15 a year from each person for the annual renewal of licensing. The department would be empowered to revoke licenses for cause.

In a preamble, the registration bill says "the legislature declares that the professional practice of social work profoundly affects the lives of the people of this state."

Police & Fire Beat

An employee of Van Steen Ford, 3030 W. College Avenue, reported to the Outagamie County Sheriff's Department Monday the theft of a stereo tape player worth $100 from the auto of Roger Schilhabel, 1819 1/2 N. Oneida St. The theft occurred over the weekend, he said.

John J. Salm, 24, route 2, Appleton, was taken to Appleton Memorial Hospital early Tuesday after a single-car accident four miles north of Appleton on State 47. Salm was in satisfactory condition Tuesday with head cuts.

Outagamie County police said Salm was southbound on 47 when he skidded on a patch of ice, struck a ditch, rolled over once and came to rest upright against a power pole. Damage to Salm's 1965 car was estimated at $600.

David Luebeck, 20, route 1, Suring, was sentenced to 10 days in the Outagamie County jail, with Huber Law, after being convicted Monday of driving after his license was revoked. Luebeck pleaded guilty before Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer. Luebeck was charged early Monday by state patrolman at U.S. 41 and County Trunk BB.

Blind Protest Workshop Closing

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Gov. Patrick J. Lucey's proposal that the state workshop for the blind in Milwaukee be closed and that other programs be designed to provide rehabilitation and training for sightless individuals came in for attack Tuesday as the joint finance committee heard testimony regarding the Department of Health and Social Services budget.

The governor proposed that the facility which provides jobs for 50 to 60 persons who manufacture products and provide services at an average wage of $1.72 be closed because of management inefficiencies that have resulted in a deficit at the workshop.

A contingent of blind persons representing various state organizations for the blind told the committee that closing the facility would result in wasted lives for the persons recently mean that those now gainfully employed would end up receiving state assistance to the blind.

If the persons presently working at the workshop were directed to a training program, explained Gerald Atkins of Janesville, a spokesman for the Midwest Association for the Blind said, "the state would spend $115,000 to put them through another workshop for 115 days before they go on welfare." He said the persons employed there do not want to go on welfare and that the people cannot find jobs at other workshops, such as those operated by Goodwill Industries as they only pay 25 cents an hour.

The state now pays workers a 10 cents an hour subsidy. The program at the workshop was the subject of a special study that determined the program is not well managed. On the basis of that study, it was reported, the governor recommended the closing.

The committee was advised that closing the workshop would not result in savings to the state, because of the higher cost of welfare than the income subsidies and was asked to

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, March 24, the 83rd day of 1971. There are 282 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1603, the crowns of England and Scotland were joined under James VI of Scotland. He began his reign as James I.

On this date: In 1683, Rhode Island was purchased from the Indians. In 1783, Spain recognized U.S. independence. In 1882, the German bacteriologist Robert Koch announced his discovery of the germs of tuberculosis. In 1934, President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed a bill granting future independence to the Philippines. In 1965, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy scaled the highest unclimbed mountain in North America—Mt. Kennedy in Canada's Yukon Territory.

Also in 1965, some 25,000 blacks and white sympathizers converged on the Alabama state capital at Montgomery after a five-day march from Selma, Ala.

Ten years ago — The U.S. Labor Department reported that two-thirds of the nation's 150 major industrial areas had

PX-ification Steps Taken in Vietnam

BY ART BUCHWALD

WASHINGTON — The big question everyone in Washington is asking is whether the South Vietnamese army is strong enough to take over the American PX system once all the U. S. troops pull out.

The real test of a first-class military force is how capable it is to run its PXs at a profit. So far, the American officials have been highly pleased at the progress the South Vietnamese have made in PX administration, and the U. S. military predicts that it will be able to turn over all essential PX activities to the ARVN by 1972.

"These little fellows learned twice as fast as we thought they would," said former Gen. E. H. Hardsell, who, up until a few weeks ago, was in charge of the PX-ification program.

Hardsell told correspondents proudly, "I'd be willing to put them up against any PX officers in the world. When it comes to purchasing, cost accounting, warehousing and distribution, the South Vietnamese have proved they can do the job."

Buchwald

"Are you trying to tell us that the South Vietnamese will be able to handle their own pinball and slot machines by 1972?"

"Definitely," Hardsell said. "The ARVN have had pinball and slot machines in their officers' club for over a year and their jackpot count has been next to zero. In some cases the take off the top from the slot machines has been higher than that of the most lucrative U. S. Army messes in Southeast Asia."

Hardsell said the success of PX-ification can be attributed to a crash training program that the U. S. Army started two years ago. "I was assigned the task of training them, and I was given carte blanche to do anything I wanted as long as I got results."

"The first thing I did was set up a training school in a large villa outside Saigon. It had a swimming pool, and open bar, bedroom suites, hi-fi and a French chef. We wanted to simulate for our trainees the same battle conditions they would face in a real PX situation."

"In the daytime we held classes in black-market sales management, manufacturers' kickbacks, Swiss bank accounting, false-air conditioner and refrigerator manifests, and beer and whisky inventory subterfuge."

"We worked out students until they were ready to drop. In the evening they each had to go through an obstacle course which consisted of swimming across the heated pool six times, eating a seven-course meal, drinking a fifth of scotch with a U. S. company distributor, and then going three rounds in hand-to-hand combat with a beautiful South Vietnamese hostess."

"Since all our trainees were volunteers, we had very few dropouts, many of them wanted to sign up for the course twice."

"Our tough methods paid off. Three of our graduates are now generals in the South Vietnamese PX system and already own majority interests in seven Saigon massage parlors."

For his work in training the South Vietnamese, Hardsell was awarded the distinguished slot machine service medal by the Thieu government. It couldn't have come at a better time, because Gen. Hardsell recently has been stripped of all his American decorations, busted to private and asked to resign for the good of the U. S. Army. (Copyright 1971)

Police & Fire Beat

Gary Lynn Brewer, 23, route 1, Phelps, was fined $25 and costs Monday for drinking beer in a moving motor vehicle on a public highway. Brewer pleaded guilty before Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer. County police said drivers were Gloria Stebers, 36, 1022 W. Lawrence St., and John A. Bruso, State 54 in the Town of Bovina Saturday night.

Five units of the Appleton Fire Department Monday morning went to the Riverside Paper Co., 800 S. Lawe St., on a false alarm.

Three persons were hurt, none seriously, when two cars collided Monday night at Eighth and Summit streets. Appleton police said drivers were Gloria Stebers, 36, 1022 W. Lawrence St., and John A. Bruso, State 54 in the Town of Bovina Saturday night.

Stebers woman sustained leg injuries, police said, while Bruso had injuries to the nose. A passenger in the Bruso car, morning went to the Riverside Paper Co., 800 S. Lawe St., on a false alarm.

To Win Talking Globe

BY CAPPY DICK
Boys and girls: Here's a new chance to try to win an Encyclopaedia Britannica "Talking Globe" the new look earth globe that is accompanied by a recording which reproduces on your record player the dramatic qualifying prizes will be awarded to boys and girls of the Fox Cities area for the 5 neatest and most original correct local entries. These prizes will be magic tricks called the Imp Bottle. When directions for performing the trick are followed, only the owner of the little Imp Bottle can cause it to lay on its side; for everyone else it will stand straight up. Entries winning these tricks will be considered again in the national judging for the grand prizes.

To enter the contest and try for a local award and then for one of the national prizes, use the initial letters of the 10 words in the picture above to form the name of a famous American city. When you know what the solution is, clip out the picture, paste it on a piece of paper, print the name of the city beneath it, along with your name, age, address and Zip Code number.

Decorate the entry in any neat, original way with paints, crayons or cutouts.

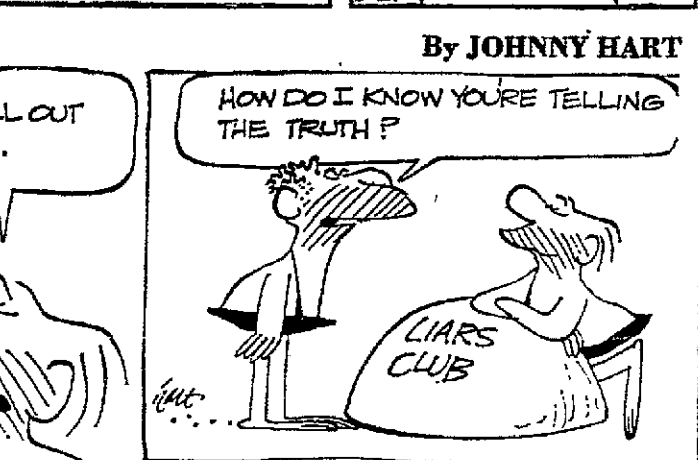

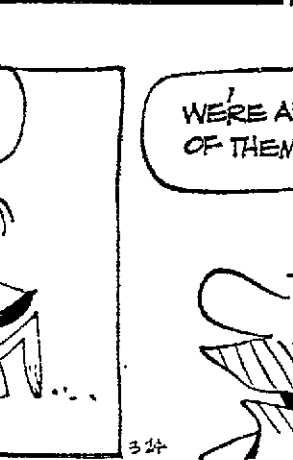

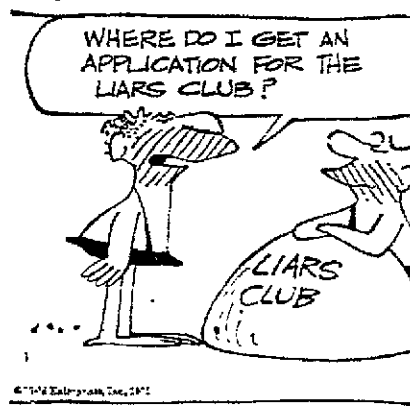

Finally address it to Cappy Dick's Midweek "Talking Globe" Contest at the Post-Crescent and mail it before midnight of day after tomorrow.

Prize winners' names will be published here and their awards will be sent to their homes by mail. Judges' decisions will be final. All entries become Cappy Dick's property; none can be returned.

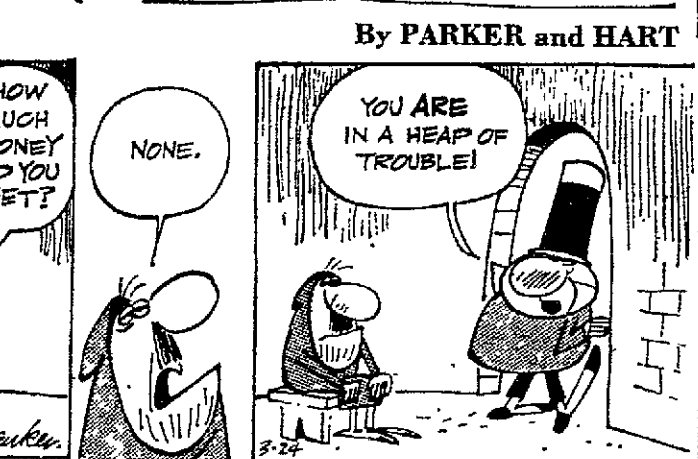

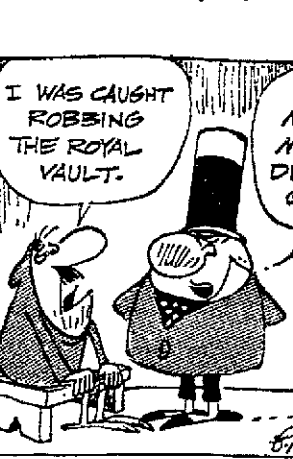

Tomorrow: How to write a letter with "shaded" writing.

Home Builders Call for Easier Availability of Money

By F. RICHARD CICCONE
Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — The president of the National Association of Home Builders says his industry can meet the national demand for 26 million housing units by 1978 if "the money is put where the people can get to it."

John A. Stastny, a third-generation Chicago area builder and president of the 52,000-member association, said in an interview that Federal Reserve Board practices during tight money periods must be overhauled so home builders don't have to bear the burden of fiscal restraints.

Stastny also said that factory-built housing, which some in government and industry say may solve the housing shortage, is not competitive with on-site construction. He said the government's Operation Breakthrough program has not, thus far, supplied home builders with new information on technology and production.

Government Goal
Stastny said his industry would have no problems meeting the government goal of 26 million units by 1978 even though his industry's biggest production year, 1950, resulted in only 2 million housing units.

"That was 20 years ago," Stastny said, adding that technology and efficiency have vastly improved. "There was an ample money supply for the consumer in 1950, Stastny said, and builders met the market."

"We can build anywhere if there is a market," he said, "but many Americans can't afford to finance homes in periods of tight money."

"When the supply of money in the country is low, which is determined by the Federal Reserve Board, the prices go up. It's difficult during those periods of tight money to compete with other bidders for that money."

Credit Groups
Among the main bidders, he said, were the consumer credit groups. "The revolving charges at 18 per cent a year which people can use for cars, boats and even vacations . . . but there's no way people are going to finance homes at 8 per cent."

Stastny, a member of the President's Commission on Collective Bargaining in the construction industry, questions whether factory-built housing can be the total solution to the nation's shortage of dwellings. He regards factory-produced housing as another possible technological stride in construction.

Off-Site Construction
"Our industry has made great advances in technological improvements. We have incorporated a great deal of off-site construction in our building and we have reduced the labor cost of a home to between 15 to 18 per cent of the total. Stastny said that in the late 1940s, the labor cost of a home amounted to 48 to 50 per cent of the cost. "All we know is that the product which factory builders are producing today is not competitive," he added "No one is using it."

There are two major reasons, Stastny said, for the inability of factory homes to compete. "First is the cost of the plant," he said. "That cost—which one producer estimated at $5 million—must be amortized in the cost of the homes it sells. Then, there is the cost of delivery."

Three Types
There are three types of factory-produced housing: open frame, what used to be known as prefab; closed frame, where panels are completed on the interior and exterior sides, and modular, a three-dimensional unit usually 12 feet by 32 to 54 feet. Modular units are constructed in the factory with all mechanical, plumbing and electrical outlets included.

Stastny said the cost of transporting the factory-produced units to a site increases their cost to the purchaser. "You can't compress a modular home when you ship it. As a result you are paying to transport air. Panel type housing is more efficient because you can lay the panels flat for shipping, but still it is more efficient to build the panels on site."

Spokesmen for factory housing builders agree that they cannot now produce homes cheaper than on-site contractors. But they say costs will drop in the future.

On Site Contractors
"We expect our costs would come down if factory wages held constant or rose at a slow rate," a spokesman said.

Advocates of factory housing doubt that on-site contractors will be able to hold prices because of the continuing demands of building trade unions.

Factory housing spokesmen agree that there is little variety in their products. "For this reason, factory housing will never be the answer for $80,000 and $100,000 homes. But when you talk about $18,000 homes, people aren't expecting that much design, and the lower end of the price scale is where factory housing has its opportunity."

Operation Breakthrough, a project of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, was created by President Nixon in 1969 to develop new techniques in production, marketing, and use and financing of homes.

Twenty-two home producers are building 2,500 units on sites in eight cities. These will be Breakthrough prototypes and construction on all sites is expected to be substantially underway by late 1971.

"Breakthrough," a factory builder said, "is a pilot program that the government is using to influence the use of factory building."

Stastny said, "We don't see that as the intention of Breakthrough. We see Breakthrough's real contribution in identifying and removing the restraints such as outdated zoning, inadequate codes, unfair tax imposition and the devastating effects of the labor monopoly on the building industry."

"We see no indication yet in any of the Breakthrough programs that they will produce anything which reduces costs, but they haven't produced enough for us to judge," he said.

Lindsay Support Grows in State As Groups Act

EAU CLAIRE (AP) — A network of committees is being organized in Wisconsin to support New York Mayor John V. Lindsay for president in 1972, a Lindsay backer has reported.

Richard D. Schlieve, Young Republican chairman in the 10th Congressional District, said the Lindsay for President Committee, of which he is chairman, has about 100 members.

A committee in the 1st Congressional District is ready to mail political literature and other committees are being formed in Wausau, Green Bay, Madison, La Crosse and Milwaukee, he said.

Low Interest Rate For State Bonds

MADISON (AP) — The interest rate on $19.5 million in bonds sold Tuesday by Wisconsin is the most favorable to the state in about two years.

Bankers Trust Co. of New York, represented by a Milwaukee bank, submitted the lowest of five bids on the borrowing project to finance several state projects.

The interest rate is 4.051 per cent, the lowest since Wisconsin abandoned its "dummy corporation" borrowing system two years ago in favor of direct borrowing.

The bonds are to be retired in 20 years with net interest costs amounting to about $8.3 million. The biggest item in the package is $5 million for road work. It also contains $1.1 million for state colleges and $2.5 million for the University of Wisconsin.

OSU Lighting Wins Approval

Expenditure Aimed At Improving Campus Security

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — An improvement in the lighting of the central academic core at Oshkosh State University at a cost of $49,600 was approved Monday by the state building commission.

The project, one of several lighting projects on WSU campuses, was proposed after the state universities Board of Regents was turned down in a request last December to improve security provisions on the campuses. The Board on Government Operations at that time advised the state universities that they did not need beefed up security personnel forces and authorized only the expenditure of additional funds for keeping lights in campus buildings on at night.

The building commission also approved the purchase of a parcel of land located in the future academic core of the Oshkosh campus at a cost of $14,000. Funds to permit relocation of a Wisconsin Public Service Corp. electrical transmission line that crosses an area planned as an outdoor physical education area were also approved. The project will cost an estimated $4,600.

Fiscal Phase
The initial stage of the use of the new buildings on the Shorewood campus of the University towards its end Monday when of Wisconsin-Green Bay moved towards its end Monday when the commission authorized the expenditure of $10,000 to plan, bid and construct the conversion of the surge space in the environmental sciences theme college building.

The building commission also authorized the purchase of a parcel of land along Bay Settlement Road from Mrs. Michael Maloney. The $15,400 expenditure will add a triangular piece of land with 580 feet frontage on Bay Settlement Road to even out part of the campus boundary.

The commission approved the transfer of 25 acres of land just north of the state reformatory from the department of Health and Social Services to the department of Natural Resources for eventual use as a state historical park.

The long-range plan is to move a number of the Green Bay area historical buildings to the site adjacent to the present location of Cotton House and the Baird Law office in order to develop a historical park. The approval was not forthcoming because the building commission had not held a working Historical society for several years, but its completion depends on the availability of the first bids were approved.

Police & Fire Beat

A charge of theft of rented property was dismissed Tuesday against Daniel Krutz, 23, Oshkosh, after Assistant Dist. Atty. Joel Seymour noted the unreturned item, a guitar, had been paid for Krutz was charged with failing to return the musical instrument to Heid Music Co., 308 E. College Ave., last June 25.

Three worthless check counts against Harry P. Reichel, 55, 705 E. Eighth St., Kaukauna, were dropped Tuesday after he made restitution for the notes. Reichel was accused of issuing the three bogus checks, each of $20, to the Doering's Super Valu store in Kaukauna Jan. 24, 25, and 26. The checks had been drawn on the Bank of Kaukauna.

Two children were treated and released from Kaukauna Community Hospital Saturday afternoon following an accident, west of Appleton in which they were thrown from their father's car.

Michael Roovers, 11, and his sister Linda, 13, children of Mr. and Mrs. George Roovers, 601 W. Tenth St., Kaukauna, were taken to the hospital by Larry's Ambulance. Michael had bruises on the head and hip, according to Outagamie County police.

Police said the children tumbled from the car driven by their 48-year-old father when the car collided in the intersection of County Trunk A and a service road off College Avenue with an auto operated by Kevin R. Forster, 23, 116 Gardners Row, Appleton.

Victor Sawczenko, 30, 400 N. Appleton St., was sentenced to 15 days in the Outagamie County jail Monday for disorderly conduct. He pleaded guilty before County Judge Gustave J. Keller.

Appleton police arrested Sawczenko early Monday after he refused to pay for food at a downtown restaurant.

land, that has been used for gardening at the reformatory. The commission authorized the allocation of $16,000 to meet the costs of the first phase of construction in the remodeling and renovation of the food service facilities at the state reformatory. The amount would add to $84,000 already allocated to meet a project cost of $100,000. Bids for the project were opened last December, but the approval was not forthcoming because the building commission had not held a working Historical society for several years, but its completion depends on the availability of the first bids were approved.

Neenah Man Faces Trial For Drug Sale

Police Charge Marijuana Was Sold to Informer

An April 21 jury trial was set Tuesday for a 27-year-old Neenah man accused of selling marijuana to an Appleton Police Department informer Feb. 12.

Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer directed the entry of an innocent plea for David Dethardt, 221 Tyler St. Bond of $1,500 was continued.

Dethardt was bound over Tuesday morning after a preliminary hearing before County Judge Gustave J. Keller. Keller ordered further proceedings in the case before Schaefer.

The informer testified Tuesday morning that Dethardt gave him a package of marijuana in an Appleton apartment on the afternoon of Feb. 12. Dethardt, the informer said, left the apartment temporarily after he (the informant) gave him $5 for the drug purchase. He gave him the substance in a bathroom when he returned, the informer said.

An Appleton detective, the only other state's witness, testified a previous arrangement had been worked out for the informer to attempt a drug purchase from Dethardt. The detective testified he earlier had given the informer $5 to make the buy from Dethardt.

Early Feb. 13, the detective testified, the informer turned over the substance to him in the Courthouse parking lot. A test at the police station revealed that the substance was marijuana, he said. A subsequent test at the State Crime Laboratory also showed the presence of marijuana, Tuesday's hearing revealed.

High Cliff Park Plans Announced

SHERWOOD — Snowmobiling has been popular at High Cliff State Park this winter but soon will give way to more fair weather activities.

Beginning April 1, entry fees again will be required to visit the park, according to Manager Jon Warren.

He also announced that construction has begun on the new $52,706 service building at the upper level of the park.

The 40 by 112-foot steel structure will be used for vehicle storage and as a maintenance shop, but will include a staff lunchroom and locker room. It is to be completed by July 1.

Glover Steel Buildings has the building contract for $41,211. Karls Corp., Stockbridge, will do the plumbing for $5,000, and M & S Electrical, Appleton, will do the electrical work for $4,800.

Sticker rates remain the same as last year, Warren said, $3 for the season and $1 daily. Camping fees will be $2.25.

The Department of Natural Resources has proposed a reduction from 30 cents to 20 cents a night for juvenile group tent camping, but this has not been passed. If approved, the manager said, it would take effect May 1.

Warren said there were 8,700 snowmobiles using the park from December through January, and predicts that the total will reach 10,000 before the season ends.

There were 2,700 machines in December, 3,600 in January and 2,400 in February, he revealed.

Less than 100 of these were from out of state, he added. The trails, maintained by the park staff all winter, have had extensive use, Warren pointed out, adding that about half the snowmobiling is cross-country.

Only one accident was reported during the season. That was Sunday when a rider suffered a broken leg when he crashed into a tree. Also Sunday, a rural Menasha woman is reported to have jumped clear of the snowmobile she was riding when the throttle jammed, and the driverless machine took off down the road, crashing into pilings at the marina, causing extensive damage to the snowmobile.

Signs will be posted, when due to the weather, the sport is no longer permitted in the park — until next winter.

K-C Finance Corp. to Offer $20 Million in 15-Year Debentures

NEENAH — Guy M. Minard, chairman of Kimberly-Clark Corp., announced Tuesday that Kimberly-Clark International Finance Corp. N. V. proposes to offer in early April, 1971, $20 million of 15-year debentures which will be guaranteed by Kimberly-Clark Corp.

The offering will be made outside the United States through an international group of underwriters headed by Morgan & Cie International S. A., Paris.

Kimberly-Clark International Finance Corp. N. V. was formed recently to assist in financing the operation of Kimberly-Clark, its subsidiaries and associated companies within the limitations imposed by the U.S. government's mandatory program of restraints on direct foreign investment by U. S. corporations. Kimberly-Clark International Finance Corp. N. V. will obtain the funds needed for such financing outside the United States.

Plywood Clinic Set at Waupaca, Kaukauna

The second plywood clinic, sponsored by the American Plywood Association and the Fox Valley Technical Institute (FVTI), will be held at 7 p.m. Monday at Waupaca High School and 7 p.m. Tuesday at FVTI in Kaukauna.

Walter A. Papenfus of the field services division of the plywood association will conduct the clinic and lead discussion on common fallacies of plywood, reasons for industry changes, grades and types, selection and uses, structural and industrial applications and advantages and properties.

Further information is available from Richard Schmidt at FVTI in Neenah.

Refused to enter a plea for his client, citing a discrepancy in dates on the original complaint and on information filed with Schaefer Tuesday before he set the date for trial.

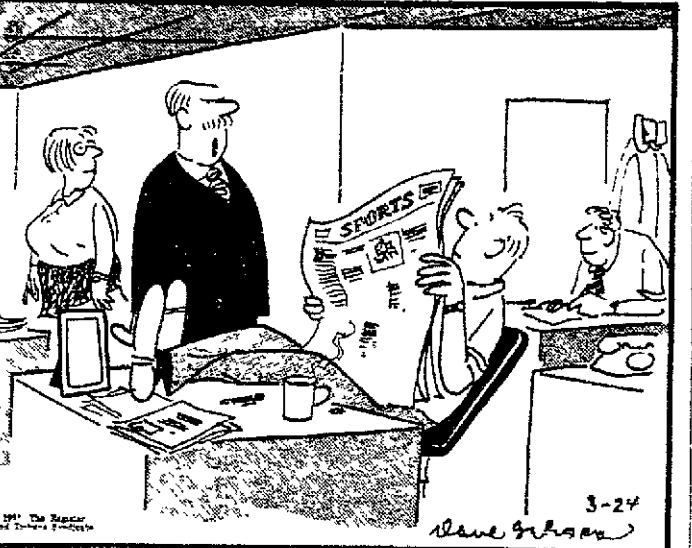

Penalty for the felony offense can carry up to five years' imprisonment.

Want to Compare What You Paid in '39 and '71?

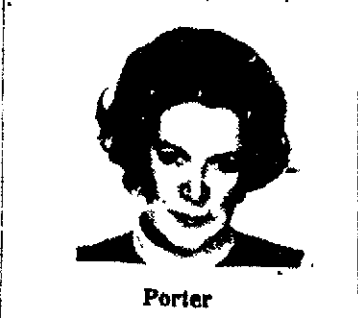

BY SYLVIA PORTER

When the U.S. Government admits this week that the $1 which bought 100 cents of typical goods and services for a city family in 1939 buys less than 35 cents worth of similar goods and services in 1971, you will surely be disturbed and perhaps frightened.

But this is still only a statistical comparison. You don't buy food with a "35-cent dollar." Nor do you pay rent with a Consumer Price Index figure.

When, however, I tell you that paying rent is in the realm of the real-life. Just this single comparison dramatizes the depreciation in the dollar's purchasing power in this span leaps out.

So does the comment that the 5-cent hording of '39 is 30 cents today; the 20-cent movie is $1.50 today; the 10-cent magazine is $2.00; the 45-cent dinner is $2.00; the 10-cent wristwatch repair is also $2.00.

Porter

From these figures, at least three points emerge:
Some Spiraled Faster
(1) Startling though the upsurge in the CPI figures is, it obscures the fact that the prices of many goods and services we need, want and regularly consume have spiraled up much faster.

One New Yorker who kept a penny-by-penny daily diary of his living expenses when he was a bachelor in 1939 insists that every index figure is "all wet." (You'll find some of his diary items below.)
(2) While I assume you are aware that increases in the costs of services in recent years have been outpacing price increases in other areas, you must not underestimate the degree to which this is so. Again, the New Yorker's diary will document this point.
(3) It's downright neurotic to continue to refer so constantly to 1939's prices — the last year in a decade of world depression and plunging prices, the threshold of a global, wildly inflationary war. That was not only another era. It was another world.

But since we are in a cycle of nostalgia, I'll make my contribution via excerpts from the New Yorker's diary "then" against a comparable "now."

Item, Then Now
Subway-bus fare 5 cents — 30 cents
Coca Cola (6 oz.) 5 cents — 10 cents
Cigarettes 16 cents — 55-60 cents
Candy bar 5 cents — 10-12 cents
Haircut 50 cents — $2.00

Oil Executive Says Cars Get Lower Mileage

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Auto manufacturers are putting bigger gas tanks in some new cars to hide the higher gasoline consumption of their anti-smog engine designs, a California oil executive says.

H. O. Stevenson, vice president of Beacon Oil Co., made the charge at a legislative hearing Thursday on a proposal to ban lead compounds from gasoline.

"We think it wrong when Detroit reduces the compression ratio on cars so they then run on lower octane gasoline, because this makes the engine less efficient and it will take 6 to 11 per cent more gasoline to go the same distance," he said.

"The public might not notice this," Stevenson added. "They may find themselves going just as far on a tankful of gasoline, simply because some of the tanks are being made larger."

Phone call 5 cents — 10 cents
Scotch (fifth) $1.25 — $6.50
Wine (bottle) 30 cents — 45 cents
Bet with friend 5 cents — 25 cents

P.S.: one item which has not budged since 1898 in the New York area has been the 5 cent ferryboat ride between Staten Island and the tip of Manhattan.

But just last week his honor, the mayor, John Lindsay, tackled that sacred relic and proposed boosting the fare all the way to 25 cents. Which would leave unchanged on the New Yorker's list only one item: the penny weighing machine.

County Seeks Methods to Recoup Funds

Family Support, Indigent Counsel, Postmortems Eyed

The Outagamie County Board's Finance Committee met Monday with several county officials in an attempt to determine if there was any way of getting back more public funds spent on family support, indigent counsel and postmortem examinations.

Dist. Atty. James R. Long told the committee that his office, in the past 2 1/2 years, has collected $120,777 in delinquent support money which was turned over to the clerk of courts' office. The money came from men against whom criminal charges were brought for failing to support their families.

The family court commissioner's office and the county welfare department also collected delinquent support money from men against whom criminal charges have not been filed.

Acting Director William Pfirang and Deputy Director Ray Kaskey of the Outagamie County Department of Social Services were asked by the committee to compile figures on the status of support money outstanding and collected throughout their agency. Kaskey said that since they were not told why they were asked to attend the meeting, they had not prepared a report.

Kaskey also cautioned the committee that there was some information regarding the delinquent support cases that he could not legally release because of its confidential nature.

Kaskey explained that his agency deals only with the support cases involving the payment of welfare funds to dependent families. That amount, he said, has accrued to $256,000, about $22,000 higher than at the end of 1970. The total will continue to grow, Kaskey said, because "there is a certain amount of these clowns that will never pay, no matter how many judges or district attorneys we have."

Even though the husbands do not make their support payments, their arrearages must continue to be recorded, Kaskey said. He said his office has gotten "good cooperation" from her county agencies in attempts to collect support money. "It appears there is no way of catching up," Supv. Marvin Babbitt of Seymour remarked after hearing from Long, Kaskey and Pfirang on the back support payments.

The picture looked brighter for collecting fees paid to attorneys appointed by judges to represent criminal defendants who cannot afford legal counsel.

But the committee was given conflicting reports on how much reimbursement the county obtained from defendants on whom public funds were spent in court.

Long, who explained that a defendant is entitled to an attorney if conviction on his charge carries a jail term of six months or more, said his office entered 64 civil judgments in 1970 which resulted in the collection of $6,797 from persons who had court-appointed attorneys.

Long said the collection job should be done by the corporation counsel.

Long's collection figure was verified by Supv. Paul Huseby, chairman of the board's courts and justice committee. He said Long's office started collecting reimbursement on indigent payments through civil actions last August.

Before that, Huseby explained, letters were sent requesting reimbursement, but the system was ineffective. Huseby said his committee Wednesday night will consider Long's suggestion that two attorneys be hired as indigent counsel.

County Administrator Alvin Woehler, who is opposing Long for the county executive job, challenged Long's and Huseby's reimbursement figures. He said the district attorney's office was responsible for collecting only $3,000 last year. After the meeting, Huseby accompanied Woehler to the administrator's office to review indigent counsel cost reports.

Coroner Bernard H. Kemps said that based on a 1969 opinion from the state attorney general's office, the county cannot collect on payments it made for pathological examinations ordered by the coroner's office. Besides, Kemps said, "It's a public service we have to render."

There were 36 postmortem examinations through the coroner's office last year, Kemps said. The county was billed for 14 costing a total of $2,100. Most of the rest were paid for by the dead person's survivors.

The examinations can be vital to investigations through the coroner's office and law enforcement agencies, Kemps told the committee. They have figured in criminal prosecutions, discovering deadly, contagious diseases, and benefits paid by insurance companies, Kemps said.

Wisconsin Gov. Patrick J. Lucey Tuesday called for an intensive two-year study of thermal pollution and its effects on Lake Michigan along with an investigation on how cooling power plant effluent affects animal and plant life in the lake.

Lucey told members of the Lake Michigan Pollution Enforcement Conference meeting in Chicago that midwestern states could not afford to gamble with the future of Lake Michigan. He suggested that the studies be conducted under the guidance of the federal Environmental Protection Agency.

He also said that all new and existing electric power plants should be required to construct cooling facilities by early 1973.

Similar Recommendation The head of the EPA also recommended that any new power plants, including those under construction, should be required to have closed cycle cooling systems.

OSHKOSH — Advance tickets for Wisconsin's 29th annual Spring Safety Conference and Exposition are available from John Planalp, Associated Industries, Oshkosh.

The conference will be April 13 and 14 at the Pfister Hotel and Tower in Milwaukee. Approximately 1,000 people are expected.

Sessions are scheduled on occupational, highway fire, home and public safety and occupational health.

Rufus K. Schriber Jr. of Morgan Co., Oshkosh, is conference president. L. F. Heruth of Leach Co., and president of the Oshkosh Industrial Safety Council, also will be on the program.

Two Shiocton Men Get Fines of $100 For Disorderly Conduct

Two Shiocton men were fined $100 and costs Tuesday on amended disorderly conduct charges to which they pleaded guilty.

Outagamie County Judge Nick P. Schaefer imposed the fines on Rudy Juarez, 26, and Jesse Torres, 23. The pair originally had been charged with battery.

Charges were lodged against them on the signed complaint of Joe Israel Acevedo of Bear Creek.

Acevedo said the night of March 6 at Don's Welcome Inn in the village, the men knocked him off a barstool, struck him over the head with a bottle, then hit him with pool cues while he was lying on the floor. Acevedo said the head wound he suffered in the disturbance required four stitches.

KAUKAUNA — Programming of eighth graders who will attend Kaukauna High School next fall began today and will continue through Thursday, according to Guidance Director Fred Barribeau.

Students attending Sacred Heart, St. Francis or Holy Angels schools in outlying areas met today at their schools with guidance counselors from the students to the conferences and high school. Eighth graders students are to bring completed from city elementary schools entrance questionnaires.

Six State Highway Projects Cut by Loss of Federal Funds

MADISON (AP) — The state makers are not due to receive Division of Highways received bids for 20 road improvement projects. Projects jerked from the let-and maintenance jobs Tuesday, but had to withdraw six other projects for which offers were sought.

The loss of the six jobs came when Highway Commission Chairman William Redmond interrupted the bid readings to report the loss of federal money.

Word from Washington Redmond informed the hundreds participating in the letting, said U.S. funds had been withdrawn from jobs planned with federal help.

Only minutes before Gov. Patrick J. Lucey had received word of the effects of federal suspension of the Davis-Bacon provisions for labor rates. "President Nixon had ordered the move as an anti-inflationary measure and Lucey had asked and received a report on the effects on Wisconsin road work."

Highway officials said the jobs withdrawn would be of-fered again at the scheduled time. A patrolman found the April 13 bid lettings. But at this car on the snowbank on S. time the status of the proposed Gladys Street near Park Hills jobs is cloudy.

The legislature is now in recess and any action to cope with the new federal standards parked in front of the Van could be delayed because law.

Legislators Listen to Welfare Hike Plea

MADISON — "We may be speaking more politely, but we are speaking more forcefully," Stuart B. Crawford of Madison, told the Legislature's Joint Finance Committee as he advised members to hear out the testi-mony of persons appearing on the proposed welfare budget.

Crawford, speaking as a rep-resentative of the Public Assis-tance Coalition, an ad hoc group formed of statewide welfare, religious and civic organizations interested in improving the state's participation in public assistance programs, suggested that testimony on the Depart-ment of Health and Social Services budget would be better heard at length in committee, than in an atmosphere of hos-tility on the legislative floor as happened during the 1969 ses-sion.

"In the absence of hearing us," he said, "you may get your vision," he said, referring to the takeover of the state As-sembly during the last session when a vote was scheduled on the welfare programs.

Whether as an intentional strategy or simply a matter of happenstance, the committee decided to devote the Tuesday hearing to public testimony about the budget and postpone testimony by Wilbur Schmidt, secretary of the department and other departmental representa-tives until April 5.

Crawford told the committee his group was formed to devel-op a single strong voice to represent interests that favor increases in public assistance programs after the legislature made cuts in the programs in 1969.

The governor, in reviewing the Health and Social Services budget, has recommended that Aid to Families with Dependent Children be raised from the present 82 per cent of need to 90.

Appleton Man Suffers Head, Face Cuts as Van Truck Rolls Over

DALE — A young Appleton man sustained head and face cuts about 9:15 a.m. today when the van truck he was driving went out of control on U. S. 10 about two miles west of here and rolled over at least twice.

Outagamie County traffic of-ficers said Steven R. Schmieder, 22, 603 N. Summit St., was westbound on 10 when he attempted to pass a truck, hit the shoulder and rolled over. Police said the van sheared off a utility pole before coming to rest on its top.

Schmieder was taken by Larry's Ambulance to Appleton Memorial Hospital where doctors are conducting tests. The accident occurred near Shaky Lake Road.

Ruckelshaus said "The various sport fisheries prospective waste heat load grams are all dependent upon the preservation of high quality lake waters."

Waste Heat Regulation The EPA also submitted to the conference recommenda-tions for the proposed regu-lations covering all waste heat discharges into the lake.

The four states bordering the lake are Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin.

In another area of pollution control concerning the nuclear power plants, it was announced that the Point Beach plant near Two Rivers will have additional radioactivity control equipment installed this year.

Gary Frieling, the radiochem-ical engineer at the plant, said Tuesday that a device would be installed that would strip out the radioactive gases of Xenon and Krypton at an earlier stage in the generating process than the gases now being removed. Then they would be separated from other non-radioactive gases, and sent to storage cham-bers until they have lost some of their radioactivity. The gas then would be released to the atmosphere gradually under controlled conditions.

The Joint Finance Committee was cool to the testimony that called for increases in public assistance payments.

Sen. Jack Steinhilber, R-Oshkosh, said that the definition of need seemed excessive. "I be-lieve needs go way beyond needs to wants," he said and reported that a lot of my constituents, who live next to welfare recipients think they live too well.

Sen. Nile Soil R-Whitefish Bay asked if welfare aids would provide for the replacement of a tube "when the color tv goes blooey" and was told that the television would not be repaired at public expense.

Sen. James Swan, R-Elkhorn, compared the state's paying 100 per cent of need with paying "a man who's sitting on his seat" the same as a man who works for a living.

Robert Durkin, an official in the Milwaukee County Labor Council, said his group endorses the governor's proposals as realistic. He said that the

The EPA administrator said, "The ultimate success of the United States-Canadian sea-lamprey control program, the plants planned or under construction will almost double state and federal lake trout present capacity within a few years." Ruckelshaus said "The various sport fisheries prospective waste heat load grams are all dependent upon the preservation of high quality lake waters."

Waste Heat Regulation The EPA also submitted to the conference recommenda-tions for the proposed regu-lations covering all waste heat discharges into the lake.

The four states bordering the lake are Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin.

In another area of pollution control concerning the nuclear power plants, it was announced that the Point Beach plant near Two Rivers will have additional radioactivity control equipment installed this year.

Gary Frieling, the radiochem-ical engineer at the plant, said Tuesday that a device would be installed that would strip out the radioactive gases of Xenon and Krypton at an earlier stage in the generating process than the gases now being removed. Then they would be separated from other non-radioactive gases, and sent to storage cham-bers until they have lost some of their radioactivity. The gas then would be released to the atmosphere gradually under controlled conditions.

He spoke to a University of Wisconsin Extension course on environmental problems at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee.

There are, furthermore, signs of change in the structure of the residential housing construction industry which may render it a more powerful force in seeking governmental assistance to housing," the report said, noting that larger firms and some public corporations have shown interest in housing developments and have begun to enter the housing market.

Shiocton Man Takes Own Life

SHIOCTON — A 60-year-old Shiocton truck driver took his own life Tuesday, an investigation by Deputy Coroner C. J. Schink disclosed.

Schink made the ruling in the death of Howard W. Fields, Box 103 Fields, a widower who lived alone, had been dead six or seven hours when found, Schink said.

Fields was a truck driver for the Greenville Cooperative. He was discovered about noon Tuesday by a relative.

Tietse's Disease Can Cause Lots of Pain

BY G. C. Thosteson, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I've been in pain for eight months with what my doctor called "Tietse's disease." That's the way it sounds.

I understood it to be a sprain of my ribs and breastbone, and he said it would be all right in six weeks. — But eight months later it still hurts.

Shouldn't it have healed by now? What causes it? What can I do to ease the pain or prevent it? Honestly, will it ever go away?—B.A.

It's called Tietse's disease — pronounced just the way you wrote it. It is a painful swelling, usually where the second rib attaches to the breast bone. It's painful — it hurts to breathe or wear a bra. It usually occurs in women in the 40-to-40 age bracket.

It is not cancerous, it is not an arm of arthritis, and your doctor's forecast that it probably would be all right in six weeks was reasonable. It quite commonly works out that way. But not always — as you found out.

Injection of a steroid (cortisone-type) material into the area usually affords relief. (A tip, heat, however, usually aggravates the pain.)

Meantime an interesting observation has been made by a physician who kept track of patients with Tietse's disease. He noticed that five of them had one leg shorter than the other. The lump associated with the disease usually occurs on the left side; with these cases, the right leg was a bit shorter. While the cause of the disease has not been definitely determined, it seems likely that this observation might be an enlightening clue.

Anyway, after noticing that seeming connection between the disease and a small difference in leg length, the doctor advised his patients to have a lift of three-sixteenths to one-quarter of an inch on the shoe, to equalize. It would seem to make sense, and you might well try it. Meantime, also watch out for high heels which could throw you out of balance.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: When a young woman has intercourse and takes no precautions, the result is a baby. What happens to a woman past menopause? Is the sperm absorbed? Will there be ill effects if she doesn't always douche?—A.S.

Correction: The result may be a baby. But only one of the millions of sperm cells is involved in the pregnancy. The rest drain away harmlessly.

After menopause, douching is not necessary, and not even advisable. The sperm drains away just as most of it (all but an occasional single cell) drains away before menopause, too. And without harm.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am past 70 and have a mole on my side about the size of a dime. It started to itch and during the

LEGAL NOTICES

FINAL RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING SANITARY SEWER IMPROVEMENTS AND LEVYING SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS AGAINST BENEFITED PROPERTY

WHEREAS, the Town Board of the Town of Grand Chute, Outagamie County, Wisconsin, held a public hearing at the Grand Chute Town Hall at 8:00 P.M. on the 14th day of January, 1971 for the purpose of hearing all interested persons concerning the preliminary resolution and report of the Town Engineers on the proposed improvement and construction of sanitary sewers on streets as shown on the attached map.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, by the Town Board of the Town of Grand Chute, as follows:

1. That the report of the Town Engineers pertaining to the construction of the above described public improvements, including plans and specifications, as modified, is hereby adopted and approved.
2. That the Town Board has advertised for bids and is carrying out the work of such improvement in accordance with the report of the Town Engineers.
3. That payment for said improvements be made by assessing a part of the cost to the property benefited as indicated in said report and assessment book at $22.50 per front foot.
4. That benefits and damages shown on the report, as modified, have been determined on a reasonable basis and are true and correct and are hereby confirmed.
5. That the assessments for all projects included in said report are hereby combined as a single assessment but any interested property owner shall be entitled to object to each assessment separately or both assessments jointly for any purpose or purposes.
6. That the assessments may be paid in cash or in five annual installments to the Town Clerk, deferred payments to bear interest at the rate of 6% per annum on the unpaid balance. Installments or assessments not paid when due shall bear additional interest on the amount due at the rate of 6% per annum.
7. That the Town Clerk is directed to publish the resolution in the official newspaper in circulation in the Town of Grand Chute as a class 1 notice.
8. That the Clerk is further directed to mail a copy of this resolution to every property owner whose name appears on the assessment roll whose post office address is known or can with reasonable diligence be ascertained.

Death Toll From Avalanche Drops

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Officials have lowered to 256 the number of persons believed dead or missing in an Andean avalanche mountain mining camp.

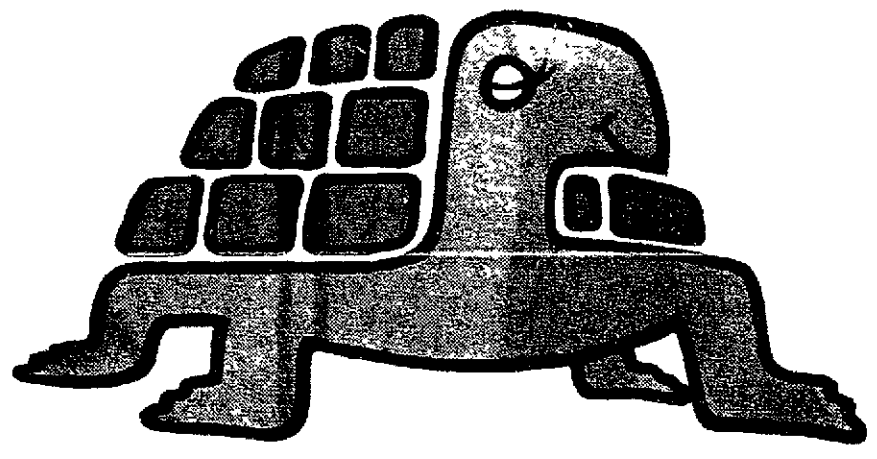

Mining company officials also said Sunday they have cut off the source of Lake Yanahuarina, into which the landslide fell Thursday, sending a wall of water over the camp at Chungar, Peru.

Geologists had warned that another section of Pajanca, the peak above Chungar, could tumble into the lake at any moment.

Interior Minister Armando Artola said sufficient aid had been sent to the stricken area, 80 miles northeast of Lima.

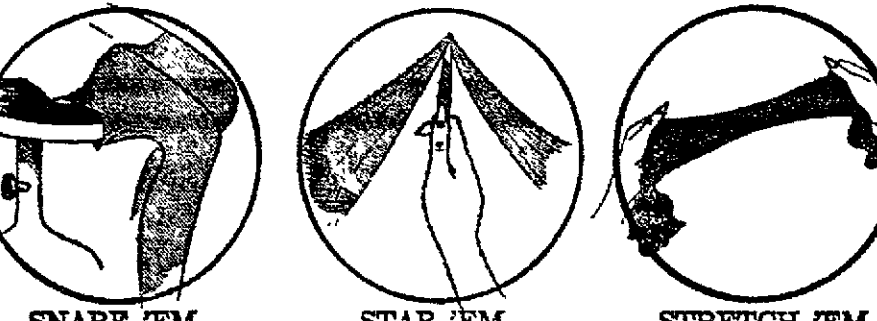

"The number of victims is not as high as had been supposed," Artola said. Earlier estimates placed the death toll between 400 and 600.

SHOP THURSDAY AND FRIDAY 9:30 A.M. to 9 P.M.

Those With Slimmer figures in mind can feast on this flavorful salad called Dieter's Dinner Salad. It's low in calorie count, high in appetite appeal and nutrition. The taste of honey in the do-it-yourself dressing blends well with crisp apple, green beans and cooked chicken bits which form the salad base with lettuce.

SALADS TO SLIM

Lillian Mackesy

The time has come to slim down or trim the figure for a spring and summer appearance. The question of mini-versus-midi notwithstanding, vacation days are ahead, pant suits are in style and even the male has gone colorful. This is the year the whole family has to become figure conscious or else become forlorn.

Take the salad way out for quick success. In spite of the current price of lettuce, a head of Western iceberg lettuce can go a long, long way if combined with other nourishing yet low calorie foods. The secret, of course, is to keep the salad meals high in food value, using the rich dressings sparingly, or even concocting low calorie ones on your own.

For the ultimate in crisp salads (always a rule to follow faithfully) take that extra minute just after marketing to prepare and stash away the iceberg lettuce. Make every leaf count. Give the head a good whack on the counter, core side down. Then twist or lift the core out with your fingers. Hold the head, its core end up, under cold, running water. Then put lettuce, core end down in a colander to drain thoroughly. Store in the refrigerator in tightly sealed plastic bag or lettuce crisper.

That's when the head of lettuce will seem "field-fresh," when it's use will be good to its very last leaf. To help keep it crisp, chill salad bowls and forks before using. Another rule: Never add dressing or salt to a salad until just before serving time.

Here are a few ideas of salads that make a meal and their dressings.

- DINNER SALAD
- 1 head Western iceberg lettuce
  - 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
  - 1/2 cup lemon juice
  - 1/4 cup corn oil
  - 1 tablespoon honey

- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon celery seed
- 1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
- 3 dashes Tabasco Sauce
- 1 can (1 lb.) cut green beans
- 1 red apple
- 2 cups cubed cooked chicken

Core, rinse and thoroughly drain lettuce. Refrigerate in disposable plastic bag or plastic crisper.

In jar with cover, combine lemon rind and juice, corn oil, honey, salt, celery seed, garlic powder and Tabasco; shake to blend. Chill.

Just before serving, cut lettuce into crosswise slices, then cut each slice lengthwise and crosswise into bite-size chunks; place on serving platter or in individual salad bowls.

Drain beans. Quarter and core apple; slice thin and sprinkle with lemon juice if you wish. Arrange beans, apple and chicken on lettuce. Pass dressing.

- CITRUS SALAD
- 1 head Western iceberg lettuce
  - 3 large oranges
  - 2 ripe pears
  - 1 medium Spanish sweet onion, sliced
- Core, rinse and thoroughly drain lettuce. Refrigerate. At serving time, separate four outer lettuce leaves and line platter. Shred remaining lettuce and arrange in center.

Peel and slice oranges cartwheel style. Core and cut pears into thin wedges. Separate onion into rings. Arrange fruit and onion rings over lettuce. Serve salad with a choice of dressings; Honey-Celery Seed or Slimmer's Blue Cheese. Recipe makes four servings.

- HONEY-CELERY SEED DRESSING
- 1/2 cup real mayonnaise
  - 1/4 cup honey
  - 1 tablespoon lemon juice
  - 1/2 teaspoon celery seed
  - 1/4 teaspoon paprika
- Combine mayonnaise, honey, lemon juice, celery seed and paprika. Mix well and chill. (For fewer calories, substitute 1/2 cup buttermilk for mayonnaise.)

- BLUE CHEESE DRESSING
- 1/4 cup cold water
  - 1/2 cup instant nonfat dry milk
  - 1-1/2 cups small curd low-cal cottage cheese
  - 1/2 cup crumbled blue cheese
  - 3 tablespoons lemon juice
  - 1/4 teaspoon onion salt
  - 1/4 teaspoon garlic salt
- Combine ingredients in electric blender; whirl in stop-and-go fashion until blended and fairly smooth. Cover and chill. Alternate method: sprinkle milk powder over water; beat until soft peaks form. Add 2 tablespoons lemon juice and beat until stiff. Mix in one tablespoon lemon juice, the cheeses and seasonings.

- BERRY ROLL-UPS
- Strawberries, unsweetened
Creamed cottage cheese
Minced watercress
Iceberg lettuce, outer leaves

Slice berries; combine with cottage cheese and minced watercress. On large lettuce leaf, place several spoonfuls of mixture. Roll up; place seam side down on serving plate. Garnish with one large strawberry and watercress.

- EGG SALAD ESPANOL
- Green olives, stuffed Eggs, hard-cooked, chopped
Chili powder
Low-cal mayonnaise
Iceberg lettuce
Garnish

Chop olives; combine with eggs, mayonnaise and chili powder. Prepare "rafts" (four to six cross-wise slices of lettuce) from head already refrigerated and cooled. Serve egg salad mixture on lettuce slices. Garnish with whole olive and parsley sprig, if desired.

- BACON-TOMATO SALAD-WICH
- Iceberg lettuce
Tomato slices
Strips cooked bacon
Sweet pickle slices
Salt, pepper

Choose large lettuce leaf; place on individual serving plate. Arrange tomato slice and bacon strips on lettuce. Top with another lettuce leaf and pickle slices.

Salad-wiches are their name, using Western iceberg lettuce as an excellent substitute for bread. Here are Barry Roll-Ups, left, Bacon and Tomato Salad-Wich, center back, and Egg Salad-Wich, right.

Smart Shopper's Recipe for Week

Potatoes, pork and canned corn are among the plentiful foods in this week's recipe. It's a familiar midwestern dish, easy to prepare and using ordinary foods.

The recipe also calls for Wisconsin's product, cheddar cheese. The rosemary may be skipped if there's none on hand, but it does give a flavor lift to the dish that belongs to the old farm "receipts" that once made the state's pioneer women such good cooks. Of course, in the early days, such things as rosemary and sage were plucked from the ever present herb garden and the parsley bed that often grew in profusion along with mint, tansy and penny royal.

Today the corn comes in cans, as often do the potatoes (many are on sale these days in the two-for and four-for a price). Here is the recipe that still is robust and flavorful.

- MIDWEST CORN CHOWDER
- 1/2 cup diced salt pork or bacon
  - 1/2 cup chopped onion
  - 2 cups cubed potatoes
  - 2 cups boiling water
  - 2 cans cream-style corn (1-pound size)
  - 1 quart milk
  - 2 teaspoons salt
  - 1/4 teaspoon pepper
  - 1/4 teaspoon leaf rosemary, crumbled
  - 1/4 cup pimiento, diced
  - 1/4 cup shredded cheddar cheese
  - 2 tablespoons minced parsley

Cook bacon or salt pork in skillet or dutch oven over medium heat until browned; remove cooked pork; saute onion in fat until brown, then drain off fat. Add potatoes, water to simmer about 20 minutes, using larger pan if needed. Add corn, milk, salt, pepper, rosemary, pimiento and reserved pork. Heat, stirring constantly. Add cheese and cook over low heat until cheese melts. Add minced parsley. Serve hot.

Eggs Supply Nutrients

A glimpse at the nutritional value of eggs, an important food in any family's diet, has been provided by Mrs. Mary Heister, extension home economist for Fond du Lac County.

Eggs, she says, are especially noted for their protein content with one supplying six to seven grams of high-quality protein. (High quality means that the protein contains all of the amino acids required for growth and maintenance of body tissues.) Two eggs contain the same amount of protein as a two-ounce pork chop.

The mineral content of one egg is about one milligram of iron, almost one-tenth of the recommended daily allowance of iron for women and more than one-tenth of the allowance for men. Phosphorus and calcium, she continues, are also represented in the mineral nutrients.

About 500 international units of vitamin A, a little more than one-tenth of the recommended daily allowance for adults, is found in one egg.

Mrs. Heister also says that eggs are a fair source of thiamine and each supplies about one-tenth of the riboflavin recommended for adults.

One of the few foods that contain vitamin D, an egg supplies 50 international units of this vitamin.

In addition to their nutrient value, she says, eggs are versatile foods that can be prepared in numerous ways for any meal. And they are relatively low in calorie value — about 80 calories to a large egg. Nutritionists usually suggest that a diet include from four to seven per week

'Quest for Knowledge' April 23 Seminar Theme

NEW HOLSTEIN — The sixth annual "Quest for Knowledge" program is scheduled for April 23 at the New Holstein Grade School. The event is being sponsored by the University of Wisconsin Extension in cooperation with the Calumet County Home-maker's Council.

"Quest for Knowledge" is a one-day session designed to give the women of Calumet County an opportunity for intellectual stimulation and the exploration of new interests enabling them to meet the challenges and responsibilities of today's society.

Keynote speaker will be Mrs. Marge Engleman, assistant for Returning Adults at the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay, whose topic will be "From Adam's Rib to Women's Lib," a lighthearted decision on the importance of involvement by today's woman.

Other speakers will include Charlotte Dunn, University

Extension nutrition specialist at the University of Wisconsin-Madison (UW-M) whose topic is "Calorie Countdown." "This and That" is the title topic of Mrs. Sue Bowton of the Dale Carnegie Institute whose emphasis will center on the art of remembering. Mrs. Norma

Nesbitt, clinical instructor in the School of Social Work at UW-M will speak on "Joy."

Afternoon sessions will feature Paul Nyhof, Examiner of District 2 with "Highway Safety" and Mrs. Valerie Sitter's presentation, "Communism, It's What's Happening, Baby!" Gerald Eastwood, resident inspector for the Food and Drug Administration of Green Bay will explain food packaging and labeling.

Reservations for the all-day affair are due April 16. Registration will be from 8:15 to 9:15 a.m. with a coffee and doughnut period. Mrs. Donna

Hedrich, vice-president of the Calumet County Homemakers and the New Holstein Chamber of Commerce, will give the welcoming address.

Highlighting the noon luncheon will be a fashion show courtesy of Pendl's Store, Chilton and Christel's of New Holstein.

The committee in charge of events includes Mrs. Rueben Koffarnus, Mrs. Irvin Kessler, Mrs. William Hedrich, Mrs. Gerald Schmitz, Mrs. James Weber, Mrs. Paul Ecker, Mrs. Don Sattler and Mrs. Marilyn Halverson, extension home economist.

Cans. Bad Guys or Good Guys?

A can is a nice thing when you want a soda or a beer. But it doesn't do much for a landscape or a highway. We know that better than anyone because we make cans. So here's the story. Both sides.

Cans are bad guys.

Cans are all over the streets and highways. Cans cause litter.

Cans are bad guys.

Returnable bottles were better. Return to returnables.

Cans are bad guys.

You use them once and throw them away. They can't be recycled.

Cans are good guys.

Out of all the litter on the streets and highways, over 83% isn't cans.

Still, somebody has to do something. So we've been working with people who are developing a fantastic machine that can actually pick the litter off the roads. We call it the octopus.

One more thing about litter: Please don't. People litter. Not cans.

Cans are good guys.

The can is one of the safest, cleanest, cheapest containers ever invented. If we return to returnables, prices will go up. Because everything is set up for non-returnables, and it will cost money and jobs to change it.

Besides, people don't return returnables. That's why cans happened in the first place.

Cans are good guys.

We've already set up recycling centers for used cans. (All used cans. Steel and aluminum. Beer and soda and food.) More are coming. This costs us money, but it doesn't cost you anything. You bring us the cans and we'll recycle them.

We know it would be easier and better if all you had to do was throw your cans in a garbage pail. So we're supporting the development of automated machines that can pick cans out of the rest of the garbage. And we hope that eventually every can in every city will be recycled and used to make new cans. You won't see it tomorrow. But you will see it. We promise you that.

We have more to lose than you do.

The Can People

We care more than you do. We have to.

UW Releases Facts on Status of Women

The Post-Crescent C 2
Wednesday, March 24, 1971

MADISON — The first report on the status of women at the University of Wisconsin (UW) covering all campuses indicates that women are not distributed across the academic levels as are their male colleagues, and their mean average salaries — with few exceptions — are lower than the men's.

The study, prepared by the UW department of planning and analysis for the University Faculty Council, focuses primarily on departments and divisions concerned with instruction. The study was designed solely to gain reliable data on salaries and the distribution of women and not to explore the reasons for differences, the department reported.

Some Exceptions
The statistical summaries for each unit reveal that women's mean average salaries for academic positions in the university range from $6 to $5,180 lower than men's, with some exceptions.

At Madison, women who were instructors in the Library School, assistant professors in nursing, and an associate professor in the Graduate School averaged from $478 to $1,390 more than their male counterparts.

At Parkside, female instructors averaged $185 more than male.

In the Center System, a female associate professor earned $141 more than the average male associate professors.

In general, women are concentrated in the lower academic positions throughout the university, according to the study. On the Madison and Milwaukee campuses, the dollar differential between men and women is unfavorable to women, and increases as the academic level increases in both salary and prestige. Furthermore, there are no women full professors at the Green Bay Parkside, and Center System units, and the percentage of women in the professorial ranks consistently decreases as the rank increases at each unit except Parkside.

The percentages of women holding instruction-oriented appointments varies widely from unit to unit. Madison campus women hold 4.8 percent of the professorships, 6.8 percent of the associate professorships, 11.5 percent of the assistant professorships, and 50.5 percent of the instructor appointments. The figures represent 39 women professors, 23 associate professors, 60 assistant professors, and 36 instructors.

On the Milwaukee campus, the percentages of women are higher at the professorial ranks but lower at the instructor level. Women comprise 11.5 percent of the professors at UW-M, 14.5 percent of the associate professors, 19.4 percent of the assistant professors, and 32.4 percent of the instructors.

The percentages represent 18 women professors, 20 associate professors, 48 assistant professors, and 16 instructors.

At Green Bay, 11.5 percent of the associate professors, 14.2 percent of the assistant professors, and 10.6 percent of the instructors are women. The percentages represent two associate professors, 10 assistant professors, and five instructors.

The sample is smallest on the Parkside campus where women are distributed more or less uniformly in numbers across the academic levels. Two women are associate professors, two assistant professors, and three instructors. By percentage women make up 20.6 percent of the associate professors, 5.5 percent of the assistant professors, and 18.3 percent of the instructors.

In the Center System, one woman holds an associate professor appointment (6.2 percent of the total), 12 women are assistant professors (21.3 percent), and 18 are instructors (16.9 percent).

In University Extension, five professors (6.9 percent), 14 associate professors (14.4 percent), 32 assistant professors (16.5 percent), and 42 instructors (38.7 percent) are women.

A recent national study of public universities showed the percentage of women holding professional positions parallel the UW data. This study showed women holding 5.47 percent of the assistant professorships and 30.5 percent of the instructor positions.

Amy Admits To Facelift

NEW YORK — Amy Vanderbilt, the noted etiquette authority, today asserted facelifts "will be very common in the future" and disclosed she recently "had facial surgery involving my eyes and chin."

"Perhaps by writing frankly about my experience I can help dissolve the last traces of prejudice against cosmetic surgery," she stated in an article in the April issue of Ladies' Home Journal. "It (cosmetic surgery) can make an enormous difference in psychological outlook and thus social adjustment," Miss Vanderbilt said. It was an exhilarating experience "to wake up in the morning and see a face that has grown 15 years younger," she asserted.

Miss Vanderbilt stated in her Journal article, "The experience for me has been exciting, painless and enormously satisfying. I don't mind at all having told you about it."

Women's Day April 20 At Madison UW Campus

MADISON — Two area women, Mrs. W. A. Draheim, Neenah, and Mrs. Marcus Hobart, Waupaca, are among several serving as state hostesses for the 11th annual Women's Day April 20 at the Madison campus of the University of Wisconsin.

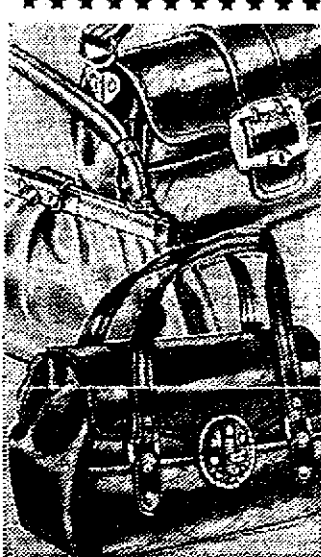

These women are providing information in their home communities to those who wish to know more about the program. Sponsored by the UW

Alumni Association for all state women, the day has been planned around the theme, "Searching for Solutions". Seminars on health care, ecology, audio research and rheology will be on the morning's agenda with music during the afternoon.

General chairman is Mrs. John P. Reynolds; program chairman, Mrs. Edwin Pick, and chairman of hostesses, Mrs. Robert S. Kurtenacker.

A Fresh Approach to Calorie Counting

Calorie counting was once a rigorous regime of nonsense foods that tasted as lean as they looked. Now, with lower calorie eating being recommended by nutritionists, we are using our imaginations to put together completely sophisticated dishes using none but the most wholesome and low calorie ingredients.

This luncheon souffle is a gift from the sea, one of the most beautiful examples of what can be done to satisfy the appetite for flavor and at the same time appease the dieter's conscience. Though it looks as rich as a French menu, this souffle actually has a low calorie count. It's a combination of ever-popular shrimp and such long-time calorie counters' standbys as yogurt and celery. The delicious fruity flavor comes from new calories reduced apricots packed in a low sugar syrup and pineapple slices packed in natural juice. The sum total of all these and the other ingredients is a mere 144 calories per serving, something the most stringent diet can include.

In keeping with the low calorie nature and elegant look of the main dish, the dessert is a slimmed down version of the famous Peach Melba. Calorie reduced peach halves and low sugar raspberry jam surround lemon sherbet. Considering how delectable a dessert it is, the 147 calories per serving sound appealingly low.

SEAFOOD FRUIT SOUFFLE

- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
- 1 can (16 oz.) calorie reduced apricots
- 1 can (15-1/2 oz.) unsweetened pineapple slices
- 1 cup plain yogurt
- 1/4 cup lemon juice
- 1 envelope dry chicken broth
- 1-1/2 cups diced cooked shrimp
- 1/2 cup minced celery
- 3 egg whites, softly beaten
- Salt to taste

Soak gelatin in juice drained from apricots. Put over low heat and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Stir in juice drained from pineapple. Add enough water to make 2-1/2 cups. Beat juices into yogurt. Stir in lemon juice and chicken broth. Chill until slightly thickened.

Dice fruit and fold into gelatin mixture. Fold in shrimp, celery and egg whites. Add salt to taste.

Pour mixture into one-quart souffle dish made higher with a 2-inch collar of aluminum foil. Chill until firm. Serve with lettuce leaves. Recipe makes eight servings. Calories per serving: 147.

LOW CALORIE SALAD DRESSING

- 2 teaspoons cornstarch
  - 1/2 cup orange juice
  - 1/2 cup lemon juice
  - 1 tablespoon oil
- Combine cornstarch, orange juice and lemon juice in saucepan. Stir while cooking over low heat until mixture smooth and thick. Beat in tablespoon oil; chill. There are 18 calories per tablespoon in this dressing; 180 calories in two-thirds cup of dressing.

PEACH MELBA

- 1 can (16 oz.) low calorie peach halves or slices, chilled
  - 1/2 cup low sugar imitation raspberry jam
  - 1 tablespoon lemon juice
  - 2 cups lemon sherbet
- Spoon peach halves or slices and their juice into sherbet glasses. Mix raspberry jam and lemon juice. Top peaches with a small scoop of lemon sherbet. Top with raspberry jam mixture. Serve at once. Calories per serving: 147. Recipe makes six servings.

Opening lead: King of clubs.

The bidding was fairly standard, with South showing a good hand and his exact distribution by his sequence of bids (he bid two suits and jumped in a third). North visualized a slam and, after checking on aces, designated trumps in the eight-card spade fit instead of the nine-card diamond fit.

Examine a contract of six diamonds. After East's lead of a club, declarer wins, and since he must take a heart finesse, success of the contract depends upon the winning play in diamonds.

If North plays for the drop or plans on finessing against East, he goes down. Only if he finesses against West will he make the slam. The chances are good that six diamonds would fail.

When this hand was played by Jacques Stetten, famous French international player, he played in six-spades from the South position and found a sure way to land the contract.

South won the opening lead with dummy's club ace and drew three rounds of trumps. Next the king of diamonds was played from dummy, followed by the jack.

Declarer's intentions were to finesse if East had followed, and West had won the queen, West would be left with only hearts and clubs and would be forced to lead a heart or to concede a ruff and discard.

When East failed to follow to the second diamond lead, South played the ace and another diamond to place West in the same predicament. West was forced to lead a heart for a free finesse or to lead clubs for a ruff and discard.

Well bid and well played by Jacques Stetten. Not only did the French paid play in the best contract, Stetten also found the line of play to assure success.

Perhaps She's Run Out of Get-Up-and-Go

By ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS I'm writing this to the 50-year-old widow who is desperate for someone to talk to. She said if she had to spend another Saturday evening alone she'd go out of her mind.

This dame sounds like a bore to me. I was disgusted with her letter. How in the world can a person be lonely when there are so many things that need doing? And why did she invite married couples to dinner when she is single? What fun could there be in that?

This woman needs to get off work. For nothing, if necessary. There isn't a hospital in this country that can't use help. Convalescent homes, homes for the aged, children's hospitals. She could read to the blind, assist with occupational therapy, be a Grey Lady — the list is endless. Surely she knows a younger woman with a family who would love a free sitter one day a week — or an evening. If Mrs. Lonely can type there are dozens of volunteer offices who would welcome her help. If she can't type she can velopes. I am in my mid-50's and also a widow but there aren't enough hours in the day for Landers me. Believe me I have no time to cook dinners for married couples. What that woman needs is some get-up-and-go. Tell her so, Ann — Fast Time Writer from St. Cloud.

Dear First: Of course you are right, but please don't be too harsh on the poor gal. Not everyone has your energy and outgoing personality. Maybe get "get-up-and-go" got up and went.

I agree. Busy people are happy people. Perhaps something in your letter will strike a responsive chord. I hope so.

DEAR ANN LANDERS I am engaged to a handsome young man who has many good qualities. Andy's display of temper last Sunday gave me some second thoughts. Here is what happened:

A former boyfriend whom I hadn't seen in three years dropped by at five o'clock. I had a date with Andy for six. He showed up 40 minutes early. I was sitting in the living room with my parents and the former boyfriend. I could see Andy was upset. He motioned for me to come into the kitchen. When he demanded that I tell the fellow to leave, I explained it would be rude and suggested that he soon the guest would leave on his own. Andy got red in the face and stormed out of the house. We heard a loud crash. He had driven his car into the garage door and then driven off.

My Dad suggested I write to Ann Landers and ask what my life will be like if I marry this guy — Ruth Who Wants Truth.

Dear Ruth: Probably a series of loud crashes. Insist that Andy get professional help and learn to channel his hostility. Or be prepared to live with broken furniture, broken garage doors and maybe broken bones.

DEAR ANN LANDERS Our daughter wants to announce her engagement to a fine young man who lives in a far-distant city. They met in college.

A point of etiquette, please. Should we contact the young man's parents or wait until they contact us? We want to do the proper thing and none of us knows what it is. Thank you — Confused.

Dear Con: According to "The Book," the parents of the young man should contact the parents of the young lady. This is merely a formality, however. Common sense takes precedence over any rule of etiquette. Telephone the parents of your future son-in-law or write a letter saying you are pleased about the upcoming engagement, and invite them to your city.

How will you know when the real thing comes along? Ask Ann Landers. Send for her booklet, "Love or Sex and How to Tell the Difference." Send 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Children's Rights, Needs Topic of Green Bay Series

GREEN BAY — The second of four sessions entitled, "Your Children Their Needs, Problems and Rights," is scheduled at 8 p.m. Monday in Room 604 of the Green Bay City Hall. Mrs. Coleman Gertler of Milwaukee will discuss pre-natal and infant care.

The originator of the Operation Stork program in Milwaukee, Mrs. Gertler is chairman for the district. She has presented programs on the Milwaukee operation at the National Foundation March of Dimes Learning Institute in San Diego, and was a delegate to the White House Conference on Children.

Session three, to be in April will deal with health aspects which will be discussed by a panel of doctors.

Legal rights of children including a discussion of child abuse will be the topic in May.

Open to the public, the series is free.

Keep food fresh in Totem® food storage bags

The clear, strong ones that open up big and fast!

You'll really like the way Totem food storage bags keep meat, vegetables, fruit, cheese and leftovers good and fresh! The slim, compact box is smaller than ordinary bag boxes—makes it the same number of bags—makes it easier to store. And Totem Bags come out one at a time. Nice and easy? You bet your busy life they are!

WINE On the Table

By William Clifford

America's most popular imported wine has a new baby brother. His name is Lancers Vinho Branco.

That's a Portuguese name meaning white (branco) wine (vinho).

The familiar Lancers rose is known for its ability to complement any food, its slight tingle on the tongue, and its attractive brown crock-like bottle. The new white Lancers comes in a green twin of the brown crock. It tingles. It has a nice fruity taste, faintly suggesting citrus.

What's Good?

Wines of this nature appeal strongly to people who wonder what to serve at home or to order in a restaurant with a mixture of foods. What goes with both fish and fowl? The menu lists chateau this and poultry that but how do you know what's good?

By one definition, a wine that great numbers of people like has to be "good." And when it becomes really popular, when it lasts, it's probably at the top of its class.

Taste Lancers new baby brother Branco with this in mind. You know it's going to be technically a good wine. Now how does it suit your taste?

Is it pleasant with appetizers, with fish, and a compliment to meat? Can you still enjoy it with salad and dessert?

After Taste Important

If the answer is yes all the way, you've found a very good all-purpose wine. But there's still one more test, a test that no wine can fail if it's really going to please.

That's the lingering after-taste. When you've finished a glass or two, do you feel satiated or just pleasantly aroused and ready for a bit more?

If your reply is more, then Vinho Branco is a wine for you.

Citrus Fruits Perk Up, Brighten Menus

There's nothing like the refreshing flavor and bright color of citrus fruit to perk up menus any time of the day.

Now, fresh-chilled citrus products are available all through the year in the food store dairy case or in the refrigerated produce section. There's no need to fuss around peeling and sectioning the fruit. It's done expertly with specially selected fruit to provide large, firm segments of oranges and grapefruit.

Aside from the great convenience, these refrigerated citrus products have much else to offer. They give a bracing, fresh-from-the-tree flavor along with superb quality. New developments and processing methods make it possible to pick the fruit at its peak of condition; in the space of a few hours it is hermetically sealed in jars. Shipped and stored under fresh-chilled conditions, the fruit is available at all seasons, even when fresh picked fruit is scarce, or small, or of undesirable quality.

Tops in Nutrition

The fresh-chilled citrus products have top nutritional values, too. Both grapefruit and oranges are excellent sources of Vitamin C. Orange sections provide an additional important value of Vitamin A.

The fresh-chilled citrus line-up includes grapefruit sections (16-oz.-32-oz. jars), fruit salad — grapefruit and orange sections plus maraschino cherries (16-oz. and 32-oz.), ambrosia — fruit salad plus coconut (16-oz. and 32-oz.), grapefruit juice — sweetened and unsweetened (32-oz. and 64-oz.), orange juice (32-oz. and 64-oz.), orange-grapefruit juice (32-oz.) and orange-pineapple juice (32-oz.).

Use them, in combination with other fare for sparkling transformations in taste and appearance.

Exercise some kitchen wizardry by turning a few frozen strawberries into a special dessert. Just add them to fresh-chilled fruit salad and top the delightful blend with whipped cream.

Crabmeat becomes a new taste sensation when combined in a salad with tart-sweet fresh-chilled grapefruit sections, celery and meaty ripe olives.

Another enticing salad plate easy to produce is the addition of diced apples and sliced bananas to fresh-chilled fruit salad. It's a perfect light luncheon offering, especially when teamed with cream cheese date-nut bread sandwiches.

BPW Legislative Conference To Open Friday at Madison

MADISON — A state legislative conference is scheduled Friday and Saturday by the Wisconsin Federation of Business and Professional Women's Club Inc. at the Park Motor Inn.

Registration will open at 10 a.m. Friday with Miss Virginia Allen, Wyandotte, Mich., chairman of President Nixon's task force, discussing "Status of Women" at the 1 p.m. luncheon.

A tour of the state capitol is planned at 4 p.m. Lt. Gov. Martin Schreiber will speak at 7 p.m. on "Structure of State Legislature."

An 8 a.m. breakfast meeting Saturday will feature U.S. Rep. William Steiger, R-Wis., as speaker. At 10 a.m., a panel consisting of Douglas Ajer, Geraldine Hinkel and Evelyn Hansen, members of the Governor's commission, will discuss "State Legislation Affecting Working Women." J. Willard Hurst, a professor in the University of Wisconsin Law School, will be luncheon speaker. His topic is "Relation of Courts to Legislation."

State Rep. Marjorie Miller, State Sen. Robert Knowles and State Rep. James Azim, will compose a panel at 2:30 p.m. "Effecting Legislation" will be their topic. The conference will close at 4 p.m.

Attending as maid of honor was Miss Peggy Beaudoin with Miss Darlene Ritchie as bridesmaid.

Best man was Robert Malewski and groomsmen, Buddy Malewski, both brothers of the bride. Sharing ushering duties were Wayne Ritchie and Ricky Bloedorn.

The couple will live in Shiocton.

Mrs. Coenen Honored by TOPS Club

It was awards night for members of the Appleton TOPS Club when they met Saturday evening at Pennings Hall. Named KOPS (keep pounds off sensibly) winner was Mrs. Wallace Coenen, route 2. The best loser was Mrs. Joe Cummings.

Teen princess was Miss Linda Rink with Miss Linda Hunsinger placing as runner-up.

There were no contestants in divisions one and two. First place in division three went to Mrs. Nathalie Simplot with Mrs. Floyd Peters placing second. Mrs. Joe Cummings and Mrs. Len Rudolph were first and second place winners in division four. The winner in division five was Mrs. Philip Benoit, Little Chute.

Stork queen was Mrs. Charles Jandourek.

Mrs. Simplot, Mrs. Peters, Mrs. Cummings, Mrs. Rudolph and Mrs. Charles Jandourek were all 20-pound winners.

Special awards were given to Mrs. Albert Selig for being club hostess for five years and to Mrs. Eleanor Collins for her five-year tenure as exercise leader.

Last year's queen, Mrs. Merlin Drews, was given a trophy and charm for keeping her weight off.

The Ailing House Insulation Lost With Crash

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: A guest thought one of our closed glass sliding doors was open. Results were a pretty bad bump and very large shatter-star in one pane, with a small section of glass knocked out at the center! Inner pane still intact. A friend says that I can't just have a glass man replace the broken pane; I must replace both panes, as they are a sealed unit that insulates. Is this correct? — N. Brookfield, Mass.

A: Correct. Once the semi-vacuum sealed between the panes is broken, insulation is lost. Only answer is replacement of entire unit. Sorry!

Q: One of the closets in my apartment is too hot, because a heating pipe to apartments above rises through. How can I "cool it"? — Newark.

A: Box it in, using planks of plywood or regular lumber. On the pipe side, staple aluminum foil, asbestos sheeting or a couple of coats of aluminum paint. These additions are to insulate and reflect heat away from the planks. Secure the planking to floor and ceiling.

Q: Our patio is sheltered by a roof of aluminum sheets. They are joined at the seams by roofing nails driven into supporting 2-by-4 beams. Although roofers say we need a new roof, such is not the case. The aluminum is perfectly good. All I need is some way to seal the seams and fill the nail holes during expansion and contraction of cold and hot weather. Can you help? — Williamsville, N.Y.

A: Regular, ordinary plastic roofing cement will do very well. Don't trowel it on stingily.

Reading is still the fastest way to program the human brain.

Man's brain, the human computer, faces a problem. Like man-made computers, the brain can process data with such lightning speed that men are hard-pressed to devise ways of feeding it information fast enough.

In fact, the human brain has been called the world's finest, most expensive computer. By comparison, the largest electronic computer in use today looks like a child's plaything.

But in an era of "information explosion," how do you "program" information to the human brain? Spoken language is far too slow. The average person speaks about 150 words per minute. The mind can think far faster than that.

In fact, man has yet to devise a means of feeding information to his brain that is more efficient than the written word. Fast readers can read up to 1,500 words a minute—ten times the average rate for the spoken word. Scanning can accelerate this rate still more.

Perhaps some day men will devise some electronic system to program their own brains more rapidly. Until they do, no method is as efficient as the written word.

The alphabet, movable type and the printing press are among man's oldest inventions. But as tools for furthering human knowledge they are as modern as the most modern computer.

Perhaps this is the reason more people still get more information from daily newspapers than from any other source.

Agnew and Censorship

There were two news stories recently that on the surface appeared to have nothing in common. And yet we think they do.

One was the re-emergence of Vice President Spiro Agnew and his rather strange attack on the Columbia Broadcasting System's documentaries on the "selling of the Pentagon," shown a couple of weeks ago, and one on poverty in the United States several years ago. Mr. Agnew seemed to see something highly suspicious in the fact that the same man wrote both of them. Surely he doesn't imagine that a network, or a newspaper, or a magazine, hires a different person for every feature? The further charge that CBS was planning to film an invasion of Haiti and had something to do with the planning of such an invasion is more serious. It may be ridiculous but William Randolph Hearst apparently had a lot to do with the Spanish-American War and had he had a television camera crew, goodness knows how far the conflict might have gone. But there has been no other justification for the Haiti charge.

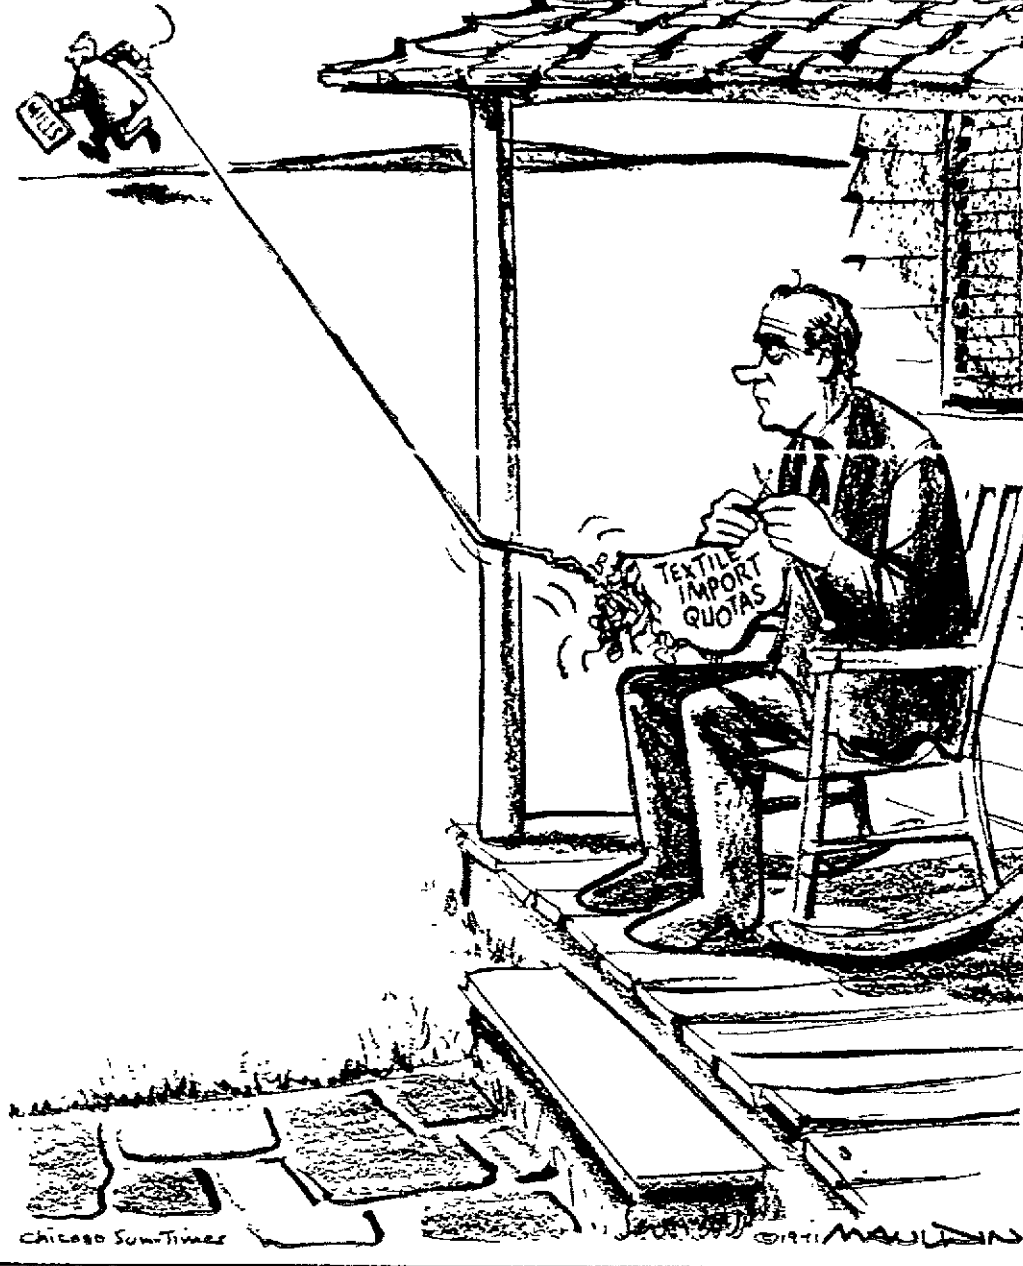

The other event is the withdrawal of South Vietnamese troops from the Laotian campaign. Officially, according to spokesmen in Saigon, it is a normal redeployment of troops. No mention is made any more about those nebulous gas pipelines, the holding of Tchepone, the cutting of the Ho Chi Minh trail. There has been, according to the National Review, a massive destruction of rice and military equipment of the North Vietnamese. But they still had enough to drive the South Vietnamese out — unless this, like Cambodia, was a planned temporary excursion.

What is disturbing here has been the clamps upon American newsmen. The United States officials blithely say it is a South Vietnamese operation and of course they wouldn't presume to suggest any sort of news policy to a sovereign ally. But this news blackout is resulting in something completely contrary to what apparently it was aimed at producing. There is hostile reaction among the newsmen and it can easily be detected in the news, however they may try to keep it objective, nor can anyone blame them. The silly excuses, the go-rounds, the ridiculous excuses have all contributed to the simple fact that we don't know what is happening, what has happened or what will happen next in Laos or South Vietnam.

The blackout was a monumental mistake from the beginning. It was simply foolish to insist that this was a security measure when anyone with half an eye could see that troops and equipment were being massed on the Laotian border near Khe Sanh. The continuing restrictions on American newsmen have resulted, not in concealing anything that might be damaging to morale, if such a thing even exists anymore, but in assuring that there will be more suspicion and more controversy and more doubts about those official statements on how well the war is going and light at the end of the tunnel bit.

A good reporter's responsibility, whether he is working for a newspaper, magazine, radio or television company, is to give the news as he sees it regardless of the consequences to himself or to others. There has been cooperation at many times when a revelation might endanger national security or that of an individual. The current attacks by Mr. Agnew and the obvious efforts to muzzle American newsmen in Indochina may well mean a great deal less of such cooperation. When we cannot believe our own governmental leaders, we need even the hostile opposition.

Wilbur Mills' Ego

Arkansas Democrat Showing Signs of Presidential Bid

BY KEVIN P. PHILLIPS

WASHINGTON — If Congressman Wilbur Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, doesn't have national political ambitions, then why are homestate campaign consultants beginning to work on his behalf — and why has the Arkansas legislature quietly passed a bill in February that would permit a Member of Congress to simultaneously seek re-election and run for President or Vice President.

Mills' statement this week that he doesn't want his name entered in the New Hampshire primary, and that he isn't a Presidential candidate because he doesn't have time to campaign, is hardly Sherman-like. Such coyness suggests that he may really be thinking about the Presidency rather than the more plausible goal of providing Southern Vice Presidential ticket balance for a Democratic nominee like Maine's Edmund Muskie.

It is hard to see what the Vice Presidency could offer Mills, who already has as much if not more power as Ways and Means Committee chairman. Moreover, he would not be a good Vice Presidential nominee. He will be 63 in 1972, and he is uncharismatic and unphotogenic.

There is an interesting precedent, though. The last Arkansan on a national ticket was Senator Joe Robinson, the Democratic stalwart who ran for Vice President in 1928. He was the running mate of Al Smith, like Muskie a Northeastern Catholic.

building model automobiles to compete for university scholarships in the Fischer Body Craftsman's Guild competition. They were Harry E. Krug Jr., La Vern Schiller, James O. Kostitzke and Ted Sutherland Jr.

There were eight winners in the chess matches at City Hall that week, namely, Howard Rietz, R. E. Wettstein, R. N. Current, I. H. Isenberg, E. L. Lashua, Le Roy Goodacre, Robert Hella and Oscar Schurm.

Miss Mary Ebben talked on Impressions of South America at the meeting of the Appleton High School Quill and Scroll Society.

10 YEARS AGO
Wednesday, March 22, 1961.
Mrs. Donald Laffan, Neenah, was elected president of the Fox River Valley Alumna chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta. Other officers elected were Mrs. Robert Aector, Neenah, vice president; Mrs. Edward Ogdeh, Neenah, secretary; Mrs. H. A. Preston, Appleton, treasurer; Mrs. Richard Kimberly, Neenah, parhellenic representative; and Mrs. William Giese, Menasha, editor.

Miss Lorraine Dudley and Mrs. Florence Ditter were in charge of the Kaukauna Business and Professional Women's Spring breakfast to benefit the Kaukauna Community Hospital addition. Plans for the event were made at the home of member Mrs. Genevieve Anderson.

One thing is sure. There is no love lost for Congressman Wilbur Mills in Richard Nixon's White House, and aides who confide to the press that they urged the President to bow before the ambitious "Napoleon of the Ozarks" are not scoring points in the Oval Office.

Whatever Mills' ambitions (and however dubious their prospects), the Arkansas lawmaker has certainly stirred the wrath of the White House. President Nixon feels that Mills' mock modesty is a camouflage for deep competitiveness. He thinks that Mills' recent arrangement of a voluntary textile export curb with Japan was: 1) a sneaky trespass on the President's constitutional prerogative in foreign affairs; 2) a political sell-out of U.S. textile interests; and 3) a maneuver whereby Mills could avoid a trade bill imbroglio and get right down to the nitty-gritty of making headlines by backing Nixon programs.

Nixon, Mills At War
Mr. Nixon's blunt rejection of Mills' Japanese negotiations reflects his belief that he and Mills are at war, and that contrary pretense is pointless. As for the textile export limitations Mills arranged, Commerce Secretary Maurice Stans and White House aide Peter Flanigan could have negotiated better agreements through such unofficial channels. But they did not do so because even these terms would have been disadvantageous, and the threat of U.S. trade legislation was expected to put Japan in a more conciliatory mood. Mills sabotaged this by placing his personal ambitions first.

The President reportedly thinks that the way to undercut Mills' ploy is to throw the trade bill (and growing Congressional protection sentiment) right back in the Arkansas's lap. This would create controversy and turmoil that would interfere with his legislative schedules and strategy. Some cynics doubt that Mr. Nixon now cares much whether any trade bill passes, just so it discommodates Wilbur Mills' plans for emasculating the rest of the White House program.

Wisconsin Report

Homogenization Key Issue in Proposal To Merge U Systems

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The most enlightening element in the University of Wisconsin administration's hostile response to the desire of Gov. Lucey to create a single state university system to replace the two separate and competitive systems that have evolved by happenstance is the use of the word "homogenization" to describe the consequences of such legislation.

By a telling coincidence, as if in response to an invisible signal, this awkward, unfamiliar in a political context and perhaps intentionally invidious word is now cropping up in the comments and responses of the top UW rulers as they prepare battle lines for what is likely to be the major state administration fight of the year.

To homogenize means, or used to mean, the mixing of ingredients to achieve a product of uniform quality, as in milk.

In the vocabulary of the resistance, it is evident that it is meant to be derogatory, that it means for them the depreciation of the university and the educational opportunity of the students it enrolls and the worth of the degrees that it awards them — in actuality or in public acceptance.

Nub of the Issue
Here is the nub of the issue that Lucey tried to raise, but perhaps in deference to the delicacies involved, too obliquely to convey the full import of his message and his motivation.

If homogenization conveys the idea of reduction of quality of performance at the UW-Madison and its branches, as appears to be the purpose of the description, it must follow that a mixture of staff, plant and student population will provide some assurance of qualitative improvement of the nine other universities supported by the people of Wisconsin.

To put it another way, the use of such words suggests that the undergraduate student population at Madison is somehow superior academically and otherwise, and the enrollments of the other schools are on the plebeian side.

It is precisely such an implicit assumption in budgeting, in staff resources notably including public relations, in the provision of plant, and especially in the salary remuneration of classroom teachers in the two systems that has bred such deep anger over the years in the junior university system, as it may be described in such circumstances.

Governor's Conclusion
It is precisely such a conclusion that led Gov. Lucey to his consciously risky proposal to make the two systems into one and to equalize higher educational opportunity.

It has been repeatedly asserted without serious challenge that if the undergraduate teaching performance at Madison is measured against that of the other schools, the ratio of fully qualified degree holders in the latter is significantly greater than those who handle undergraduates at Madison.

That was the basis of Lucey's repeated campaign theme last fall that he proposed to restore the undergraduate teaching mission of the University of Wisconsin. That tended to be dismissed in the UW executive suite as campaign oratory. It turns out that he was in dead earnest, and now the UW command is evidently caught by surprise.

It may be even more painfully surprised when it begins to appreciate the plausibility of the deduction that the governor fears some of the research expenditures at the university are denigrating its teaching mission.

Issue Easily Clouded
The entire issue is easily clouded. Graduate schools of the university are not truly involved. That is assuredly a UW preserve, as Lucey also made clear in resisting enlargement of the nascent graduate programs at the state universities.

The true issue is the most effective use of obviously limited public dollars for maximum return in quality of education of the worthy young people of Wisconsin, without distinction as to their temporary mailing addresses.

Towns and Townships

Last Sunday John Wyngaard, our Madison representative, once more complained about the confusion, misinterpretation or plain lack of knowledge about the terms "town" and "township." A "town" is a governmental unit, he pointed out. A "township" is six by six square miles of a piece of property.

And yet the state of Wisconsin officially doesn't recognize the distinction. Anyone making out an application for a car license has to choose between checking "city, village or township." The state income tax returns have the same differential. By golly, if you don't live in a city or a village, you live in a township, according to the state.

Maybe the alternative is clear and maybe it could even be cleared up in court. Those of us who live in "towns" could refuse to check that little "township" blank on various official documents, our respective areas would not get the tax refunds and we might qualify to pay no taxes here or there.

Isolationism in Foreign Trade

President Nixon's summary rejection of the proposed informal Japanese restraint on textiles sent to this country probably was based on a number of factors. But it is not likely to encourage and improve a trend toward free trade which has been this nation's policy for several decades.

As a presidential candidate, Mr. Nixon promised protection to the dwindling textile industry in the Southeast, hit hard by imports from Japan, Taiwan, Hong Kong and Korea. Perhaps it was this pledge — part of the "southern strategy" — that influenced his denunciation of the arrangement for voluntary restraints worked out between Japanese officials and Representative Wilbur Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

But there may have been other factors involved. Exactly why should Mr. Mills be the primary spokesman in a field which is generally reserved to the executive department of the government? And exactly what will the discouraging attitude in the White House do to negotiations on import quotas in other fields than textiles? The negotiations surrounding the entire matter, as reported by some columnists, indicate that they were clumsy indeed on the part of the White House and much more favorable terms could have been worked out with a little understanding of the overall problem.

Originally tariffs on imported goods were a primary source of income for the United States. Decades ago they became less important in this field as income and corporation taxes took over. Tariffs and quotas then turned into protection devices for home industry. Despite the fact that other nations retaliate to such methods by imposing their own tariffs and quotas, it can be argued that some can be justified because of the great difference in costs of production. Underdeveloped countries often have far less stringent sanitary regulations in the production of cheese, for instance, than does the United States and the wages paid are far below the level in this country.

But the United States has followed a policy of encouragement to free trade for some time with the understanding that the extent of trade, rather than the particular balance of payments for one country or another, was the major healthy element. Mr. Nixon reportedly was talked out of a much tougher statement on the Japanese situation than he issued but his negative attitude is not encouraging if other political groups bring pressure to bear upon him.

President Nixon has been speaking firmly, and in our opinion correctly, about the dangers of neo-isolationism in this country growing out of the disillusion from the war in Indochina. But a tighter trade policy is also a form of isolationism. The fact that must be faced is that our industries, from textiles to cheese to shoes to watches, must compete both in quality and cost with those of other countries or all the negotiations such as the General Agreement on Tariff and Trade (GATT) will be worth nothing at all and all nations will suffer from the inequities.

Airports Now Hub of New Urban Sprawl

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

One reason that so many European cities are beautiful, while so many American cities are grim and ugly, has nothing to do with the superior cultural or esthetic qualities of the Europeans.

It has to do with the historical fact that European cities were founded long ago, when water was the best mode of transportation; while most American cities were built up in the 19th Century, when the railroad was the dominant form of transportation.

European cities were built on or around rivers, which have a certain inherent charm and beauty. The life of the city reached down to the water and took its tone and color and contour from the riverfront.

American cities grew up along a railroad track, in a bleak industrial atmosphere where all beauty was sacrificed to shipping and loading and smoke and oil and warehouses and terminal buildings. There was no time, or room, or inclination, to put in parks and plazas and malls and the other topographical amenities that make all the difference between a stroll through the heart of Paris and the backside of Cleveland.

Now we are rapidly entering a third era of population growth and density — the new cluster around the nation's urban airports.

The area surrounding O'Hare Airport in Chicago, for instance, has grown faster than any other comparable area in the nation; what is happening here will happen elsewhere — offices and laboratories, factories and housing developments will shift their focus from the central city to the airport district, for population invariably follows transportation.

And we are making the same dismal mistake with the airport areas that we made with the railroad towns. They have inadequate zoning, virtually no planning, and are allowed to burgeon commercially as high-priced slums, dominated by gas stations, junkyards, motels, saloon strips, vast supermarkets, and strident signboards.

As the inner city decays, we are simply transferring the ugliness to the airport regions, dragging along all the same problems that have plagued the city in its cancerous decline. Our commercial insanity condemns us to the highest standard of living with the lowest quality of civilized life.

The railroads raped the cities, esthetically, and left them mortally wounded. The airplane will do the same if we let it, not because it is inherently evil, but because that is the nature of the beast if it is not tamed by considerations of beauty, of careful living, of planned communities, and a decent sense of proportion between our economic drives and our long-neglected human needs.

Looking Backward

'Will the Logs Come Down?'

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for March 18, 1871. Lumbermen hereabouts have been seriously cogitating the likelihood of there being sufficient water to bring the logs out of the creeks into the Wolf River this spring.

Previous to the recent storms, it looked dubious. Now there is hope of having sufficient water, if time is not lost in taking advantage of the highest stage, which in some of the shallow creeks soon runs out.

Large parties of men have gone to the "drives" during the past week. The Stages and other conveyances were crowded with men.

On Herman Brook, about 30 miles north of us, different parties have logs ready to drive.

The Whortons are said to have some 1½ million feet.

Gaynor, of Fond du Lac, has 2 million feet ready; Trow, of Eureka, 1 million feet. Allen is said to have 500,000 left over from last year.

The Whortons have about 800,000 feet on Black Creek, besides some on the headwaters of the same stream.

Pending Legislation Will be Topic on Telephone Network

Unit pricing, permanent care labels, no-fault auto insurance, housing laws for mobile homes, income maintenance programs, equal rights for women — all legislative problems — will be discussed on Educational Telephone Network programs April 21, 28 and May 6. From 8 to 10 p.m. at county listening stations, the programs are for home economists, teachers, dietitians, consumer groups and homemakers as well as other interested persons. Area locations and fee information may be obtained from extension home economists.

The first program will feature textile legislation including permanent care labeling, its cost and possibility of passage. Regulations for flammable fabrics in children's wear and the effect of proposed trade bills on clothing imports will be other topics.

Also on the evening's agenda will be a discussion of no-fault auto insurance, national health insurance and Wisconsin probate laws. Also to be considered will be unit pricing, food residues such as mercury and food additives and their role in today's products.

Income distribution and poverty bills now pending will

How to Explain Pollution, Ecology And the Environment to Children

The words "ecology," "environment," and the phrase "quality of life" have, by now, become the favorite clichés of the 1970's. This does not alter the fact that these should be our major concerns. Still, it must seem truly amazing to children that with the claimed scientific, industrial and economic progress made in the past two hundred years, we are worse off than before these enlightened times. It's pretty difficult to explain to children that despite flush-toilets, moon walks, TV, inoculations, heart transplants and atomic energy, our health and lives are more severely threatened than were those of people who lived in medieval times. During those days even royalty inhabited unsanitary slums, seldom if ever washed, ate contaminated food, lacked the benefits of electricity and refrigeration, and traveled on cart-horse back for days to cover distances that take minutes by plane or car.

First, explain to your child that in the year 1400 (or in any other before the turn of this century), people lived either on farms or in small towns or cities surrounded by streams, oceans, lakes, fields, and forests. Only a small portion of the earth was populated and though people, then as now, tended to foul their own nests, nature could still renew itself, and cleanse the air, the water and the land that were used. But since about 1900 the world population has grown so large, and the natural resources of our planet have seen such constant use and abuse, that nature no longer is given the time required to restore itself and us.

Next, point out to your child that as long as nature is abused without respite, and as long as the population increases, the world will not recover from the sickness we have visited on it. It will get sicker, and so will we. If you explain pollution in these terms, he'll understand why he may have to cut down on fish sandwiches; why he can't swim in many lakes, streams and on some ocean beaches; why he has a constant runny nose, cough or sore throat; and why there is such a fuss made about the environment. It's the only one we have. Your child will then become aware that much of our gross national product is wrapped in plastic and in other containers that are insoluble, that create mounting piles of garbage on land and that threaten to blanket the ocean bottoms; that each new product creates its own waste, both in production and in use. Explanations like these may awaken in your child the sense of thrift and husbandry that was a prized quality among the first settlers of this land.

Which books on baby and child care, health and education are the best and most reliable? Arnold Arnold has prepared this reading list for parents, taken from his book, Your Child and You. It includes books, pamphlets and brochures from publishers, government agencies and other sources, some free, that can help parents deal with every possible problem of childhood nurturance, health and education, ranging from pre-natal care to proper diet and remedial training. Send 20 cents and a large (No. 10), stamped, self-addressed envelope to Arnold Arnold, c/o this newspaper. Be sure to print ANSWERS LIST on your outside envelope.

Annual Winn-Out Day Features Six Sessions

NEENAH— "Living for Enjoyment" is the theme of the third annual Winn-Out Day scheduled for April 23 at James Conant Junior High School.

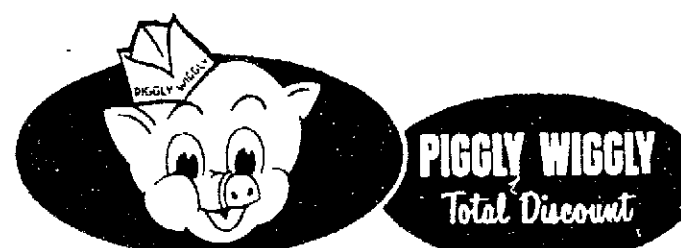

The University Extension Homemakers' organizations of Outagamie and Winnebago counties in cooperation with Alice Schultz, Outagamie County Extension Home Economist are planning the special day devoted to six lecture-seminar sessions.

"What Will You Mean to the Future?" is the keynote address to be given by Robert D. Bright of the Center for Community Leadership Development, University of Wisconsin Extension.

Morning sessions will include "How Drugs Contribute to Enjoyment for Living — Or Do They?" by Dr. William Gleason of the youth department of the University of Wisconsin Extension.

Further information on reservations may be obtained by contacting the Outagamie County University Extension Office.

Afternoon sessions will feature "Will Radicalism Affect Your Future?" by Dr. William Gleason; "Fashion Is Your Expression!" by Miss Lenore Landry, extension Textile and clothing specialist for the University Extension; "What You Don't Know, Won't You — Maybe!" by Mrs. Kenneth Kollath, Muehl Public Library, Seymour, and "How will You Be a Part of the Future?" by Robert D. Bright.

Compromise Choice

NFL Owners Select New Orleans Site For '72 Super Bowl

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — New Orleans was the inability of either Miami, a three-time awarded to New Orleans—a compromise choice apparently forced upon National Football League owners by a strange series of unrelated factors, including the tactics of a Miami attorney and the strength of the Dallas Cowboys.

In what may have been the toughest decision in their six years of selecting Super Bowl sites, the NFL owners Tuesday selected New Orleans to host pro football's premier spectacle on Jan. 16, 1972, following a long afternoon session requiring 14 ballots.

What ultimately paid off for

Milwaukee Rips A's, 9-3

Rookies Spark Brewers

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP) — The odds on the Milwaukee Brewers making any serious bid for the American League pennant this season remain prohibitive, but their precocious "kiddie corps" is still raising eyebrows in the Cactus League.

The Brewers made it 13 victories in 18 starts Tuesday, whipping the hard-hitting Oakland A's, 9-3, behind the steady pitching of rookies Jim Slaton and Roric Harrison and some impressive hitting by shortstop prodigy Rick Auerbach.

Bats Booming
Slaton, who pitched just 18 innings with Clinton in the Midwest League last season before entering the service, started for the Brewers and gave up three runs, two of which were earned. Harrison blanked the A's on one hit over the last four innings. The Brewers' nine-hit attack included a home run by Auerbach—who had hit only four in two previous years in baseball—a triple by Roberto Pena and doubles by Floyd Wicker and Harrison. The Brewers also capitalized on four Oakland errors.

Auerbach added a bunt single to his home run and his hitting atoned for two miscues in the field. However, the 21-year-old Auerbach still is a little weak and lacks timing. He missed the first two weeks of the exhibition season with a leg injury, and then came down with the flu.

Praise From Lane
"He's still not as steady as he will be," said Player Operations Director Frank Lane. "But anyone who ran run as fast as he,

Patriots Drop Indoor Meet

Tim Werner, Leach Capture 1sts for Appleton East Team

MANITOWOC — Appleton East coach Paul Freund wasn't disappointed despite a lop-sided 72½-18½ dual meet loss to a tough Manitowoc Lincoln track squad.

"I'm not disappointed at all," Freund said of the showing made by his young Patriot squad. "We had some people who did an extremely fine job."

Tim Werner surprised the coach with his strong effort in the mile, a winning performance in 4:36.2. "I didn't think he would run that strong a race this early," Freund said.

Another surprise was the performance of Randy Leach a winner in the 60-yard hurdles with a 8.5-second clocking and third in the lows. "This has been one of our weaker events over the years," the Pat's boss said.

Neumann Agrees to ABA Pact

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The illness of his father, a wish to stay in Memphis and pro basketball merger talks were all factors in the decision of Mississippi sophomore star Johnny Neumann to quit college and sign a contract with the Memphis Pros of the American Basketball Association.

Neumann, a Memphis native, was the nation's leading scorer with a 40.1 average this season.

Formal contract signing ceremonies are slated for halftime tonight at the Memphis Pros-Denver Rockets game in Memphis.

John Neumann

In New York, ABA Commissioner Jack Dolph said the contract was unanimously approved by the league's directors, but he did not reveal its terms.

Later, the Memphis Commercial Appeal reported in a copyrighted story that Neumann had signed a five-year, no-cut contract in excess of $2 million.

Memphis, recently a financially troubled franchise bought from the league by local stock sales, thus joins the ranks of pro teams raiding colleges for undergraduate talent.

Dolph said the signing follows a U.S. District Court decision Monday involving Seattle player Spencer Haywood who was signed as an undergraduate by Denver.

The court struck down the rule in the rival National Basketball Association—which forbade signing college players before their class graduated.

Dolph said he originally rejected the Neumann contract, but Memphis took the matter to the league and the contract was approved.

Neumann said among the factors leading to his decision to turn pro were his father's recent heart attack and his family's financial dependence upon him.

He also said that with the possibility of a basketball merger the high priced contracts might end and, he added, he wanted to play in Memphis.

"It was my decision to turn pro," Neumann told the Memphis newspaper. "I was aware that by signing my college eligibility is over "Sure I felt an obligation to Ole Miss. The school was good to me and I feel a loyalty to Ole Miss. I hope the people at Ole Miss can understand my situation."

Neumann's father, Robert H. Neumann, suffered a heart attack Feb. 20.

'Undergraduates Cannot be Drafted'

NBA Reaffirms Decision on Collegians

By BRUCE LOWITT

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Basketball Association was reaffirming its decision to keep its hands off collegians. Two blocks away the American Basketball Association was grabbing the highest scoring one. Mississippi sophomore Johnny Neumann

The rival leagues he'd separate all-day meetings Tuesday in the wake of Monday's decision by U.S. Dist. Court Judge Warren Ferguson in Los Angeles which struck down the NBA's rule forbidding the signing of players whose college classes have not been graduated.

NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy said after Tuesday's meeting: "We discussed at some length any possible changes in the 1971 college draft procedures and it was determined there would be no changes. Undergraduates can not be drafted."

Signs Haywood
But the ABA, which precipitated the current upheaval two years ago by signing Spencer Haywood after his sophomore year at the University of Detroit, kept it going with the nabbing of Neumann who signed with the Memphis Pros for what the Memphis Commercial Appeal said in a copyrighted story was a "five-year no-cut

"My father may never be able to work again," Neumann told the newspaper. "The heart attack was quite severe. I am now assuming head of the household."

The Commercial Appeal also quoted Neumann as noting that more money is likely to be available for players now than if the leagues merge. "With the merger coming, I believe that the days of the million dollar contracts are gone," Neumann was quoted as saying.

He also said the city of Memphis was a vital part of his decision.

contract in excess of $2 million. Dolph, who announced the signing—and would say nothing of any other matters discussed by the younger league—said Neumann was not signed as a "hardship case." The ABA by law employed by the Denver Rockets to get Haywood and later, Ralph Simpson, also from Detroit.

Not Hardship Pact
Instead, Dolph explained a guard who averaged 40.1 points per game for the Ole Miss Rebels because it was not a hardship case pact and Neumann was an

Season Mark Pleases Costello

Bucks Set for Playoff Challenge

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A new

National Basketball Association season—the playoffs—begins Saturday night, and Milwaukee Bucks Coach Larry Costello says his team will be ready.

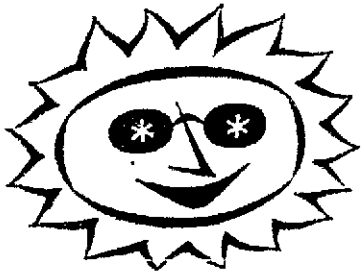

"I think we're ready," Costello said Tuesday. "I think everybody is in the right frame of mind approaching the playoffs."

Milwaukee, with Lew Alcindor and Oscar Robertson blending perfectly in their first season together, made a shambles of the Midwest Division race, then reeled off a NBA record of 20 consecutive victories before losing five of its last six regular season games.

"I feel we could have won some of those games if we had the right personnel, the combination that won for us all along," Costello said.

"Lot of People"
"But we used a lot of people. We got some people rested up and found out a few things about our reserves. Players like McCoy and McMinnore and Jeff Webb, about anything," the Milwaukee coach said. "Oscar was instrumental in that winning. This team got better rapidly and will get better yet. It takes about five years to reach maturity in this league."

Costello admitted the 1970-71 season was a fantastic year. "When you win 66 games, or so."

Bulls Visit LA; 76ers at Bullets

Two NBA Playoff Series Open Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The National Basketball Association playoffs open tonight with Chicago at Los Angeles and Philadelphia at Baltimore.

The New York Knicks, the defending champions, and Milwaukee Bucks, the teams almost everyone expects to meet in the championship final, start later.

The Knicks play at home against Atlanta Thursday afternoon. Milwaukee and San Francisco tangle Saturday in Oakland, Calif.

Both the Lakers and Bullets have problems in their opening games against the Bulls and 76ers.

The Lakers will be minus their star, Jerry West. Gus Johnson and Wes Unseld are nursing injuries and are doubtful starters for the Bullets.

Out For Season

West tore a knee ligament March 2 that put him out for the year. Johnson has gummy knees and Unseld sprained an ankle March 9.

The stories are similar for both Pacific Division champion Los Angeles and Central Division champion Baltimore since the injuries to their stars. The Lakers took a nose-dive with a 3-11 mark without West. The Bullets lost their last eight games without Unseld and with Johnson in only five of the games.

Chicago finished No. 2 in the Midwest but sported three more victories than the Lakers. The loss of West has taken the best-of-seven series out of the "sure thing for LA" category, especially when the Bulls have Bob Love and Chet Walker with 25.2 and 22-point averages, respectively.

Burden on Wilt

Wilt Chamberlain, the NBA's leading rebounder, now must pick up some of the load normally carried by West and hit more than his 20.7 points per game.

Philadelphia finished second to the Knicks in the Eastern Division with a 47-35 record, seven victories better than Baltimore.

The second games of both the LA-Chicago and Baltimore-Philadelphia series will be played in the same cities on Friday.

Glenn Kastner Raps 255-612; Eileen Ulwelling Hits 564

Glenn Kastner and Wally Sellnow each socked 612 series for the peak efforts in the Baseball Couples League at Lakewood Lanes. Kastner also had the league's high game of 255.

Elaine Nelson spilled games of 211 and 209 toward a 549 trio, while Donna Bollom hit 225-536.

Lee Schalie spun a 229 game and ended with 593 in pacing the Thunder Mixers Couples League at Thunderbowl.

Chester (Chet) Steiner cracked a 588 series for the leading performance in the Card Couples League at Sabre Lanes.

Max Bohatchek powered 584 to top the Rainbow Couples League at 41 Bowl.

Jim Swieczkowski's 243 line took the spotlight in the Cereal Couples League at Twin City Bowl.

The Cigarette Couples League at Hahn's Lanes saw Kerwin Ulwelling set the pace with a 580 count. Ray Schreiber added a 231 solo. Eileen Ulwelling led the ladies with a 201-564 combination.

Joyce Manske edged Cheryl Hassell, 219-218, for the high game in the Flower Couples League at Twin City Bowl.

Jim VanderPas slugged a 236 threesome to show the way in the Cereal Couples League at Village Lanes. Vi Werth hit 208.

Helen Mitchell's 213 game was the lone score of note in the TV Spare makers' Couples League at Sabre Lanes.

Cage Coach at Utah Ousted

Jack Gardner, 60, Relieved of Duty After 18 Seasons

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Jack Gardner is out as head basketball coach at the University of Utah after 18 years of guiding the "Running Redskins."

Gardner, 60, was relieved as coach Tuesday by the school's Athletic Board. Athletic Director Bud Jack said the search for a successor would begin immediately.

University President James C. Fletcher made the announcement.

Jack Gardner

ment, saying Gardner requested and received a sabbatical leave of one year.

After that, Gardner is expected to return to the school in some capacity with the Department of Physical Education possibly as a golf coach.

Gardner's lifetime coaching record is 488 victories and 233 losses, a 67 per cent record that places him fourth among active coaches. His teams won 339 games and lost 154 at Utah, and he was 149-79 for 10 years at Kansas State.

Professor at School
Gardner has tenure with the school, is rated as a full professor of physical education and thus can't be dismissed. He received $18,000 a year as head basketball coach.

"The end has to come sometime," Gardner said. "This is one of the best basketball jobs in the country. But from a recruiting standpoint, it's rough. Many people are not satisfied unless you're a winner here."

Gardner said he had resigned. His greatest thrill, Gardner said, was seeing the 15,000-seat Special Events Center built and having his teams play the first two seasons there.

Despite only two losing seasons at Utah, Gardner had come under criticism in recent years. His teams won one Western Athletic Conference championship in nine years, losing the past two years by one game.

Chisox Trade Hamilton for Steve Huntz

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — The San Francisco Giants acquired left-handed relief pitcher Steve Hamilton Tuesday in a straight trade that sent infielder Steve Huntz to the Chicago White Sox.

Hamilton, a 34-year-old veteran of 10 years in the American League, has a lifetime average of .372 and was 4-3 last season with the New York Yankees who dealt him late in the year to the White Sox.

Huntz was acquired by the Giants from San Diego last Dec. 4 in a deal for infielder Don Mason. Huntz hit .219 last year for the Padres after averaging .211 in two seasons with St. Louis.

40 Thoroughbreds Die, $500,000 Damage in Fire

CHARDON, Ohio (AP) — A fire Tuesday swept a barn at Burtonian Thoroughbred Breeders Inc. farm in nearby Burton Township, killing 40 broodmares, many of them in foal.

The fire destroyed the nearly new structure housing the horses and the loss was estimated at $500,000.

Bears Invited Back to Old Home Park, Wrigley Says

CHICAGO (AP) — Owner Philip Wrigley of the Chicago Cubs indicated Tuesday that the Chicago Bears, shopping for a new home field, still are welcome at Wrigley Field, the Bears' past perennial Chicago base.

Wrigley scotched printed reports that the Bears would not be welcome in Wrigley Field after a fruitless attempt to sign a long-term lease with Northwestern University for Dyche Stadium.

The gum magnate told The Associated Press that stories were in error that he was chagrined over Bear owner George Halas' effort to switch to Dyche Stadium without informing Wrigley of his intention.

Second Rejection
The Big Ten, at a special meeting Sunday, rejected for a second time Northwestern's petition for a Dyche Stadium agreement with the Bears. Soldier Field and White Sox Park

Finland Rips U.S. Icemen

American Team Falters in World Hockey Tournament

BERN, Switzerland (AP) — Finland scored the first four goals and whipped the United States 7-4 Tuesday in the world ice hockey championships despite two goals by American Gary Gambucci.

Earlier in the day, Sweden remained unbeaten in three games with a 7-2 triumph over West Germany. The Swedes are tied with Russia for first place, although the Russians hold the edge in goals scored, 29-17.

Finland built a 4-0 lead 10 minutes into the second period before Gambucci of Hibbing, Minn., brought the Americans back with two goals within 24 seconds midway through the period. Craig Patrick of St. Louis and Keith Christiansen of International Falls, Minn., assisted.

Jim McElmurry of St. Paul later made it 5-3 as five goals were scored within four minutes and eight seconds.

The final U.S. score was by Patrick with only five minutes remaining.

Kewaunee's Novak Will Attend UW

MADISON — Jack Novak, an outstanding end and linebacker on Kewaunee High School's 1970 undefeated football team has accepted a University of Wisconsin grant-in-aid scholarship and will enroll here in September.

The 6-5, 215 pound Novak was a first team all-state choice for his play as the Indians, coached by Don Rabas, won all nine of their games last season. Over the past two years of play Kewaunee has won 17 of 18 games in dominating the Northern Division of the Packerland Conference.

Wisconsin coach John Jardine and his staff rate Jack as an excellent athlete and prospect for Big Ten competition. He's a straight A student in the classroom.

Outgrowth of Fight's Exclusive Rights

Propose Open Airing of Title Events

WASHINGTON (AP) — If a couple of congressmen have their way, sports promoters won't be able to keep a heavyweight championship fight, like the recent Joe Frazier-Muhammad Ali Bout, off home television screens.

Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., planned to introduce today a bill that would place an outright ban on the production of sports events over closed-circuit TV whenever a television network or station wanted to broadcast the event.

Rep. Charles W. Sandman Jr., R-N.J., said last week he would introduce legislation by the end of the month to insure that championship events in professional sports can be witnessed by the general public over radio and television.

Sandman's two bills would ban exclusive broadcast contracts on sports championships in professional boxing, football, basketball, baseball and hockey.

The proposed measures are an outgrowth of the Frazier-Ally heavyweight championship fight March 8, which Frazier won. Promoter Jerry Perenchio earned an estimated $20 million on the live gate and closed-circuit television with $17 million coming from television.

Perenchio banned all home broadcasts, even on a delayed basis.

Under Aspin's measure, almost all sports events would have to be shown on home TV or not shown at all—including all boxing matches, pro football championship, college football bowl games, baseball championships and all other sports events.

Korth and Zielinski Lead Scoring in Grade Cage Tourney

Neenah St. Margaret Mary's Jim Korth posted the best average (24 points per game), and Menasha St. John's Greg Zielinski compiled the biggest total (72) in the recent Catholic Grade School basketball tournament at Appleton St. Mary.

Other leading averages were: Jerry Schumacher, of champion Little Chute St. John, 16.2; Dan Tardiff, St. Thomas More, 16.1; Randy Rusch, New London Most Precious Blood, 16.1; Frank Bourassa, Kaukauna Holy Cross, 15.3; Bob Witte, St. Pius, 15.3; Dave Thiel, St. Joseph, 14.1; Mark Thurner, Menasha St. Patrick, 13.5; Barry Hoffman, Kaukauna St. Mary, 12.5; Lee VanderSanden, Little Chute St. John, 12.1; Joe Wyngaard, Kimberly Holy Name, 12.1; and Randy Kroll, Most Precious Blood, 12.0.

One of Sandman's proposed bills would prohibit licensed broadcasters, both wire and wireless, "from seeking, contracting for or exercising exclusive rights" to present championship events.

"This will enable broadcasters in television, radio, cable systems plus all other types of media to secure presentation rights to these important national events," he said.

"No one type of media, like closed circuit television in the recent case of the Frazier-Ally heavyweight boxing championship, will be permitted to monopolize the right of the public to witness these events."

His other bill would amend the antitrust laws to require that the owners, operators and promoters of the championship events permit all forms of mass media to cover the events.

Fritz Kroyer Wins Off-Road Race

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The richest, roughest off-road race, the $50,000 Mint 400 Desert Rally, was history today—and most of the drivers swore they'd be back for more next year.

The winner of the $6,000 top prize, Fritz Kroyer, a Danish-born, Canadian citizen from Santa Susana, Calif., pictured the ordeal this way:

"I dropped down into one gully and when I hit the silt it came over the front of my buggy like a solid wall of water."

Close Mouth
"When that happens all you can do is close your mouth and your eyes and keep moving."

Kroyer drove six of the eight 50-mile laps in a single-seater dune buggy. The other two laps were driven by Bill Harkey, 52, of San Fernando. Their time was 13 hours, 30 minutes and 42 seconds over the desert wasteland 20 miles northwest of Las Vegas.

Numerous drivers reported severe bruises and only 25 of the starting field of 264 finished the eight laps.

Parnelli Jones, the 1963 Indianapolis 500 winner, completed three laps before his Bronco broke an axle. He was co-driver with Al Unser, the 1970 Indy champion. Both said the dust was so heavy at times they were unable to determine if they were moving.

Carlton, Tiant, John Turn in Impressive Hill Performances

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON Associated Press Sports Writer

Spring training is that time of year when the pitchers are supposed to be ahead of the hitters, but last year Steve Carlton, Luis Tiant, Tommy John and Tom Griffin weren't ahead of anybody.

Such wasn't the case Tuesday as all four question-mark hurlers turned in impressive exhibition outings.

Carlton, a 20-game winner in 1969, shipped to 10-19 a year ago. Tuesday he worked seven strong innings, yielding only two runs, as the St. Louis Cardinals trimmed the Cincinnati Reds 5-2 with Jose Cardenal collecting two doubles and two singles.

Tiant, once a star with Cleveland, turned in a deceptive 1970 record of 7-3 with Minnesota, but the Twins got him scads of runs and he was beset by injuries much of the year. His contribution Tuesday was four innings, one run, four hits, two walks and four strikeouts in the Twins' 8-3 romp over the Atlanta Braves.

John, counted to be half of the Chicago White Sox' 1-2 pitching punch, finished with a 12-17 record. He stifled the New York Yankees on one run through seven innings Tuesday and the White Sox pushed across a run in the eighth to win 4-3. Tom Egan, who also homered, swatted his third double of the game and tallied the winning run on Tom McCraw's single.

Griffin, an impressive 1969 rookie, spent part of last season nursing his sore arm in the minors after compiling a 3-13 record and sky-high 5.76 earned run average with Houston.

Tuesday, the Astros battered the Los Angeles Dodgers 8-3 and Griffin went six innings, allowing three hits and three runs, two of them unearned.

But Tuesday's pitching hero was Shoji Murata of Japan's Lotte Orions. He pitched a complete game six-hitter and fanned 19 in a 9-4 triumph over the Cleveland Indians. It was the 22-year-old right-hander's second route-going effort, the first coming against California.

The Angeles didn't have to face Murata this time but had their troubles with the San Diego Padres, who scored twice in the ninth and held off California 5-4. Tommy Dean, who drove in his first run of the spring earlier in the game, brought home the tie-breaker with a single.

Some other strong pitching was turned in by Detroit's Joe Coleman, who stopped Kansas City 6-1 with seven good innings and received home run support from Norm Cash, Willie Horton, Aurelio Rodriguez and Dalton Jones.

Jerry Janeski, recently traded to Washington, blanked Montreal for five innings and the Senators won 4-3. Joe Foy drove in three runs with a homer and double and Frank Howard also homered.

Ray Newman, Joe Decker and Juan Pizarro learned up for a six-hitter as the Chicago Cubs whipped San Francisco 8-0.

But Baltimore's Jim Palmer was pounded for six runs in six innings in a 7-4 loss to Pittsburgh. Al Oliver, Bob Robertson, Richie Hebner and Richie Zisk homered for the Pirates.

And Oakland's Chuck Dobson was raked for six runs in five frames as the Milwaukee Brewers made off with a 9-3 victory.

Finally, the New York Mets scored an unearned run in the 11th inning on a walk, throwing error and Tim Lincecum's sacrifice fly and nipped the Boston Red Sox 5-4.

Kaukauna Girls Gym Team in Sectional

KAUKAUNA — Members of the Kaukauna High School girls' gymnastic team will compete in a sectional tournament at Green Bay Saturday. Two girls permitted to enter each of the four events.

Competition is held in free exercise, balance beam, uneven bars and vaulting.

Miss York Plays Lead in 'Jane Eyre'

BY TV SCOUT

8-10 Channel 5 — "Jane Eyre" in the Bell System Family Theatre is the answer to a romantic's dream, a fine adaptation of Charlotte Brontë's classic which is bound to grip and move you. Acting is excellent. George C. Scott has the "omniscient" role of the brooding Mr. Rochester who has a shocking secret and Susannah York is the plain but blunt governess to his young French ward, Jack Pulman has written a highly literate script which retains the flavor of the Brontë novel and the period. Among the fine supporting actors: Jack Hawkins as the stern schoolmaster who is so cruel to the young Jane, Ian Bannen as the minister who proposes to Jane and Vyree Dawn Porter, as a would-be Mrs. Rochester.

6:30-7 Channels 11-9 — When The Courtship of Eddie's Father deals only with the three principals: Bill Bixby, Brandon Cruz and Miyoshi Umeki, it's at its best. It's at its best here, Brandon, as Eddie, is being disobedient and dad's punishment is not strong enough, Miyoshi feels. Especially when the tyke nearly falls off the apartment balcony.

6:30-7:30 Channels 2-7 — Men at Law has an absorbing episode with lots of plot turns. Its main problem is that it's slow getting to the turns, then it begins going around the curves at 80 m.p.h. Anyway, the client is Steve Forrest, a Howard Hughes-type whose wife is killed in a fall from a balcony. The lawyers believe the man is innocent, but the circumstantial evidence piles up against him and there are lots of people in the town he "owns," who want to see him get his.

6:30-8 Channel 5 — The Men From Shiloh could have told its tale in 30 minutes less commercials, so you'll notice the padding. Anyway, Lee Majors takes time off from Shiloh to visit a town where he kind of likes a local saloon lady, played by Madlyn Rhue. While there he is framed for a killing that we see on the screen.

7-7:30 Channels 11-9 — Room 222 almost but not completely deals honestly with a good situation: a 19-year-old Vietnam veteran who returns to high school where he feels he will be a big man. Murray MacLeod plays this chap, who figures his good baseball pitching arm will make him a hero.

7:30-8 Channels 11-9 — The Smith Family has another improved episode in which the youngest, played by Michael-James Wixted, becomes friends with Arthur O'Connell, as an old-time lawman who is being evicted by the "landgrabbers." At least, that's how the tyke sees it and he has lots of problems reconciling the way things were in the Old West with the way they are today — especially when dad (Henry Fonda) seems to be siding with the bad guys.

10:20-11:30 Channel 2 — Diane Baker plays the fatally ill wife of Barry Sullivan on Medical Center. Sullivan is an aging tycoon who is contributing a huge amount of money to the hospital for a pediatric wing. She is his former nurse, trying to keep her problem from her loving and loved spouse. REPEAT

8-9 Channels 11-9 — The Carpenters and a tribute to the songs of Hank Williams are highlights of The Johnny Cash Show. To say nothing of John's duel with his wife June and the appearance of John's brother, Tommy Cash. Charley Pride, Bob Luman and Red Lane also guest on this all-country, very good show.

Glad You Asked That!

BY HY GARDNER

Q: I've heard sex symbol Raquel Welch described as being beautiful but dumb. Does she admit it?—Eddie Kaskel, North Miami, Fla.

A: "At first," Miss Welch has said, "I was stupid enough to explain I wasn't stupid... when people said I must be a conniving girl to form a business with my husband. Now I don't try to justify anything to anybody. Just take me as I am. I can't be apologetic about being myself any longer."

Q: I've read where the host at Danny's Hideaway, a New York hangout for celebrities, will appear in "The Love Machine" film. Has he starred in any other movies? And does he look like a star?—Leonard L., Oakland.

A: At 5-foot-5 Danny Stradella looks as much like a star as Dustin Hoffman did before he became one. But he wasn't hired as an actor in "Love Machine." For realism, producer Irving Mansfield plans to do some location shooting in the famous restaurant rather than reproduce it in a Hollywood set. Stradella's strictly a "hamateur." His only previous "acting" experience was riding a horse in a Western featuring his late cowboy crony, Gabby Hayes.

Q: Who was it said, "The only thing we have to fear is fear itself?" —Frank Hubbard, Staten Island, N.Y.

A: Westinghouse radio station WINS (New York) created that eye-catching truism for its local advertising.

Q: Now that Rick Ely broke his engagement, can you find out what kind of girl he's really looking for?—Geraldine R., Shreveport, La.

A: "I'd like to know as great a variety as possible," the young rebel recently told a Teen reporter. "The more types I know, the easier it will be to decide what I want in someone to settle down with. Like sensitivity and tenderness and compatibility. Basically," he confessed, "I'm shy. I'd say I'm chicken with girls."

Q: I found TV viewing in France easier on the eyes because the screens are so much larger. How come our sets are so small?—Mrs. Elizabeth Morris, Costa Mesa, Calif.

A: If you hold a magnifying glass close to a newspaper or magazine photo, you'll notice the picture is created by the merging of tiny dots. In television the "dots" are pinpoints of light that streak across the screen 26 2/3 times, then repeat. They are the same in the largest and the smallest set. The bigger the picture the coarser the grain. The smaller the screen, the sharper the picture. Years ago the FCC adopted a scan count of 525 lines as the U.S. standard—for both sending and receiving. In France, where TV arrived later, the scan count is almost double. Resulting in a better defined picture on screens much larger than ours. To change our system to theirs would mean junking every receiver in the country. It would also make obsolete all the studio equipment now used to originate telecasts in every station in the nation.

Q: Wasn't it Jimmy Walker who said (about a boring speaker at a tribute dinner), "He's forgotten more than he ever knew"?—Vivian H., Washington, D.C.

A: No. It was an Alan King ad-lib.

Jack Linkletter Emcee Of Rawhide Telethon

Auction to Highlight 4th Annual WLUC-TV Event; YMCA Fun Fair Also This Weekend

BY JINGO

The 1971 Rawhide Telethon is just ahead, a full 20 hours beginning at 9:30 p.m. Saturday on WLUC-TV, Channel 11.

But that's not the news Jingo wants to impart. This year the Telethon takes the form of an auction with all sorts of donated merchandise going to the highest bidder. Proceeds from the TV auction go, naturally, to Rawhide.

Jingo

The second important announcement straight from Chairman Bob Olson is that the guest emcee this year will be popular radio and television star Jack Linkletter. At 32, the son of his famous father Art Linkletter is the youngest and most traveled emcee today. He's known also for his versatility. Olson reports Linkletter has emceed more remote telecasts than any other performer in television history. (His father recently completed a trip through Wisconsin in his fight

Rolling Stones On Farewell British Tour

Moving to South Of France, but Will Keep Citizenship

LONDON (AP) — The Rolling Stones are moving from England to the French Riviera, Mick Jagger announced today, but he denied that they are breaking up or retiring.

"We felt we needed a change of scene, temperature and climate," the 27-year-old superstar told newsmen after a concert in Newcastle, launching a national "Farewell to Britain" tour.

Jagger denied that the motive was to escape taxes. "There's nothing to be gained or lost by it," he said. But several tax experts told London newspapers the move could cut the tax bills for the group, both individually and collectively.

In nine years of triumph mixed with controversy, the five Stones have earned an estimated $200 million and paid a large chunk of it to the government.

Jagger and his mates—Bill Wyman, 29, Keith Richards, 29, Charlie Watts, 29, and Mick Taylor, 23—will keep their British citizenship and still make their major recordings in this country.

One newspaper reported that the quintet already has bought a villa near Cannes and engaged a French-speaking English keeper to prepare it for their arrival within the next few weeks. They plan to purchase other property in the area later, the report said.

THE CONTENTS OF THIS NEWSPAPER IS KID STUFF.

This—and a number of other important facts—comes from a major new study conducted by Gilbert Youth Research. If you advertise and sell in this city, the Gilbert Study can show you how to do both—better.

For example, it shows that 42% of young men read car ads 3 times a week or more; that 74% of young women out of school read fashion news—and 81% read fashion advertising—3 times a week or more.

But kids aren't kids forever. And the study shows that learning to read a newspaper is a part of growing up. As young people grow and acquire more responsibilities, like their own apartment, or marriage — and spend more to meet them — they read newspapers more.

84% of young people with family incomes of $10,000 or more read a newspaper yesterday. That's more than the 78% average for all adults. And 86% of young people who have married read a newspaper yesterday.

We have all of the facts from the new Gilbert Youth Study in a little booklet. If you want to do better business, you should know what these facts are. Write to us for a free copy.

Putting it bluntly, it'll help you make more money.

New Primary Treatment at Consolidated

Plans have been announced for a major stream improvement project, including a $557,000 primary treatment system, at the Wisconsin River Division of Consolidated Papers, Inc., at Stevens Point.
The Wisconsin Rapids-based firm, which has an Appleton plant, received preliminary approval from the State Department of Natural Resources, which reviewed it last year.
The system should be in operation later this year and will capture fiber, clay and other finely divided material now lost to the Wisconsin River. George Mead II, president, said.
He termed the plan "another important step in Consolidated's environmental protection program."

"This is the third major stream improvement project undertaken by our company in the last two years and will be similar to the primary treatment plant that went into operation at our Biron Division in January, 1970," he said. "It should put Wisconsin River Division in complete compliance with the state water quality requirements."
Donald Pryor, manager of environmental control, said the system's clarifier will process five million gallons of effluent per day. It is designed to handle over eight million gallons daily and should serve future needs, he added.

Soldier's Eyes Injured in Vietnam War

Army Spec. 4 James Wachtendonk, 21, Appleton, has suffered lacerated eyes in Vietnam action but there apparently will be no permanent damage, his parents learned this week.
His father, William, said today that he hadn't been informed of the details but an Army telegram indicated his son was injured Friday and is hospitalized in South Vietnam. He said he hoped more details would be forthcoming.
He said his son wore contact lenses, and this may have had something to do with the injury.
The soldier was due to return to the United States in about six weeks after a one-year tour of duty in Vietnam. He was stationed in the northern part of South Vietnam near the demilitarized zone and Laotian border.

Wachtendonk said his son had been on night patrols since he went to Vietnam. He had a specially trained dog, Sam, with whom he went on patrols. His father said he apparently went on lone missions trying to locate the enemy.

Plans for Volunteer Corps Go to Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon sent to Congress today his plan for a national volunteer corps, saying "America must enlist the ideals, the energy, the experience and the skills of its people on a larger scale than it ever has in the past."

"We must insure that these efforts be used to maximum advantage," he said. "We must insure that the desire to serve be linked with the opportunity to serve."

"We must match the vision of youth with the wisdom of experience," he said. "We must apply the understanding gained from foreign service to domestic needs, and we must extend what we learn in domestic service to other nations."

Interagency Bickering

Nixon's proposal for the national volunteer service corps, which he announced in a speech at the University of Nebraska Jan. 14, was sent to Congress amid reports of interagency bickering over details on how the agency would operate.

Nixon's message said he will ask a budget of $176,330,000 for the new agency, combining all the current budgets of the agencies and adding $20 million extra.

Under the three part action of the President, the following programs would be brought together: Volunteers in Service to America (VISTA) and Auxiliary and Special Volunteer Programs of the Office of Economic Opportunity, Foster Grandchildren and the Retired Senior Volunteer Program of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and the Service Corps of Retired Executives and Active Corps of Executives in the Small Business Administration.

Transfer Functions

Through administration action, Nixon would transfer the functions of the Peace Corps and the Office of Voluntary Action in the Department of Housing and Urban Development to the new agency when the reorganization plan becomes effective.

Finally, the President would submit to Congress legislation to transfer the Teacher Corps from HEW to the new agency.

Nixon said the merger of the seven agencies "is the essential first step toward the goal of a system of volunteer service which uses to the fullest advantage the power of all the American people to serve the purposes of the American nation."

He said the new agency would first expand the testing and development of innovations in voluntary actions. The agency would be called Action, he said.

"In the future, we are going to have to find new ways for more people to fulfill themselves and to lead satisfying and productive lives," he said. "The problems are of concern to all of us now, but they must be put in perspective quickly because they will soon be upon us. I believe at least some of the answers will be found in volunteer service."

Secondly, the new agency would provide an opportunity for persons who cannot serve full time to work part-time along with regular volunteers, he said.

It would also bring together in one place programs which appeal predominately to younger Americans with those that appeal predominately to older Americans.

"The generations in America share America's problems—they must share in the search for solution so that we all may share in the benefits of our solutions," Nixon said.

The new agency also would develop programs for combining foreign service with domestic service to accommodate volunteers interested in such an opportunity.

"Finally, by centralizing administrative functions of the volunteer services, the new agency would provide a more effective system of recruitment, training, and placement of full-time volunteers than the present circumstances permit," Nixon said.

A Young Black's Final Whimper No More. Robert Louis Trotter

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "I am an alcoholic," wrote Robert Louis Trotter shortly before his death from an apparent overdose of sleeping pills. At 22, he was a member of the Fresno County Board of Education.

"It took me 2 years to admit this — first to myself, then to the public," he said in an article written for the Sunday San Francisco Examiner's magazine section, California Living.

The article was released today because Trotter, believed to be the youngest black elected public official in the nation, was found dead in bed Sunday morning in the East Bay city of El Sobrante where he was visiting his brother-in-law.

The coroner's preliminary verdict said Trotter apparently died of an overdose of drugs. Bottles of barbiturates were found near his body. By his own account, Trotter had earlier taken an overdose of sleeping pills.

At the time of his death Trotter was facing Fresno bench warrants charging drunken driving, resisting arrest and indecent exposure.

"Of course," said his account, "there are reasons for the admission of alcoholism. The greatest and most important one is, I think, that I want to clear my conscience. It is uniquely deplorable and sickening. I find that I am, at least two people. One a sober, intelligent, capable young man; the other: a drunken, repulsive animal."

"I am young, black, not a black, and accepted—even elected to the Fresno County Board of Education."

Welcomed Politically

Trotter was not boasting. In his lengthy and detailed account, he told how he rose from an "ordinary" background to become a welcome addition to the political campaigns of two Republican candidates in California—Lt. Gov. Robert Finch, who since has joined the Nixon administration, and James Flourney, who failed in a bid for secretary of state.

Trotter said he asked himself how, after successful public activities like these, he wound up with "only a cocktail glass."

"Let me tell you," he said. "I couldn't help myself. So many of the things that I had done in schools, junior and high, were thought to be cute. I had done most of them under the influence of alcohol."

Later, he wrote, "I was arrested for being drunk and disorderly. I made up some fantastic tale about being attacked, which was partially true, and the district attorney, with whom I was fairly well acquainted, got me out of jail and the charges cleared."

"Jail was frightening."

Railpax Routes Ignite Flames of Protest

WASHINGTON (AP) — A storm of protests and the threat of a congressional inquiry have greeted the map detailing the nation's new and limited rail passenger service.

"I think the railroads had too much to say about the routes," said Rep. Harley O. Staggers, D-W.Va., chairman of the House Commerce Committee.

Staggers said his committee would look into the situation, but he didn't set a date.

Criticism began rolling in almost immediately after the National Railroad Passenger Corp.—Railpax—announced its final route selections Monday. The network starting May 1 will provide 184 passenger trains to connect 114 cities with 100,000 or more population.

The plan to halve the nation's rail passenger service was labeled shortsighted and ruinous by top officials of the AFL-CIO Transport Workers Union, who called Tuesday for nationalization of the railroads.

"The proposed network is a cynical betrayal of pledges of improving rail service for the riding public and represents a serious curtailment of railroad jobs," said Matthew Guinan, international president of the 135,000-member union.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield and Sen. Lee Metcalf, Montana Democrats, said two-thirds of their state and six of its largest cities will not have rail passenger service under the Railpax plan.

They introduced a bill requiring railroads to return federal land grants where service is being abandoned.

Mansfield said the land grants were provided in the 19th century as incentives to provide railroad service. "If they abandon this intention I see no reason why they should benefit from the land grants."

A Bipartisan Effort Antiwar Coalition Forming

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new bipartisan effort to get all U.S. troops out of Southeast Asia by the end of the year is in the works here and will be announced this week, it has been learned.

The lobby will feature independent but similar drives in the House and Senate, with special emphasis on attracting lawmakers who have supported Johnson and Nixon-administration war policies.

Helping coordinate the effort is Common Cause, a Washington-based citizens lobby headed by John Gardner, former secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

The campaign, called Coalition to Help End the War, is one of several recent efforts on Capitol Hill aimed at getting the United States out of Vietnam.

Withdraw Forces

The drive actually started last week with a letter to senators from Sen. Charles McC Mathias, R-Md., and Sen. Daniel K. Inouye, D-Hawaii. They asked support for a statement favoring "the termination of all American military action in or over Indochina and the withdrawal of all American military forces from Indochina this year."

No legislation or formal resolutions are involved so far. Sources close to the effort said the goal is to get a simple numerical Senate majority to sign the Mathias-Inouye statement and 218 representatives to sign a similar statement in the House.

It was understood the House letter is running into trouble from Republicans. "Many Republicans don't want to seem to be the tail on the Democratic kite," one source said. "They're afraid of seeming to be merely a side show."

Several Bills

Several bills and resolutions have already been introduced in the House this session aimed at speeding U.S. withdrawal from South Vietnam.

House Democrats have announced a March 31 caucus will consider a proposal supporting U.S. withdrawal by Dec. 31.

An early draft of the House proposal that would go out as part of the new Common Cause-assisted drive calls for total withdrawal of all U.S. forces—including support troops and air power personnel—by the end of this year, as did the Mathias-Inouye letter.

The draft also urged House members to vote against any appropriations and related measures that would finance the war beyond Dec. 31.

The Mathias-Inouye Senate statement does not specifically mention appropriations bills but calls on supporters to "work for responsible legislation during the current session to fulfill our obligation to end American participation in the war."

Push Before Next Year 5 States OK Voting Age Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five states have approved a constitutional amendment lowering the voting age to 18, launching the ratification process aimed at extending the franchise to 11 million Americans before next year's elections.

Minnesota and Delaware legislators approved the proposed 26th Amendment Tuesday less than an hour after the House, in a 400-19 vote, completed congressional action. Tennessee, Connecticut and Washington followed quickly.

Thirty-eight state legislatures must ratify the amendment before it becomes a part of the Constitution. The 10 amendments approved in this century have required an average of 15 months for ratification.

Vote at 18

The amendment provides no citizen 18 or older may be denied the vote in any election on account of age. The practical effect is to allow persons 18, 19 or 20 to vote in state and local elections.

Congress approved last year a bill reducing the voting age to 18 for all elections. But the Supreme Court held the law could apply only in federal elections, that states have the right to set their own voting qualifications.

The new amendment swept through the Senate two weeks ago by a vote of 94 to 0.

Twenty states have beaten efforts in the past 10 years to lower their voting age to 18. But backers of the 26th Amendment predict last year's Supreme Court decision will result in quick ratification.

Without a uniform lower voting age, the court ruling will require states and local governments to set up dual election machinery. One set of voting machines for persons over 21 and another set for younger voters.

Quick Ratification

Backers of the 18-year vote predict financially pressed state legislatures will quickly ratify the amendment, rather than face the added election expense.

The amendment will have no effect in Georgia, Kentucky and Alaska; they already allow 18-year-olds to vote. Twenty is the minimum voting age in Hawaii, Maine and Nebraska, while persons 19 and older may vote in Massachusetts, Minnesota and Montana.

The House engaged in little debate before sending the amendment to the states for ratification. The few backers who spoke on the floor said the lower voting age would give youth a voice in shaping their government.

Saigon Troops Pursued to Border

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese drive against the Ho Chi Minh trail in southern Laos ended today with North Vietnamese tanks pursuing the Saigon troops right to their border. U.S. aircraft knocked out six tanks, spokesmen said.

More U.S. units which had supported the 45-day operation were pulled out of the border base of Khe Sanh, which is being closed out during the next three weeks.

Lt. Col. Do Viet, a spokesman for the South Vietnamese Command in Saigon, said the last fire base in Laos had been abandoned and the remaining 2,000 troops had marched through the hills to the border. But a report from the front said several hundred Vietnamese marines were mated in the vicinity of a base on a ridge about 2½ miles inside Laos, to prevent North Vietnamese gunners using it to shell allied bases on the Vietnamese side of the border.

Allied spokesmen said U.S. helicopter gunships and fighter-bombers knocked out the six pursuing enemy tanks along a five-mile stretch of Highway 9 west of the Lao Bao border outpost. The U.S. Command said three of the tanks were 15 tonners.

The South Vietnamese Command's chief spokesman, Lt. Col. Tran Van An, said the South Vietnamese forces had accomplished 80 to 90 per cent of their objectives.

Field reports, however, said the operation had fallen far short of expectations and that it was closed out sooner than scheduled because of the battered South Vietnamese were taking from North Vietnamese forces estimated to outnumber them 2 to 1.

Construction Expected to Start About April 1 $800,000 in Contracts Awarded for Addition to Post-Crescent

Contracts totalling just under $800,000 have been awarded by contract to Superior Electric Post Corporation for an addition Company.

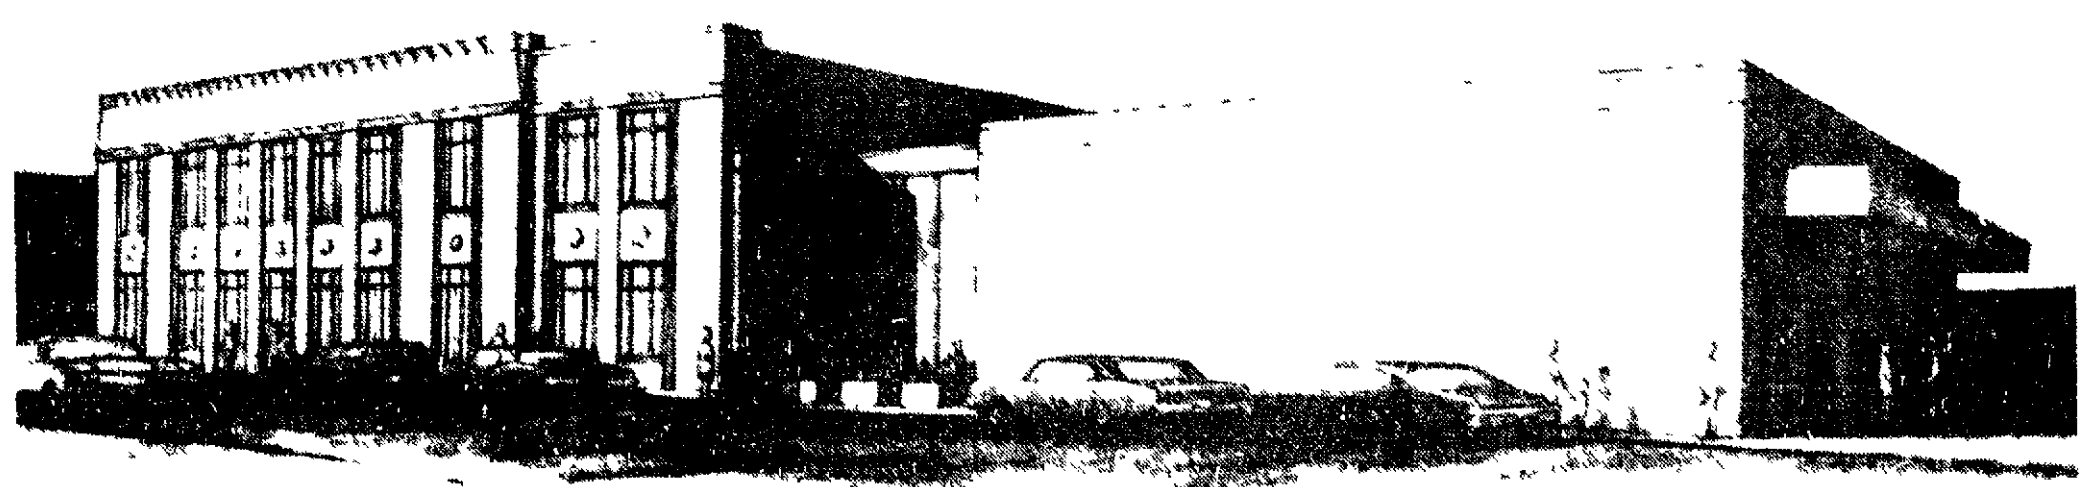

A total of seven general contractors from this part of the state bid on the job. All contracts were awarded to low bidders.

Construction is expected to start about April 1. Installation of the new press is scheduled to start about Nov. 15, with a target date of June 15, 1972 for completion of the construction.

Following that, the present building will be remodeled to provide increased space for most present departments of the newspaper and for corporate facilities.

Berners, Schober and Kilp of Green Bay are the architects for the project.

The P. G. Miron Construction Company was low bidder on the general construction. The plumbing contract went to Olson Plumbing and Heating of Neenah, heating and air conditioning to the Bassett Refrigeration

An Addition of almost 22,500 square feet will be built on the north side of the present Post-Crescent building to house new press and mailroom facilities. The $1.8 million Goss Metro offset press will be housed in the center section of this architects' sketch and will be visible from Superior Street through the glass panels shown. This section will be recessed to provide new entrances to the building and will be landscaped. There will be an inside glassed-in observation deck overlooking the press room. The rear section of the addition will house the new mailroom, with a newspaper storage area underground. The remainder of the present parking lot will then be used for newspaper delivery trucks with access to Franklin Street.

Fox Valley Hospitals Find No Blood Infection

Officials of hospitals throughout the Fox Valley have found no evidence that an intravenous solution prepared by a major Chicago firm has resulted in any cases of a blood infection that has led to nine deaths across the country.

Appleton Memorial and St. Elizabeth, Appleton, both indicated Tuesday at a press conference that they will use the solution distributed by Abbott Laboratories only on an "emergency basis" until replacement supplies from another manufacturer arrived. They were expected Tuesday afternoon.

At Clintonville Community Hospital, R. J. Platte, administrator, said that half of their stock did not contain the serial numbers listed in the warning from the laboratory, and that they will not use the portion with those numbers "unless they absolutely have to."

Both the New London Community and Kaukauna Community hospitals report that they use a different product and have no Abbott IV in their stocks.

At Waupaca Community, the staff reported that Abbott solution was still being used as of 5 p.m. Tuesday, but that they were following the suggestions sent by the laboratory. That is, to remove the cap from the bottles and put on the intravenous kit immediately. (The infections have been pinpointed as special handling of the bottles failed to stem the outbreak of infection. The precautions were poorly communicated to hospital personnel and sometimes proved ineffective when followed, the FDA reported.)

FDA Commissioner Charles C. Edwards Tuesday warned hospitals not to use Abbott's intravenous fluids "unless absolutely necessary."

John R. Shepard, administrator of Appleton Memorial Hospital, and Charles Paul, assistant administrator at St. Elizabeth, said both hospitals have been using Abbott's intravenous solution exclusively for a number of years.

Spokesmen, including doctors, at the press conference said this was not the first time pharmaceutical solutions have been found to be defective and had to be removed from the market. "There have been recalls on everything from patient lotion to intravenous solutions," Shepard explained.

Remedial Action The spokesmen said they became aware of the "basic problem" involving the Abbott Laboratories product last week. They said they are taking "remedial action to assure the utmost in patient safety."

"None of the reactions or the problems" that have turned up in some 21 hospitals across the nation have been discovered in the Appleton hospitals, according to Dr. Thomas Loesch, chairman of Memorial's Department of Medicine, who said he was representing both hospitals.

Loesch, who said he and other hospital officials were in contact with Abbott and with the Center for Disease Control in Atlanta, Ga., Tuesday explained that there is only a half of 1 per cent possibility of the blood infection resulting from the solution, according to a preliminary investigation.

Denver hospitals have been using Abbott solutions almost exclusively, Loesch explained, but have found only five cases of the infection since the investigation started.

The "very ill" and the "very debilitated" patients would be most affected if subjected to the contaminated fluid, Loesch said. It was discovered that the

The Calumet Community Hospital at Chilton reported this morning that the Abbott solution still was being used there and that there had been no problems of any kind.

The agency acted after its earlier warning calling for

The driver of the auto, Terry W. Abern, Menasha, complained of a sore knee and back.

Kaukauna High Damaged by Fire

KAUKAUNA — Fire of undetermined cause resulted in serious damage to a stairwell leading from a basement corridor of the auditorium to the old gym area at Kaukauna High School shortly after 1 p.m. Monday. Damage was estimated at between $5,000 and $10,000 by an insurance inspector this morning.

Prompt action by firemen is credited from preventing the blaze from spreading into the gym area where the old wooden floors and bleachers could have ignited, resulting in a major disaster.

Students evacuated the building in an orderly fashion within minutes after the alarm was sounded and remained outside for more than one-half hour before being permitted to re-enter the building. Shortly afterwards they were dismissed for the day.

Although actual fire damage was limited to stairwell doors and gym mats stored in the area, there was heavy smoke damage to the gym itself and possible minor smoke damage in other portions of the building.

Dense Smoke Firemen knocked down the source of the fire within a few minutes after arriving at the scene, but dense smoke prevented them from determining whether the blaze could have spread into other areas.

Walls were black and charred outside the stairwell indicating a terrific build up of heat within the confined area, noted firemen. Fortunately all doors leading off the stairwell were closed, confining the flames to a relatively small area.

Areas immediately adjacent to the stairwell are used by students carrying bag lunches for the noon hour or those desiring to participate in supervised activity in the old gym.

All off duty firemen were called to help check out the building to make sure fire had not worked between walls and to help clear the building of smoke. School maintenance personnel assisted firemen and helped in the clean up after the fire was extinguished.

Preliminary Planning for the annual fund campaign of the Calumet County unit of the American Cancer Society took place recently at the home of Mrs. Edgar Mueller in Brillanton. Members of the group's board who were present are, from the left, seated, Mrs. A. A. Huebner, secretary, Mrs. George Hem-auer, and Mrs. Reuben Ott; second row, Mrs. Lothar Funke, president, Mrs. Frederick Klauk, Mrs. Irwin P. Heus, and Mrs. Mueller, treasurer; back row, Mrs. Henry Horst, and Mrs. Alice Schulze. James Sasser, state staff member, was also present. (Huebner Photo)

Waupaca Sheriff Wary

Rock Fest Repeat 'Possible'

WAUPACA — "It's a possibility, at least they'll try," was the sole and succinct comment Sheriff Loran Frazier had to make Tuesday after the appearance of rock fest promoters Monday before the Adams County board. He had been asked if there is any indication that another rock fest would be held at Iola this summer.

Frazier and Sheriff Nick Check of Portage County had been asked to meet with Adams County's Sheriff Wilbur Pare Monday and it turned into an informal meeting before the James Sitton, Madison, promoter of the Iola Fest last June, outlined his proposal for a music festival June 25 to 27 on the 270-acre Grand Marsh Wildlife Ranch, four miles east of Grand Marsh on County Trunk G.

Sitton, who appeared with Larry Schumann and William Morris, also involved in last June's Iola fest, told the Adams County Board that he would comply with state zoning laws and provide 150 toilets, 30 doctors, 20 nurses, adequate lighting, a fence around the area and free parking, if the county grants the necessary permits.

He told the group that providing the required 30 telephone lines into the area might pose a problem.

Security Failed The Madison promoter also said that he wanted to hire local police and, according to Frazier, claimed that "our security broke down last year at Iola." The Adams County board will take official action at its next meeting on April 20. It was apparent at Monday's meeting that the Adams board will favor an amendment to its zoning law requiring a $300,000 bond from the promoters to cover any expense the county might incur if the event were to draw 30,000 people.

A film of the People's Fair, last June, at Iola was shown the county board by Check. He also showed photos of the litter, a shooting, and nudity.

State Settles Settling up with last year's promoters has been arduous, according to facts presented by Check: Portage County is still trying to collect $20,000 for law enforcement and Waupaca County, $16,000. The total cost of law enforcement for the three days was $150,000 according to the Portage County sheriff.

The state has settled, according to Schumann, for sales taxes on 20,000 paid admissions at the Iola Fest. The dispute as to actual numbers attending has never been resolved. Sitton claims 68,000 came and most of them slipped by the ticket takers without paying, while Check has always claimed 50,000 by his count.

Alfred O. Amundson, chairman of the Town of Iola, where the farm owned by Sitton used last June is located, is hoping that the town's adoption of the Waupaca County Zoning ordinance will prevent any future fests at the site.

County officials believe that an injunction could be effective, but hope that no such action will be necessary.

If the fest can't be held at Adams or one of the other counties Sitton is considering, Iola may again be the site in June. Sheriff Frazier is not discounting that possibility.

Courthouse Space Shifts Must Wait

Work Must Start On New Jail First, Committee Decides

Consideration of major realignment of office space in the existing Outagamie County Courthouse will have to wait until after work is started on the new jail building, the county board's special building committee decided Tuesday night.

Realignment of space then will be left up to the public property and parks committee, a standing committee, rather than being handled by the special committee.

Some remodeling of the courthouse had been planned but Clerk of Courts Gloria Johnson objected to the proposed location of her department, contending that the space was insufficient for her office and the law library.

Instead, she proposed taking over the old jail space on the fourth floor.

Ben Seaborne, Sauter Seaborne, Paynter and Duszak architects, told the special building committee that the firm's contract did not cover that amount of remodeling.

"Needs More Study" Supv. Delmar Schmeichel, special building committee chairman, said, "I think we should stay out of remodeling until after the jail is done. I think this needs a lot more study."

Seaborne also said there was no way possible remodeling plans could be completed for bidding at the same time as the jail building. The jail is scheduled for bidding about May 1.

Schmeichel said, "if you give everyone the amount of space they want we will end up building another building."

Seaborne said there was sufficient space in the courthouse to meet the department requests but it was a matter of getting the amount desired together in one place. He also noted it will take 12 to 18 months to construct the new jail building, giving ample time to decide on how to handle the other space.

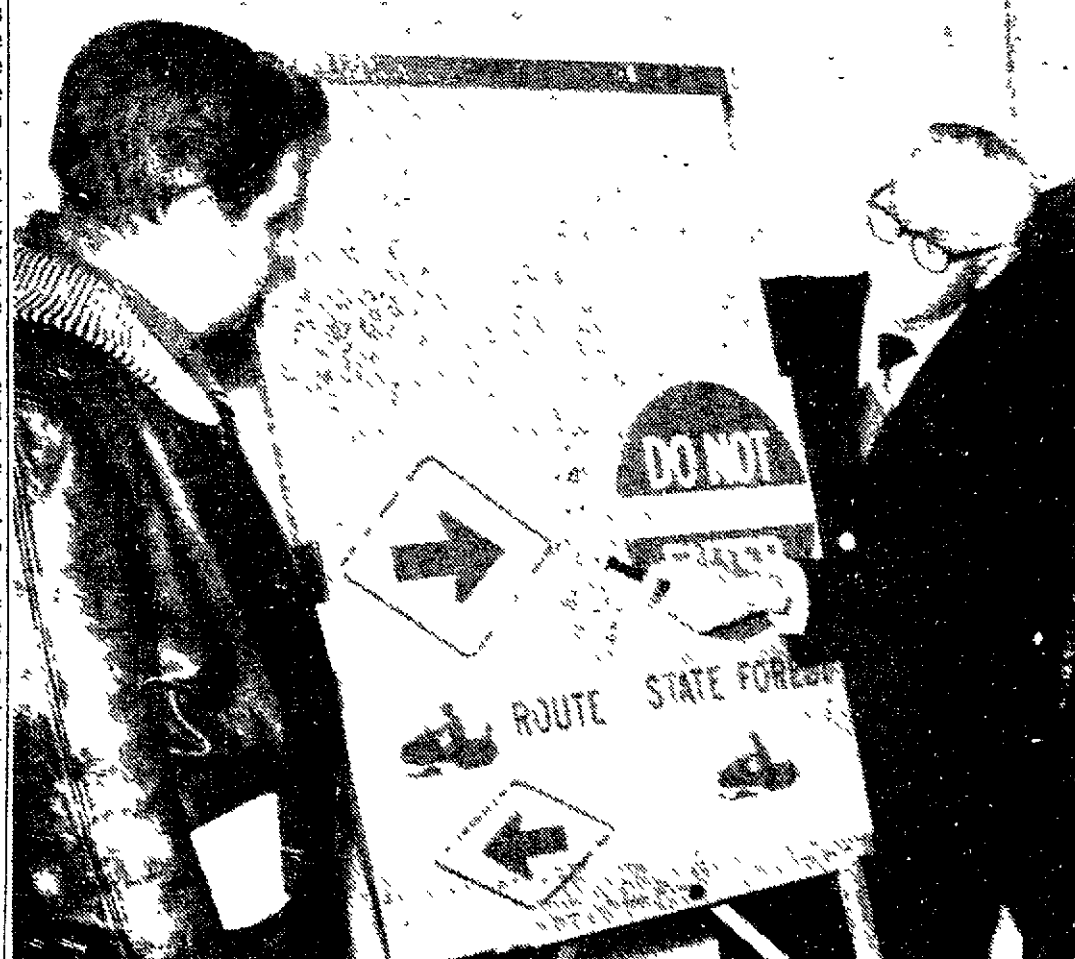

Supv. Richard Jahnke agreed "I think it would be wise to exert our energy on the jail building now and wait on the rest," he said.

Farmer Speaks To Honor Society

CLINTONVILLE — Twenty-nine members of the Clintonville Chapter of the National Honor Society attended a lecture on "The Black Revolution" by James Farmer last week on the University of Wisconsin Marathon County Campus at Wausau.

Farmer is former assistant secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, the founder and former national director of CORE and the highest Negro appointee in the Nixon administration. He told the group the many things he felt needed to be accomplished for the Negro Americans and pointed out the various projects in which he felt there had been accomplishment.

The honor society was accompanied by Mrs. Robert Billings and Robert Tomczyk of the senior high school faculty.

Snowmobile Legislation was explained to members of Bear Creek area snowmobile clubs this week. # Student Use of Cars At Noon Is Opposed CLINTONVILLE — Parents that, many problems would result, such as a traffic problem for those living in the vicinity, the problem of safety in regard to younger students, especially those attending Dellwood school, and also a problem as to law enforcement.

Supt. V. J. Wadleigh said that special permits will continue to be given to those who do need their cars for special errands.

Discussion was held relative to the number of snow days that are to be made up. It was suggested to run school regardless if the buses could not run, but it was decided that would be unfair to those who could not get in to school.

The cut-back in services the various schools was discussed, and members of the forum expressed hope that Clintonville would not have to eliminate any of its present curriculum, especially art and music.

A suggestion was made to institute a driver's training program for bus drivers.

Hilbert Chorus Members Slate April 1 Recital

HILBERT — Music spanning three centuries will be presented by selected members of the high school mixed chorus in a special recital at 8 p.m. April 1.

The recital, in the multipurpose room, will measure students of choral director Gerald Spice performing solo selections, along with a number of varied ensembles.

The recital is designed to provide performing experience to those who will participate in the annual Olympian Conference Solo-Ensemble Music Contest April 3 at Brillion. Students will enter their selections in classes A, B and C. Those receiving first-place rating in class A will participate in the state music contest May 1 at Oshkosh.

Recital participants are Rudy Gruber, Denise Haltinner, Mary Haen, Sheryl Jahns, Barbara Juckem, Natalie Kees, Donald Kessler, Marcia Luchterhand, Patti McNaughton, Thomas rsberger, Carol Mueller, Suzanne Pavlat, Sandra Schmitt, Marcia Stecker and Sherry Voigt.

Brillion Offers Roller Skating

BRILLION — The Community Center has offered roller skating activities Sundays for town residents and nonresidents alike.

Afternoon sessions are from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. at a cost of 50 cents for the former and a dollar for the latter. The 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. session's fees are 75 cents and $1.25. Roller skates are provided.

Another activity soon to begin will be a mens' singles handball tournament scheduled April 1. The contest will be double elimination, with first round matches determined by a draw from a hat.

Tonight's free movies will be "A Noble Adventure" and "Wonderful World of San Francisco."

March 21 films will be "New York — The Anytime City" and "The Carolinas. Programs are from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m.

Sherwood Legion Post Lists Winners of Essay Contest

SHERWOOD — Nancy Mueller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Mueller, Sherwood, has been named first place winner of the annual Americanism essay contest, sponsored by the Thomas E. Kees American Legion Auxiliary.

Her essay, based on the theme "Freedom in America," has been entered in state competition. Thousands of essays are written each year for the competition, and local first place winners compete in junior high and high school categories.

The Sherwood unit has had two first place state winners.

Placing second was Linda Mersberger, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mersberger, route 2, Hilbert. Karen Steffes placed third. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Steffes, route 2, Hilbert.

All pupils are St. John-Sacred Heart Catholic School. Nancy and Linda are eighth graders and Karen is a seventh grader. All received cash prizes from the sponsoring unit. Twenty pupils competed.

Judges were Mrs. Alice Dietzen, Mrs. Clarence Mueller and Florian Schmidt.

Toth Home Gets TB Testing

CHILTON — A tuberculosis prevention program was sponsored at the Toth Nursing home here by the Wisconsin Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association. The Program was open for both patients and employees.

The demonstration at the nursing home was the first of its kind conducted in Calumet County, since the inauguration of similar programs three years ago. The free service was provided through Christmas Seals.

The program utilized the fast and virtually painless tuberculin skin test, which indicates the presence of TB germs in the body. Those with the germs, the positive reactors, do not necessarily have tuberculosis, but are at risk of breakdown with the disease.

The reactors will be offered free chest X-rays Thursday to determine if active TB is present.

After patients' personal physicians are notified of the test results, recommendations will be made to the reactors for the taking of TB-preventing medicine called isoniazid (INH).

The medication will be dispensed to patients by the Toth Nursing Home nursing staff.

That for the employees will be distributed through the Rocky Knoll outpatient department.

The program was planned cooperatively with Mr. and Mrs. James Toth, owners of the home; and Evers and Clyde Raymond Evers, medical director of this and director of the Rocky Knoll Sanatorium, Plymouth.

The Toth Home nurses will continue the program by skin testing all new residents and employees and by giving annual tests to all negative reactors.

Brown Sugar Squares

- 1 egg, unbeaten
- 1 cup brown sugar, packed
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- ½ cup sifted all-purpose flour
- ¼ teaspoon baking soda
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup coarsely chopped Diamond Walnuts

Grease 8-inch square pan. Stir together the egg, brown sugar, and vanilla. Quickly stir in flour, soda and salt. Add walnuts. Spread in pan and bake at 350°F. 18-20 minutes. (Don't overbake. Cookies should be soft in center when taken from oven.) Cool in pan; cut in squares. Makes 16 2-inch squares.

Hospitals Have No Problems With Solutions

contaminating organisms are in the plastic cap liners on some of the bottles of Abbott fluids.

Abbott supplies about 45 percent of the eight million bottles of fluid used each month in the nation's 7,000 hospitals.

Appleton Memorial Hospital uses about 350 bottles of the solution per week, and St. Elizabeth Hospital uses about 500, it was reported.

Loescher said a near-majority of hospital patients are in need of intravenous solutions of some kind.

Both hospitals will begin using solutions prepared by Baxter Laboratories, one of four suppliers.

Whether the hospitals will later go back to using Abbott intravenous solutions will depend on future steps taken by the firm and on the ability of competition to furnish adequate supplies over an extended period of time, spokesmen explained.

Some Calls

While it apparently is too early to measure patient concern over the FDA action, Shepard said Memorial Hospital has received about a dozen calls from persons desiring information.

Loescher explained that if an infection resulted from the intravenous solution, it will show up within minutes or hours after the solution is used and it could be halted if the use of the solution is discontinued. Patients who have already been released from the hospital probably have no reason for concern, Loescher explained.

At Clintonville, Platte stressed the fact that the infection was coming from the bottle cap and said that they have posted notices that once the bottle is opened, the cap is to be discarded and the bottle not used for anything else.

He said he was waiting for a direct order from the FDA not to use the fluids.

No Immediate Shortage

"I don't know where we will go for solutions," Platte said, adding that he expected no immediate shortage because of the supply of solution not called back.

Platte questioned what would be done with the fluids. He said the hospital has been using Abbott fluid exclusively for 20 years.

They never have had anything happen at Clintonville in regard to the intravenous fluids, Platte said. In discussing the reported deaths and cases of infection, he stressed that at Clintonville Community, "Once we take a unit out and charge it off to a patient, if the patient doesn't use it all, we throw it out. We don't use it over."

Platte added that he was surprised at the amount of publicity this had received, because, he said, just Tuesday the hospital here received a recall from another company on a medication. The drug companies do this on their own.

All the drug companies recall items that the FDA has knocked out, Platte said, "and this fluids recall isn't the first one or the first knowledge of stuff like that."

Harrison School Sets Conferences

SHERWOOD — Parent-teacher conferences have been scheduled at Harrison School Monday and Tuesday.

There will be no kindergarten classes on these days. Other classes will be dismissed at 11:30 a.m. Monday and will not meet Monday afternoon or Tuesday.

Ten-minute conferences have been set with the teachers by appointment.

Clintonville Police Search for Vandals

CLINTONVILLE — Police are investigating a case of vandalism at the Transport Oil service station at the south city limits on U. S. 45 and State 22, which took place either Saturday night or early Sunday.

The police reported there was no sign of entry but about 20 quarts of oil had been pumped out onto the floor and some merchandise and cigarettes were taken.

Travelers to Present Program for Lions

NEW LONDON — The Lions Club program next week will be presented by the Emil Gehrkos, will take the Club on a verbal and visual tour of West Germany, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, and Russia. The Gehrkos will use slides they took on a recent tour of the countries.

The meeting will be held at 6:30 p.m. at the Rainbow Supper Club.

Pre-Easter Bake Sale

AMHERST — A pre-Easter bake sale will begin at 11 p.m. at the American Legion clubrooms, chosen by President Nixon to April 3 at Peace Lutheran, Julia Caniza, AFS student from Paraguay, will be present to meet guests.

Wheels of Justice Grind Slowly

Twenty-eight cases, most of which involve further court action at a later date, are being handled by Appleton police.

In some cases, the Appleton policemen have left the department.

Cases Settled

The court clerk's office said last week that a few of the persons who had cases pending for a year or more settled the cases since the story was carried in The Post-Crescent last November. Among those who settled was an Appleton attorney who had failed to pay four overtime parking tickets issued in 1965.

Old cases against two other attorneys and a judge apparently are no closer to a settlement than they were last November. They are not among the cases scheduled for pretrial conferences in April.

The Post-Crescent reported last Nov. 9 that more than 25 motorists arrested by Appleton police have had their cases pending in Outagamie courts for one year or more.

Sought Assistance

Dohr, saying his court was "tied up," explained last fall that he intended to ask the court administrator's office to assist in disposing of the cases.

Dilleit, a retired Shawano County judge, and retired Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller have been working part-time helping to clear a backlog of cases in Outagamie courts. Under the arrangement approved by county officials, Keller handles the biggest share of the part-time work.

Some of the 28 pending cases could be settled through plea changes or dismissals during the pretrial conferences on April 20, while others could be scheduled for trials or other disposition.

Soldier's Eyes Injured in Vietnam War

Army Spec 4 James Wachtendonk, 21, Appleton, has suffered lacerated eyes in Vietnam action but there apparently will be no permanent damage, his parents learned this week.

His father, William, said today that he hadn't been informed of the details but an Army telegram indicated his son was injured Friday and is hospitalized in South Vietnam. He said he hoped more details would be forthcoming.

He said his son wore contact lenses, and this may have had something to do with the injury.

The soldier was due to return to the United States in about six weeks after a one-year tour of duty in Vietnam. He was stationed in the northern part of South Vietnam near the demilitarized zone and Laotian border.

Wachtendonk said his son had been on night patrols since he went to Vietnam. He had a specially trained dog, Sam, with whom he went on patrols, his father said. He apparently went on lone missions trying to locate the enemy.

The soldier, a 1969 graduate of Xavier High School, is scheduled for discharge from the Army in May. He joined in October, 1969.

Police and Fire Beat

KAUKAUNA — Jerome Van Dinter, 408 Klein St., reported to police theft of a battery from his car while it was parked at the rear of his home Saturday night.

Terry Asman, 15, of 1825 N. Division St., passenger in an automobile driven by William D. Lu Maye, 16, 313 S. Christine St., sustained chest and arm injuries after a two-car accident Tuesday afternoon in the 2600 block of N. Oneida Street. Police said the driver of the other car was Nicholas A. Stark, 70, 419 N. State St. They said the mishap apparently occurred when one of the cars turned in front of the other while entering a supermarket parking lot.

Absentee Ballots Are Available

CLINTONVILLE — Absentee ballots for the April 6 election are available at the office of City Clerk Lloyd Eggleston from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m.

Absentee ballots can be mailed up to 5 p.m. April 2. They also can be filled out at the clerk's office until 5 p.m. April 5.

Persons wanting ballots mailed must inform the clerk by mail stating their name and address. Women should use their first name.

The office of the clerk will be open from 9 a.m. to noon on April 3 for voting also.

AFS Benefit Supper

An American Field Service benefit chili supper will be given at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday at the American Legion clubrooms, chosen by President Nixon to April 3 at Peace Lutheran, Julia Caniza, AFS student from Paraguay, will be present to meet guests.

Building Commissioner Will Take Federal Post

MADISON (AP) — The secretary of the State Building Commission, Gerald Emmer, said he is resigning to join the U.S. Justice Department's Law Enforcement Assistance Administration.

Emmer, a former Wisconsin state legislator, has been chosen by President Nixon to head the agency.

Emmer, 38, said he is to assume his federal post next week.

Teacher Group At Clintonville Sponsors Films

CLINTONVILLE — The Clintonville Association of Men Teachers is sponsoring a series of films for the next six weeks for grade school students of the area.

Because Clintonville is without a theater, the association decided on this as its project. Craig Akey and Carl Bruggink are co-sponsors.

The shows will be held at the Clintonville Junior High auditorium with the doors opening at 1 p.m. and the film starting at 1:30 p.m. and should be concluded by 3 p.m.

The admission will be 25 cents, which will be used to defray the cost of the film. Any profits will be added to the association's scholarship fund.

The film this Saturday will be "Partners."

3 Hurt Sunday In 2-Car Crash Near Clintonville

CLINTONVILLE — Three persons were injured and extensive property damages resulted in a two-car accident at 10:45 p.m. Sunday on County G 100 feet west of County C.

Barbara A. Olson, 21, 217 Perry Ave., Marion, one of the drivers, suffered minor cuts to her face, and a passenger, David M. Dieterich, 25, Big Falls, received a cut on his head. Two other passengers, Kieffer, 915 N. Badger Ave., were not injured. Miss Olson was brought to the Clintonville Community hospital by a squad 615 S. Weimer St., Nov. 27, 1965, burglar, 721 N. Rankin St. Jan. 3, 1970, red light violation. William Warren F. Bork, 43, route 1, Road conditions were reported to be very slippery and hazardous at the time of the accident. Miss Olson's car was a total loss. The Clintonville Community Hospital by the Schroe- at $500 to Bork's car.

Day Care Center Sets Annual Open House

CLINTONVILLE — The Washington County Day Care Center for the Mentally Handicapped, formerly the Activity Center, will hold its sixth annual open house at the Masonic Temple from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. and 7 to 8 p.m. Monday.

Featured items for sale will be hand-loomed woven rugs, bird houses and Easter items. The injured persons were treated and released.

According to the report, Miss Olson was westbound on G and Bork was heading east when the vehicles collided nearly head-on. Road conditions were reported to be very slippery and hazardous at the time of the accident. Miss Olson's car was a total loss. The Clintonville Community Hospital by the Schroe- at $500 to Bork's car.

PTA to Hear Musical Program

CLINTONVILLE — The Clintonville PTA will hear a musical program at its meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the school auditorium.

The program will consist of selections the students will perform at the solo and ensemble meet April 3 at Marinette.

A meeting of PTA officers and the planning committee will be at 7 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

Amherst Junior Prom

AMHERST — The junior class of Amherst High School will hold its prom May 1 at the Holiday Inn at Stevens Point. Theme for the event will be "A Summer Place."

A buffet dinner will be held in conjunction with the dance.
